Flames Burn Off 50 Acres, Race Up Hillside Near Terra Linda

A stubborn brush and grass fire, blamed on children, broke out in the Terra Linda annex to San Rafael yesterday and roared to the top of the hill above Mount Tamalpais Cemetery, burning over 50 acres.

The embers were still smoldering this morning, with firement standing by.

Only a fire break atop the ridge kept the blaze from sweeping down into the cemetery, declared Fire Chief C. M. Johansen.

CHILDREN SEEN

The alarm was telephoned to the San Rafael Fire Department at 2:17 p.m. by an unidentified woman who said she had seen children running from the area as the flames broke out.

Chief Johansen and County Fire Chief Charles A. Reilley, who sent trucks to assist in fighting the blaze, joined a plea to parents to educate their children against playing with matches.

"Most of the outdoor fires this season have been caused by children with matches," said Reilley. He and Johansen urged parents "to impress upon their children the danger of fire to lives and property."

STARTS IN GULCH

The blaze began in a gulch about 200 feet south of Devon Drive, in a new Terra Linda subdivision being developed by Eichler Homes. Pushed by a south wind, it started eating rapidly up the hillside, then spread to the east as the wind changed.

Two trucks and eight men from the San Rafael Fire Department were joined by two trucks and six men from the county fire department in a battle that lasted more than two hours before the flames were brought under control, and nearly four hours before the fire was extinguished.

A half mile strip, as wide as 400 feet in some places, was burned.

Battalion Chief Walter B. Vaning was in direct charge of the city crews in the battle, with Asst. Chief Louis H. Bloom directing county firefighters.

Chief Reilley praised the "remarkable and successful" efforts of firemen of both departments in stopping the "extremely dangerous fire."

Marin Bakes As Summer Makes Debut

Summer arrived today amid a sizzling heat wave.

The season changed officially at 2:43 a.m. today.

Today's high temperatives are expected to match yesterday's, when the mercury rose to 100 degrees in San Anselmo.

Other Marin communities sweltered yesterday, but to a lesser degree. San Rafael's high was 97; Novato, 96; Woodacre, 95; and Tiburon, 87.

Barometric pressure inland was higher than along the coast and this prevented cool sea winds from moving inshore. San Pablo Bay this morning was as calm as a pond.

By 11 a.m. today the temperature in downtown San Francisco was 79 and the smog count in the Mission District was an irritating .33.

The Weather Bureau in San Francisco held out hope that barometric conditions would change tomorrow, bringing cooler weather to the Bay Area.

President Giving Up Role As Envoy

Herter Says No More Goodwill Trips Due

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Secretary of State Christian A. Herter told Congress today that Presdient Eisenhower is abandoning personal high-level diplomacy and plans no further goodwill trips to other countries.

Herter told a Senate appropriations subcommittee the administration will return to "traditional channels and procedures of international contact" and put increased emphasis on these procedures as a means to better relations with Russia and "resolve outstanding issues."

Herter said damage to U. S. prestige in the Far East as a result of the forced cancellation of the president's visit to Tokyo has been "overdrawn."

Defending the administration's foreign policy against Democratic criticism, Herter denied "that this program has been a great flop." He acknowledged "There have been some setbacks," however, and admitted that U. S. officials "misgauged" the political turmoil in Japan which blocked Eisenhower's trip to that country.

"But despite our deep disappointment at the outcome of the summit," Herter said, "and despite the propaganda campaign being waged against us, it appears that the basic conditions of the world situation have not so far been greatly changed."

Herter admitted under critical questioning by subcommittee Chairman Lyndon B. Johnson (D-Tex.) that the State Department misgauged the size of the Japanese riots which led to cancellation of Eisenhower's visit and disregarded recommendation of high congressional leaders that the trip be cancelled earlier.

Johnson commented that "not only was our judgment bad, but our information was bad."

Johnson reminded Herter that Chairman Richard B. Rus-

SWEDE SAYS HE'S EAGER FOR REMATCH

NEW YORK (AP)—Ingemar Johansson, shorn of his world heavyweight crown by Floyd Patterson last night, said today he would like to fight his conqueror again for the title "the sooner the better."

The dimpled Swede looked refreshed after what he called a good night's sleep. The only visible mark on him after his fifth round knockout was a slightly puffed eye.

"Patterson was fresher and stronger this time," Johansson said. "He caught me with a good punch and that was that.

"Maybe next time it will be different."

The ex-champion did not speak as confidently or as cockily as in the past but there was no mistaking the fact that he looked forward eagerly to a third encounter with the only man who has ever beaten him in 24 fights.

JOHN ANGELONI
His first public office

Garage Owner Appointed To Novato Council

John Angeloni, who had never held or run for public office, was named to the Novato City Council last night.

He will fill the unexpired two-year term of Councilman Harvey J. Vicchio, who resigned at last week's meeting because of a coming business transfer to Sacramento.

Angeloni, 50, has lived in Novato for eight years. He owns the Nave Garage in the city and is the Novato Dodge car dealer.

DOES HIS JOB

"I'm not politically ambitious; when there's a job to do, I do it," he said today in comment on his appointment.

Angeloni is a non-practicing attorney who hopes "to go back into law." He quit high school for financial reasons and began work as an office boy with Greyhound Lines. He finished high school by studying at night, and continued his studies to receive a law degree from University of San Francisco after seven years of night school.

ROSE FROM RANKS

He rose from office boy "through the shop" to become an attorney for the bus lines. Eight years ago he decided to go into business for himself and moved to Novato, where he briefly practiced law. He has lived in the bay area all his life.

In Novato, he has been president of the Chamber of Commerce, and has been elected a chamber director three times. He is a member of the Lions Club, Druids and Knights of Columbus.

Angeloni and his wife and five children reside at 14 Villa Place.

Rocky: Reorganize U.S. Government

BINGHAMTON, N.Y. (UPI)—Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller today proposed a sweeping governmental reorganization that would give near-presidential powers in national security and international affairs to a new post of "first secretary of the government."

He recommended downgrading the office of secretary of state to a day-to-day conduct of diplomacy.

His plan also would reduce the office of the vice presidency to the stand-by status it had before Vice President Richard M. Nixon was given an active role by President Eisenhower.

In a speech at a Rotary Club luncheon here, Rockefeller ranged far and wide in his strongest statement since he challenged Nixon to speak out on important issues before the GOP National Convention begins July 25.

Rockefeller's other proposals included:

Making the chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff responsible for the development of over-all strategic doctrine and designating him as principal adviser to the secretary of defense and the president.

Organizing the staff of the joint chiefs on a unified basis under the direct authority of the chairman.

Unifying the armed forces by empowering the Department of Defense to promote any officers above the rank of brigadier general, or the equivalent, as officers of the armed forces of the United States, not the individual service of their earlier careers.

Giving the secretary of defense full authority over all military research, development and procurement.

Leftists Vow To Mob Kishi Out Of Office

TOKYO (UPI) — Tens of thousands of leftists jammed Japan's railway stations today to back a six-million-general transportation strike against Premier Nobusuke Kishi and the U.S.-Japan security treaty.

The fanatical left-wing Zengakuren students announced they would storm Parliment later today with 200,000 students and laborers in an effort to bring down the Kishi government through mob violence.

Police were prepared for trouble and bloodshed in what might be an even more serious demonstration than the one June 15 that finally caused the Japanese government to cancel President Eisenhower's visit to Japan. One person was killed and 1,000 were injured in that riot.

Reports of boat burglaries continued to pour in today from San Rafael Yacht Harbor on Francisco Boulevard.

Police said three more boat owners complained that their cruisers were entered probably during the weekend. Fishing gear, transistor radios and binoculars are missing.

Thomas Clement Hotchkin of 24 San Gabriel Court, Fairfax, also reported his fishing gear and binoculars gone. The burglars had apparently used kitchen matches to light their way through the cabin.

Maj. Robert Paul Senecal of 1404 Dawes Street, Novato, reported the loss of rods, reels, tool box, and radio gone from his boat. The intruders also drank two cans of beer and two soft drinks. Cigarette butts were strewn all over the boat.

Nixon Asserts Russia Can't Pass Us Up

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Vice President Richard M. Nixon moved from agriculture to the general economy today in his series of speeches on national issues.

In a speech prepared for delivery at the 40th annual convention of the National Junior Chamber of Commerce, Nixon said: "Mr. Khrushchev boasts that he will catch us and pass us economically in 7 or 10 years. By any projection that can be applied, there is not a possibility that the Soviet economy will overtake our own at any time in this century."

SHOULD HELP

Nixon said this government to prevent lopsided growth should help out whenever the job was too big for private industry.

"We must not hesitate," said the man who expects to be the Republican candidate for president, "to resort to government action where it provides the best road to progress."

This was billed by Nixon as a major speech on this nation's economic growth. But, typical of speeches at this stage of the presidential campaign, Nixon offered few specifics.

FIRST SPEECH

His first speech, delivered in Minot, N.D., last night, was significant both for what he said and what he didn't say.

He called on the free world to turn its food surpluses over to the United Nations to feed the one billion persons who go to bed hungry each night.

But he didn't give his stand on price supports, a controversial subject in the farmlands.

In other political developments, Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York, Nixon's only rival for the Republican presidential nomination, said he would campaign nationally for the party's candidates in the fall.

Rockefeller's statement drew an official cheer from GOP National Chairman Thurston B. Morton. But some Republicans viewed a national tour with misgivings.

STRAY TOO FAR?

They were afraid the governor might stray too far from the crucial New York electorate. They feel Nixon, the likely nominee, would need the state's 45 electoral votes to win the election.

In the Democratic race, Mayor Robert Wagner of New York annnounced his support of Sen. John F. Kennedy of Massachusetts for the presidential nomination.

Wagner is expected to be chairman of New York 114-vote delegation at the national convention in Los Angeles July 11.

SENATE APPROVES TAXES EXTENSION

Measure Keeps Corporation Income Rates; 'Loophole' Amendments To Add $650 Million

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate has ended it annual tax fight by voting to increase revenues rather than cut them as it did a year ago.

The tax bill, passed 84-0 last night, not only extended present rates on corporation income and excise taxes yielding 41 billion dollars, but added an estimated 650 million of additional revenues.

President Eisenhower had asked extension of present taxes for another year.

A worsening inernational situation combined with recent Senate votes to increase money for defense, health research, education and federal pay led the Senate to swell the Treasury's income in the bill.

The 650 million was added through adoption of three or a series of what their sponsors called loophole-closing amendments advocated by Democrats seeking to avoid a tag of fiscal irresponsibility for their party.

The fate of these in conference with the House is dubious, since that branch had given advance notice it was not inclined to accept any tax amendments.

In disposing of the bill in a 14-hour session, the Senate passed one of the major items it had to handle before final adjournment.

The bill extends for another year the corporation income tax and excises on liquor, wine, beer, cigarettes, autos, and auto parts and accessories.

These all are Korean War rates. They have been extended each year since 1954.

The bill also continues for another year 10 per cent levies on local telephone service, telegrams and passenger fares made effective during World War II.

The Senate Finance Committee had recommended these be allowed to die June 30, at a cost of 752 million a year.

Last year the Senate voted to repeal both the telephone and travel levies. In the conference with the House the effective date was moved up to July 1, 1960.

These were the loophole amendments adopted by the Senate:

By Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy (D-Minn.), to repeal the 4 per cent tax credit on stock dividend income, bringing in 350 million dollars a year.

By Sen. Joseph S. Clark (D-Pa.), to outlaw many entertainment items now eligible as business deductions, bringing in 260 million annually.

By Sen. Albert Gore (D-Tenn.), to provide that the percentage depletion allowance may apply only to the raw mineral value and not the finished product. This would cut off a present 50-million Treasury loss.

Union, Court 'Pressure' Returns Pilots To Jobs

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Eastern Air Lines pilots were returning to work today, under pressure from their union and the courts to end a crippling, 10-day-old wildcat strike.

A National Airlines strike set for tonight was averted when the union agreed to resume contract negotiations with management with a federal mediator sitting in.

A wave of sick reports by pilots continued to hamper operations of Pan American World Airways.

Eastern said 35 of its Miami pilots telephoned for flight orders last night. The line said the break "sounds very encouraging."

Eastern's flights out of Miami dwindled from a normal 55 daily to none when pilots struck at midnight June 10 in protest to federal flight check inspectors' sitting in third-pilot seats. Two to seven flights took off from Miami in the past three days. A federal judge ordered all pilots back to work, but Eastern's dispatchers could not reach most of the fliers to give them assignments.

The Air Line Pilots Assn., which said it had not sanctioned the walkoff, ordered pilots back to Eastern cockpits Monday saying "anarchy is not the answer" to the pilots' troubles. A U.S. Appeals Court Judge in New Orleans turned the pilots association down on a request to stay a Miami back-to-work injunction.

Balmy Hawaii Proves Tonic To Weary Ike

HONOLULU (AP)—Balmy weather and a rousing reception proved a refreshing tonic yesterday to President Eisenhower, who arrived here weary after his Far Eastern tour.

More than 100,000 Hawaiians, the men in short-sleeved sports shirts and the women in gay print dresses, welcomed the president as he stepped from his big jet airliner.

LEI FOR IKE

Eisenhower grinned as Mrs. William F. Quinn, wife of Hawaii's governor, placed a lei of bright red carnations around his shoulders.

Eisenhower was admittedly exhausted when he arrived from Korea in this new 50th state. Nevertheless, he lost little time in turning to his favorite outdoor recreation.

The president took a brief nap and then played nine holes of golf on a sunny, breeze-cooled course at the edge of the blue Pacific.

REFRESHING CHANGE

The temperature was in the mid-80s but there was none of the mugginess he had encountered almost everywhere on his tour of the Philippines, Formosa, Okinawa and Korea.

Today, Eisenhower arranged a morning round of golf over the same course at the Kaneohe Marine Corps Air Station where he plans to relax for perhaps the rest of the week before flying home to Washington.

Eisenhower came back to his own country with fresh memories of tumultous welcomes everywhere he went in the Orient.

ONE BAD TOUCH

There was only one marked touch of anti-Americanism in the countries he has visited. That came in Okinawa, under U. S. administrative control since World War II, where about 1,500 student demonstrators yelled, "Yankee go home," and demanded that the islands be returned to Japan.

That happened Sunday, the day the president originally had been scheduled to arrive in Tokyo for a three-day visit. The Japan stop was canceled when the Japanese government decided its police could not protect Eisenhower from left-wing rioters.

Druids Greet Sun As Ingemar Slumbers

By EDDY GILMORE

STONEHENGE, England (AP) — Floyd Patterson's knockout victory almost kayoed the Ancient Order of Druids' annual greeting of summer's sun today.

Fifteen white-sheeted members of the cult gathered before dawn amid the prehistoric ruins of Stonehenge for age-old rites welcoming summer's first day. But they kept their ears cocked to the portable radios carried by dozens among the 3,000 Britons who assembled on Salisbury Plain for midsummer eve revelry.

Two minutes before the sun rose, the chief Druid intoned:

"We have come here this morning to the place of eternal light."

From beside him came another Druid's stage whisper:

"What round did Patterson get him in?"

Because of an orgy at the ceremony last year — when a beatnik girl danced barebosomed on the Stonehenge altar stone—the police were out in force.

Twice they held back excited girls in blue jeans who tried to join the druid observance.

The police didn't interfere with the unrestrained drinking or the young couples smooching beneath blankets between the ancient stones. But three or four times they broke up jiving on top of the 60-ton stones.

A policeman made a half-hearted — and fruitless — attempt to waken a slim brunette passed out beside one of the stones. He, too, kept listening to the blow-by-blow broadcast of the Patterson - Johansson fight.

Midwest Spring Rides Out On Flurry Of Tornadoes

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

One of the worst springs in memory rode a flurry of tornadoes and flash floods into the record books today.

The season, which started with record-breaking March blizzards and April floods, bowed out almost as violently yesterday.

Tornadoes struck portions of Colorado and Nebraska and heavy rain hit the plains states and Florida.

A twister caused $50 000 damage at Peetz, Colo., when it snapped off 60-foot light poles, smashed buildings and blew out windows.

Sidney, Neb., was also struck by a twister which uprooted trees but did little other damage. No injuries were reported at either city.

Thunderstorms drenched the plains with up to five inches of rain, touching off dozens of flash floods in Nebraska. Many persons fled their homes and at least one died.

A Stanton, Neb., farmer, Donald Hendricks, 25, was presumed drowned in a bridge washout. His wrecked car was found in a creekbed and police said warning lights on the washout apparently blew away.

At the Omaha, Neb., suburb of Ralston, an Army helicopter picked up a young housewife whose home was cut off by a flooding creek and flew her to Offutt Air Force Base hospital where she gave birth to a son a half hour after landing.

The rain looked like the beginning of spring in the plains states, with dozens of highways blocked by water and swollen creeks and rivers pouring into stores and houses.

Kendrick was convicted June 1 of murdering officer Richard Duvall on Feb. 26 when the patrolman stopped him on the Barstow freeway for speeding. He was captured three days later in a gunfight with police at a San Luis Obispo motel.

Kendrick escaped from San Quentin Dec. 7, supposedly by hiding in a laundry truck.

Town Seeking Way To Stop Fence Damage

Thirteen years of running battle with Corte Madera Town officials paid off last night in some action for Theodora Morris and her brother, Frederick Morris — they hope.

Miss Morris, with the vocal aid of Frederick, has maintained through the years that a town street is encroaching on her property at 30 Summit Drive. She and her brother maintain, their fence takes a terrible beating from passing cars on the narrow street.

Appearing before the council for the second time within a month, the Morrises said their prime concern was public safety — plus the fact they were tired of rebuilding the fence.

The council promised to visit the Morris home in a body Thursday at 8 p.m. to look at the situation. The possibility of a barrier to fend off the onslaught of vehicles might be the answer suggested.

"We have been after this for 13 years," Morris said. "We don't know how to thank you."

MERGER MOVE LEFT UP TO CORTE MADERA

Bowing to the cold logic of the recent census, the City of Larkspur last night admitted that the Town of Corte Madera was the "big brother" of the two — adding that any move toward merger of the twin cities was now up to the larger town.

The admission was contained in a letter from the City of Larkspur which was read at last night's Corte Madera Town Council meeting.

The Corte Madera councilmen decided to wait until after the forthcoming budget sessions before going into the controversial matter again.

The census gave Larkspur a mere 5,642. Big brother Corte Madera came up with 5,945.

Councilmen Postpone Decision On Osteopath

Lacking legal advice, Corte Madera town councilmen last night ducked a decision on whether an osteopath may "incidentally" conduct her practice in her Madera Gardens home.

Dr. Gertrude Casey, who recently purchased a home at 22 Mohawk Avenue, where she plans to conduct what she termed a limited practice, found last night that her new neighbors — at least, 111 of them who signed a petition — do not want her.

Interference with television reception by the doctor's diathermy machines appeared to be the neighbors' biggest objection. But councilmen said they must base their decision on whether the business is "incidental" to the use of the building as a residence, according to the letter of the law.

An occupancy permit was issued Dr. Casey and her husband, Dr. Vernon Casey, who maintains a practice in San Francisco, by William McBride, Corte Madera zoning administrator. According to McBride's interpretation of the zoning ordinance, a sufficiently small area of the home is devoted to the practice to place it in the incidental category.

Appearing for the doctors was San Francisco attorney Frank B. Peebles. He termed ridiculous the contention that television was impaired, saying the Federal Communications Commission issues wavelengths for all such machines to prevent interference.

Neighbors also objected to recent remodeling of the exterior of the house, claiming it gave the appearance of a doctor's office. The alterations, according to Dr. Casey and his landscape architect, Robert Walsh, were a definite improvement.

Supporting the doctors was Margaret Walker, real estate salesman who sold the home. If the doctors' neighbors would be patient, she said, Dr. Casey's gardening prowess would make her home the envy of the neighborhood.

"If you open the door for this one doctor, Lord knows what will follow," warned one of the objectors.

Decision was put over to July 18, pending a legal decision by Town Atty. John B. Ehlen, who was absent last night because of what was termed a slight injury.

Lack Of Signs Costly, Inn Manager Says

The long-smouldering truce between the Town of Corte Madera and the Edgewater Inn erupted in a new skirmish last night as James Stockman, proprietor of the motel, informed the council he would "soon be broke" unless he could erect off-site signs along Highway 101 to attract some passing trade.

The councilmen dumped the small war in the laps of the planning commission.

Stockman, offering to allow councilmen to look at his books as proof he was operating at a loss, urged amendments to the sign ordinance which would allow off-site signs as well as increase the sign area now permitted.

The councilmen gave the matter to the planners.

Sleep Cuts Short Girl's Carney Dream

A 13-year-old Novato girl, who wanted to join the carnival which was in town during the weekend, was found fast asleep inside one of the carnival trucks yesterday.

Deputy Sheriff Robert DiGrazia plucked the girl out of the truck and sent her home. The trucks were just about to pull out of town.

Parents of the girl said she was in about about 11 o'clock the night before. When they got up yesterday morning, the girl was gone. They called the sheriff.

Workmen tearing down the Golden Gate Show, in preparation for moving out, reported they saw a girl on the grounds about 3 a.m. DiGrazia searched the trucks and found the girl about 7 a.m.

Planners Ask Company To Prepare New Plot Plan For 'Home On Stilts'

Decision on Belvedere Properties Co.'s proposal for "homes on stilts" along the waterfront was postponed again last night by the Belvedere Planning Commission.

At its June 6 meeting, the city council rejected the proposal for "homes on stilts" and asked the commission to consider a resolution that each lot be filled in but "in no case should any one lot contain less than 6,000 square feet of fill."

Instead, the commission, on recommendation of chairman George P. Goddard, requested Belvedere Properties Co. to prepare a new plot plan of the development, to be presented at a special meeting of the commission next Monday and at the next city council meeting.

Goddard contended the city should have a graphic presentation of how the development will look.

Commissioner Joseph Marshall felt further study was needed to determine why the council voted against the original design of the development. He said the commission, in approving the original plan, had accepted the report of engineers and the fire department. He said safety standards had been met.

Commissioner Kenneth A. Frost quoted Fire Chief L. T. Mersereau as feeling that an additional water main in the subdivision and the availability of salt water would aid firefighting on the island itself.

Frost further felt the matter "has been tossed back and forth too long. It has become ridiculous."

He proposed a round-table discussion with the council and the developer.

H. H. Horne, president of Belvedere Property Owners Assn., suggested the commission re-study the engineering report prepared by Morton W. Lieberman. Horne warned of "the wind problem at the north point." He also objected to lack of play area for children.

The commission recommended that the city engineer review the engineering program with respect to the fill proposal.

The commission voted to support the Belvedere Recreation Commission's request that certain walkways be maintained by the city. Presenting the request was E. Allan Steinau Jr.

The commission also recommended that Frank O. Colvan, 147 Beach Road, be granted a revokable permit to install a funicular lift from the street to his home.

A public hearing was set for the next regular meeting on the request of the lagoon property owners, represented by Edward Brash, that a variance be granted to permit small boat docking and storage of lagoon maintenance equipment on one lot.

Council Orders New Stop Sign

East-west traffic on West End Avenue in San Rafael will have to stop at the Marquard Avenue intersection hereafter.

City fathers last night ordered stop signs erected at that corner on the recommendation of the traffic committee.

Commercial Place from Cijos to Lootens will be one-way westbound. No parking will be allowed at any time on the south side of Second Street from Lincoln Avenue to E Street.

In 1944 more than one and a quarter billion dollars was legally bet at American horse race tracks.

County Planners Approve Private Club At Black Point

Despite strongly expressed doubts of some residents, the proposal for a half-million-dollar private recreation club off Grandview Avenue in the Black Point area was approved for a use permit by the Marin County Planning Cimmission yesterday.

Several neighbors raised questions concerning the already scant water supply of the area, possibilities of traffic congestion, noise and fire hazard. But the Black Point Improvement Club had voted approval of the proposal by Robert Campbell, Novato real estate agent, provided he obtains his own water supply from wells and springs, and with several other stipulations.

Campbell appeared to explain plans for small boat harbor without launching ramps, swimming pool, tennis courts, club house and picnic areas, and to give assurance of desire to operate quietly.

Franklin Miller, a neighbor, stressed that Grandview Avenue is used by pedestrians and that operation of a club may develop dangerous traffic conditions. Any further drains on water supply of the locality would be detrimental in the extreme, he insisted. His wife, one of several other speakers, declared herself "100 per cent against."

Making Campbell's development of a private water supply among conditions to be imposed, Neils Schultz Jr. finally moved for a use permit and the board approved unanimously.

The commission also:

1. Approved a tentative map of the Barn House Ranch subdivision, seven one-half acres near Novato east of Wilson Avenue. Annexation to the Novato Sanitary District is proposed.
2. Permitted expansion of the Shoreline Market, Shoreline Highway and Flamingo Road, to accomodate small retail shops.
3. Reset to July 11 a hearing on amendment to the county's excavation ordinance.
4. Approved plans for a new retail store of Graham Lumber Co., on Jacoby Street south of Auburn Street in South San Rafael. It will have 3,000 square feet of floor space and 28 parking spaces.
5. Approved plans for a fire station at Trestle Glen Boulevard and Paradise Drive intersection, Tiburon, finding them "well designed and attractive" but with conditions requiring surfaced four-car parking area and some nearby planting.

Planners Rezone Area At Alto

An area of about 25 acres by Ricardo Drive and near Belvedere Drive, Alto, was reclassified from single-family to planned residential zoning by the Marin County Planning Commission yesterday.

The commission issued a policy statement emphasizing that density of development should be related to building design. Much of the subdivision cannot be directly used for building.

Bryan R. McCarthy, attorney for the developers, said the density will work out at well over 2,500 square feet per unit. A green "buffer zone" is to surround the project.

Nicasio Road Bids To Be Opened Soon

Bids to relocate a four-tenths mile stretch of Nicasio Road, due to be flooded by a future Marin Municipal Water District reservior, will be opened by the State Division of Highways on July 20.

Relocation of Nicasio Road between 7.2 and 7.6 miles northwest of San Geronimo has been estimated to cost $319,800.

Pauling Refuses To Tell A-Ban Scientist Names

WASHINGTON (AP) — Linus Pauling, world famous scientist, refused today to give Senate investigators a list of fellow scientists who helped him campaign against nuclear weapons tests.

Pauling told the Senate Internal Security Subcommittee he believed that despite any promises it might make, the group would use the names for reprisal against those who helped him to gather signatures on a test ban petition to the United Nations.

Without invoking any constitutional privilege, he told the subcommitte, "My conscience will not allow me to protect myself by sacrificing the idealistic young people" who helped him.

"I have decided I am not going to comply with the request of this committe," he said. It is, he said, a matter of "morality, justice and conscience."

The subcommittee, with Sen. Thomas J. Dodd (D-Conn.) presiding, had asked Pauling to name scientists who had helped him to collect signatures, and also to name those he asked to help them.

The subcommittee is investigating whether Communist propaganda efforts figure anywhere in the petition move.

Truck Driver Arrested For Hitting Stepson

A San Rafael father was jailed last night on suspicion of beating his stepson on the shins with a metal sweeper handle.

William Seraphine Jacinth, 31, truck driver of 527 Mission Avenue, was booked about 10 o'clock last night. He was being held in jail today for arraignment in municipal court.

Police Sgt. Lincoln Borba identified the victim as Gary William Motcher, 16. He had large welts on his shins. The boy's mother, Barbara Jean Jacinth, complained.

Jacinth admitted using the handle, but said he did it to discipline the boys for staying out all night and for hitting two smaller children and making them cry. He said he did not strike the boy with much force.

The boy is small for his age, police reported.

Three Injured As Car Goes Wrong Way

A Petaluma driver, returning north through Marin County, created a lot of consternation by getting on the wrong side of Highway 101 yesterday afternoon.

John Francis Cherico, 68 retired, drove across the divider strip on the Richardson Bay Bridge. David Lee Whitlock, 33, tile helper from San Francisco, southbound, braked hard to avoid a headon collision. Whitlock's car was struck in the rear by an auto driven by Andrew Berwick, 62, San Francisco contractor. The impact threw Berwick's car across the divider into the northbound lane, where it crashed into a car driven by Nick Dollente, 52-year-old laborer from Middletown, Lake County.

Only injuries suffered were by three members of Dollente's family in his car: Pelagia Dollente, 49, and two boys, Leopoldo Dollente, 13, and Alfonso Dollente, 7. All three were taken to Letterman Army Hospital in San Francisco and treated for cuts and bruises.

Cherico's car which had created all this confusion was unscathed. But Cherico landed in Marin County Jail, charged with felony drunken driving.

Japanese Newsmen Decline Comment On Tokyo Rioting

Six Japanese newspapermen visiting Hamilton Air Force Base yesterday declined to express opinions, individually or as a group, on recent riots in Tokyo.

Mrs. Hatsue Edwards was called in at the last moment to interpret for the group, after the visiting reporters declined to answer questions without an interpreter. She is the Japanese wife of S/Sgt. Herbert Edwards, stationed at Hamilton.

But when Mrs. Edwards asked "what shall I tell the reporter?" In Japanese she evidently was told to say that "the answer would take too long to explain."

Air Force public relations personnel cut off the interview before the "other kind of questions" requested by the newsmen could be asked.

The six are with a group of nine newsmen with five Japanese destroyers which have visited Portland, Ore, and Los Angeles. The remaining reporters stayed with the ships.

No Action Comes From Sausalito Parking Parley

A committee of the Sausalito City Council discussed the feasibility of forming a parking district last night but took no action.

Councilman Howard Sievers, chairman, said the meeting was merely exploratory, although all four members agreed the district was feasible. A second meeting will be held on either July 11 or 18, Sievers said.

There will be a regular meeting of the Sausalito City Council at 8 p.m. today at the city hall.

Child Molester Sought By Police

Sheriff's deputies today sought a child molester who forced a 7-year-old Novato boy to commit perverted acts, then gave him a dollar bill as "hush money" yesterday noon.

The boy returned home crying, clutching the dollar bill. His mother called the sheriff at 12:30 p.m. The boy told investigators he was playing in a creek bed near his home when he was accosted by a young man.

FIRE, BURGLAR STRIKE HOME IN MILL VALLEY

Trouble comes in twos for B. A. Lundstrom of 200 Elinor Avenue, Mill Valley.

Yesterday, a fire raged over the hill onto his property, nearly reaching his house. The fire, starting in some rubbish in a ravine behind the Mill Valley Municipal Golf Course, destroyed Lundstrom's lawn furniture, burned trees and shrubbery about his place and scorched his greenhouse and fence. Firemen and neighbors with garden hoses saved the house.

That was the second disaster. Earlier yesterday, Lundstrom and Alan Schlachter, who shares the house, discovered someone had stolen a $100 paid of Japanese binoculars, a $50 wrist watch and $21 in cash. Lundstrom told Mill Valley police the front door had been left unlocked.

Mechanic Suspected As Dope Peddler

Henry William (Lefty) Hale, 34, of 633 Fifth Avenue, San Rafael, was booked last night on suspicion of trying to peddle a pound of manicured marijuana for about $75.

Undersheriff Eugene Meyer said Inspectors Carl Sears and Richard Argento, on routine patrol, spotted two cars parked near the Greenbrae intersection and caught Hale in the act of trying to sell the marijuana to another man.

Hale, free on $1,050 bail, is scheduled to appear in Marin Municipal Court tomorrow afternoon. He is a mechanic.

Tentative 1960-61 Budget Revealed For Corte Madera

A tentative 1960-61 budget of $316,822 was submitted to the Town of Corte Madera today by Town Manager Arthur H. Brandow.

The town council will take its first look at the budget next Monday at 8 p.m.

Based on the present town tax rate of $1.25 per $100 of assessed valuation, the budget enticipates a revenue of $300,267, none of which will be available until after July 1. Estimated as cash on hand at that time was $50,664, leaving a plus balance of $16,615.

Policeman Who Hit Car Suspended

The off-duty San Francisco policeman, who bulldozed his car into the parked sports car of Principal Webster Smith of San Rafael's Coleman School on June 10, last night was suspended by the San Francisco Police Commission for two weeks.

Smith's smashed car landed in the shrubbery of his next-door neighbor, San Francisco Dist. Atty. Thomas C. Lynch.

Patrolman Thomas J. O'Hara pleaded guilty before the commission to being drunk while off duty. The commission decided against more severe punishment because O'Hara has two meritorious commendations on his record. Earlier the police officer had been fined $263 in municipal court.

Gov. Brown Buttons Up His Delegates

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Gov. Edmund G. Brown today blasted any hopes of presidential candidates with an eye on California's big vote for an early declaration in the Democratic race.

He said in an interview that he will not commit himself nor release the 81 California votes pledged to him until national convention time in Los Angeles.

The governor said he will expect the 162 delegates—each with one-half vote — to vote for him on the first ballot.

He acknowledged there "could be" a switch to one of the actual candidates before the end of that roll call but sized up the possibility as unlikely.

The delegation is committed to Brown as a favorite son. He has said repeatedly he is not a serious candidate himself, either for president or vice president.

In any event, Brown said "there will be no commitment before the next delegation caucus in Los Angeles on the afternoon of July 10." The convention begins the next day.

HERTER

sell (D-Ga.) of the Senate Armed Services Committee and Chairman J. William Fulbright (D-Ark.) of the Foreign Relations Committee had advised against the trip when the Tokyo disturbances first opened up.

Herter said the recommendations were considered but rejected.

When Johnson demanded to know who made the "incorrect evaluation" about extent of the Japanese riots, Herter said that "from all the information we received . . . it was a collective judgment" but "you can pin it on me if you like."

Herter said that, despite the setback in Japan, the Senate should go ahead and ratify the Japanese treaty.

He said "the damage to our prestige in the Far East has been definitely overdrawn."

The secretary appeared before the subcommittee to urge approval of a $250,600,000 budget for the State Department for the coming year.

Budget Approved Kentfield School

A $624,000 preliminary budget for 1960-61 was approved by the Kentfield School District board last night for forwarding to the county superintendent's office.

Supt. Harold R. DePue reported that it would not be possible to finance an economics course for the eighth grade from district funds. The district will seek a foundation grant for the course.

DePue said that the district has $1,500 in its research budget if the board wants to go ahead at any time with foreign language research. A parent study group some time ago made recommendations for such research.

The superintendent reported that the first addition to Wolfe Grade School is about 80 per cent complete. Completion date is Sept. 5.

The district office will be located temporarily in the fifth grade classroom, and will move into two of the new classrooms when the addition is completed.

Robert Shore, rapid learner consultant to the district, told the board the rapid learner program, in effect for two years in fourth through eighth grades, had upgraded the level of instruction, produced more interest by teachers in curriculum development, and benefited "gifted children."

The board also:

1. Accepted the resignation of Nancy Butcher, second grade teacher at Kent School.
2. Authorized advertising for school bus service for a three-year period.
3. Decided to combine an organizational and regular meeting July 18.

Ben-Gurion, Frondizi To Air Eichmann Case

BRUSSELS, Belgium (UPI) — Israeli Premier David Ben-Gurion said today he would meet Argentine President Arturo Frondizi before the end of this week to discuss the Eichmann case.

Ben-Gurion, who is on an official visit to Belgium, told a news conference the meeting would take place either in Brussels or at The Hague.

Ben-Gurion leaves for The Hague tomorrow and Frondizi is due in Belgium on Friday.

Ben-Gurion indicated that Israel would not in any circumstance release Adolf Eichmann, former Nazi leader charged with the murder of six million Jews during World War II.

Eichmann was tracked down by Israeli agents in Argentina and taken back to Israel last month. Argentina maintains he was kidnaped in violation of its national sovereignty. Israel said he was discovered by Israeli "volunteers" and returned to Israel "voluntarily" to stand trial.

Argentina demanded his return, but Israel refused. Argentina then put the issue before the United Nations Security Council.

The Security Council is due to consider the issue in New York tomorrow.

The Act of Congress which established the Smithsonian Institution was signed by President James K. Polk on Aug. 10, 1846.

Dog Vaccination Clinic Tomorrow

A rabies vaccination clinic for dogs will be held from 7 to 9 p.m. tomorrow at Hall School in Larkspur by the Marin County Health Department.

Last night, 204 dogs received shots at Fairfax Central School. Last year, only 89 dogs were vaccinated in Fairfax, a smaller number because many had received shots, good for two years, in 1958.

A health department spokesman reminded dog owners that dogs must be on leash when taken to the clinics.

Corte Madera Will Set Up Rules For Naming Streets

Reconsidering a former refusal to name a street after a Corte Madera resident, the Corte Madera town council last night voted to "set up ground rules" for bestowing streets names.

The request from the Meadowsweet Improvement Assn. to name a short street after Mrs. Charlotte Conow was turned down by the council two weeks ago. Councilmen did not want to become involved in deciding who was worthy of such an honor, they said.

Last night's decision came on the suggestion of Councilman William R. Hansen, after a motion by Councilman Roger F. Morse to deny the application for the second time was defeated. Morse's motion, he said, was made merely to clarify the similar motion he made in denying the request the last time.

The matter was placed in the hands of the public works committee of the council, with the suggestion that streets might, after all, be named afer citizens providing there were no objections from neighbors.

WAR ON DUMPING

San Rafael Seeking Anti-Littering Law

The San Rafael City Council last night decided to take a series of steps to cut down on indiscriminate trash and garbage dumping that is littering the roadways of the city.

City councilmen asked the city attorney to draw up an ordinance that would allow industrial dumping by permit. Landowners would be required to fence their land, provide gate and locks, put up a performance bond, and submit plans showing how the natural drainage of water would be preserved.

The biggest problem is the San Quentin road approach to San Rafael.

At the suggestion of Councilman Louis H. Baar, the city attorney will study an ordinance to require the occupants of every living structure in San Rafael to subscribe to garbage collection. City Atty. Albert E. Bagshaw said he thinks it is possible to make garbage service mandatory if the city issues a franchise to garbage collectors. Although the city charter prohibits the issuing of an exclusive franchise, Bagshaw said it is possible to issue franchises to Marin Sanitary Service and any others who want to compete.

Councilman Baar pointed out that mandatory garbage service would help curb the dumping of garbage on roadsides.

In other actions, the city council last night:

1. Set for 8 p.m., July 6, public hearing on the rezoning of a lot at Greenbrae Avenue near West End Avenue. R. D. Lang wants to rezone the lot from single family dwelling to restricted commercial so that a nursery can be established there. The planning commission denied the rezoning. Lang is appealing to the city council.
2. Set July 6 as public hearing date for rezoning of Palm Avenue from Jewell Street to Magnolia Avenue. Property owners want to increase the minimum lot size to 10,000 square feet.
3. Set July 6 as public hearing date for rezoning of Medway Road in East San Rafael from heavy commercial and industrial to general commercial.
4. Authorized the city attorney to file an injunction action in Marin Superior Court against Chester Sipkin of 27 Eucalyptus Court. Public Works Director Norris Rayles reported that Sipkin keeps plugging a storm drain above Highland Avenue, thus diverting water away from his property. The storm drain was installed in 1938, long before Sipkin's property was developed, says Rawles.
5. Confirmed the rezoning of a lot on Ridge Avenue near Belle Avenue for Margaret Hedden. The vote was 3-to-2 in favor of rezoning from single family residential to duplex. Neighbors asked Councilman Baar's "yes" vote to be withdrawn since the real estate firm for which he works handled the sale of the lot. However, the city attorney ruled that since Baar himself made no financial profit from the sale, he was not disqualified from voting.
6. Approved the final maps of Terra Linda Valley 4 and Rafael Racquet Club Estate 1.
7. Hired Dennis Sullivan as recreation supervisor at $496 per month, and Barbara Morehouse as steno-clerk at $311 per month.

New Reed School Will Have Kindergarten Through Sixth

Reed School District's Del Mar School will be for kindergarten through sixth grade, instead of for seventh and eighth grades as previously planned.

This was decided last night by the district's board.

The reason: The district would have to buy an additional one and one-half acres to meet state requirements for a seventh-eighth grade school. Cost of the additional acreage, on which condemnation proceedings had already been started, was estimated at $46,000.

No other site has been selected for a seventh-eighth grade school. Supt. Paul R. Stouffer said the district will continue to hold all seventh and eighth grade classes at Reed School.

The district has an election scheduled Sept. 20 on authorization of an additional $525,000 bond issue to meet building needs of the next three years. Trustee Erwin Farley expressed fear that inclusion of additional site purchase, when the district already owns three school sites, would impair the chance for approval of the bond issue.

A letter from the Marin Estates Home Owners Assn. was read complaining of the condition of district property near Marin Estates. The home owners consider the property an eyesore and a menace to children, the letter said. The property is on the old Brazil Ranch adjacent to Marin Estates above Paradise Drive.

Summer school Principal Jack Usilton reported 353 have registered for the academic course and 325 for art and crafts.

Plans for a new building to house the library and arts and crafts at Reed School were approved. The building will replace one demolished accidentally by a bulldozer. An eighth grade class will occupy the present library.

A resolution of thanks was voted Lloyd O'Connor, who has resigned as administrative assistant to the superintendent to become superintendent of Lincoln Elementary School District near Yuba City.

Mrs. Jane Pokorny was hired as a half-time instrumental music teacher.

Marin City Council Vote Set June 30

Elections to fill five upcoming vacancies on the Marin City Tenants Council will be held June 30.

Nominating petitions for candidates must be placed in the ballot box at the Marin City rental office by 6 p.m., Sunday.

Originally the council had 13 members but it was voted to reduce the number to five. At present, there are six on the council, since members were allowed to remain until their terms ended.

All Marin City residents listed on the official records of the Marin County Housing Authority, who are 18 or older, are eligible to vote, and those who are 21 or older are eligible to run for the council. The terms are for one year.

The election will be at the Community Center Lounge between 10 a.m. and 8 p.m.

Opal C. Clark, 36, who now lives in Stockton, was fined $150 last March for drunken driving. Because she failed to pay, she must serve her time in jail.

The league in which Gary is a mascot was organized by Walter Mails of San Quentin for the Police Athletic League and the Associated General Contractors, of which Gary's father is San Francisco chapter manager.

County, Developer Map Out Drake Beach Road

Developers of Drake Beach Estates are willing to build to county standards the first mile of road from the county road to the subdivision property, the county board of supervisors was told today. But the roads inside the subdivision will be substandard and will not be dedicated to public use.

Benjamin P. Bonelli, attorney representing the developers, reported that he, Supervisor James Marshall and Public Works Director Marvin W. Brigham had made a trip to the area on the south shore of Point Reyes. Agreement on construction of the first mile of the road to serve the 200 lot subdivision was reached.

However, Bonelli went on, it is illegal for the supervisors to require a developer to dedicate the roads inside his subdivision to public use. They can be held solely for the use of the people of the subdivision, he maintained. County Counsel Leland H. Jordan agreed with him.

"Can the developer build them substandard?" asked Marshall.

"The board of supervisors decides on the standards," Jordan answered. "The board can also require that they be maintained."

Bonelli said he could argue convincingly that it is "economically impossible" to build subdivision roads to county minimum standards "in a recreational area." When questioned as to the type of housing the developer expected there, he "assumes they will be weekend places."

Marshall suggested a district be formed for maintenance of the roads. But Supervisor William D. Fusselman said that a deed restriction about road maintenance "would get the board of supervisors out from under."

Bonelli agreed to work out road problems with Brigham and Marshall and then submit the proposed plan for the board's further consideration.

Tam Trustees Back Mental Health Funds

Tamalpais Union High School District trustees last night urged that the county board of supervisors support the state-financed Short-Doyle Act mental health program.

The board's action followed recommendations of the Marin County Mental Health Advisory Board and the district guidance department.

A tentative budget of $3,719,532 was approved last night by the trustees and will go to the county superintendent of schools for final approval before publication early in July.

Hired as a new language teacher at Sir Francis Drake High School was Paul Schwartzbart, former University of California instructor and teacher at Mary Hardin Baylor College in Belton, Tex.

A contract of $55,221 was awarded Zoellner Construction Co. of Ross for an addition of the Tamalpais High School gymnasium. The addition would house a foyer, coaches' offices and additional locker rooms.

The board accepted with thanks a gift of a set of career monographs from the Ross Valley Kiwanis Club. The books, presented by Loman Wittenberg, will be placed in the district vocational library for the use of students seeking information on careers.

Oct. 11 was reaffirmed by the board as the date for the proposed three-million-dollar bond election for funds to construct a fourth high school and finance additions and alterations on the three present schools.

Fusselman To Plump For Juvenile Fund

Supervisor William D. Fusselman will make a personal appeal to veterans posts in Marin County to approve the board of supervisors' plan for temporary transfer of veterans' memorial funds for a new juvenile hall.

The board proposes borrowing $300,000 from the veterans memorial fund to finance construction of the hall. The money would be repaid in three years through a five-cent addition to the county tax rate during the first two years and a three-cent tax the third year.

MOST AGAINST

County Veterans Service Officer W. P. Duhamel told the board today the only reports he has heard so far from the posts have been against the plan. But, he said, he believes there is more support than has been indicated.

Roy A. Ibach, chairman of the county probation committee, told the board he had just returned from a state meeting of probation and is even more impressed with the necessity of improving Marin's facilities in Lucas Valley. "The hall is now housing about twice the number of youngsters for which it was designed.

Ibach reported California Youth Authority, which has just completed a new facility, has such a backlog the new quarters will not relieve the congestion.

'PROBLEM OURS'

"Marin must look after the problem which is ours," he declared.

He said he had discussed the crowding problem with probation officials from other counties with the idea that perhaps some of Marin's youths could be housed elsewhere. He said he wasn't able to find a single probation office that could take any of them except for an extremely limited time.

Fusselman said he would call on the veterans posts and report back to the board in two weeks.

Lagoon Waters 'Safe,' Health Officer Says

Waters of the Belvedere lagoon are "bacteriologically safe" to swim in, Dr. Carolyn B. Albrecht, Marin County health officer, reported today.

Twelve samples of water from the lagoon were tested by the health department, partly as a result of illness of a Belvedere child which was first diagnosed as a suspected paratyphoid case.

Dr. Albrecht said most of the samples were satisfactory. Only in one was the bacteria count up a little, and this might have been the result of ducks or seagulls contaminating the water, she reported.

A letter reporting the test results will be sent to Robert Davies, president of the Belvedere Property Owners Assn., Dr. Albrecht said.

The pollution scare developed after the 3-year-old son of architect Felix M. Warburg of 61 Peninsula Road, Belvedere, became ill. Dr. Albrecht said the disease was never confirmed as paratyphoid. The health department conducted tests on the child at his physician's request. The boy has recovered from his illness.

In 1820, all but one of the 232 electors of the Electoral College voted for James Monroe.

Stinson, Bolinas School Merger Hearing Slated

The County Committee on School District Organization will hold a public hearing on a proposal to form a union district of Stinson Beach and Bolinas School Districts at 8 p.m., June 30, in Bolinas School.

The proposal was adopted last night by the augmented committee of the county committee for study of the West Marin area.

The augmented committee decided, however, to table further study of possible unionization or unification of districts throughout the West Marin area until the county committee has developed a master plan.

The 1959 legislature set up a requirement for county committees to submit to the State Board of Education by Sept. 15, 1963, a master plan for unified districts in the counties.

The Marin committee is just beginning its background study for development of the master plan, E. L. Blackmore, county school department administrative assistant, said.

Dr. Virgil S. Hollis, county superintendent, presented a budget for hypothetical unified school district (including both elementary and high schools) to the augmented committee to show how it would compare with separate district budgets.

Blackmore said the Stinson Beach and Bolinas boards had agreed on the benefits of a union district after a two-year experience with operating on an inter-district attendance agreement.

About 35 persons attended last night's meeting, representing Bolinas, Marshall, Tomales Union, Tomales Joint Union High and West Marin Union Districts in Marin, and Potter and Watson districts in Sonoma.

City Approves $33,000 Bid For Pumper

San Rafael last night bought a new fire truck for $33,216.56, to be stationed at the new Joseph Sauer Firehouse across Highway 101 from Terra Linda.

Van Pelt Inc. of Oakdale, lowest of three bidders, will provide the fire truck, a 1,250-gallon pumper. Other bidders were Crown Body and Coach Corp. of Los Angeles and American La France Corp. of Elmira, N. Y.

City fathers called for bids on two pumps and pipes to take storm waters from the Third and High Street area into the canal. Cost is estimated at $75,000. Bids will be opened on July 6 at 8 p.m.

Novato Contract Meet Tomorrow

Marin County's supervisors, in session today, also will meet tomorrow.

They are scheduled to meet at 10 a.m. with the Novato City Council to discuss a contract for the county to furnish certain services to the new city.

At 2:30 p.m., the board will convene again to discuss the charging of fees at the county's boat ramp on Tomales Bay.

School Budget Session Slated

A tentative budget for 1960-61 will be discussed tonight by Larkspur School District trustees at a postponed meeting at 7:30 o'clock in the district office in the Larkspur-Corte Madera School.

Also on the agenda will be a report on a fourth school, with preliminary plans for the proposed school presented to the board by the architects, John Lyon Reid and Associates.

Marin Marines Start Training

The 149 men of Kentfield's 14th Rifle Company, Marine Corps Reserve, waded ashore yesterday at Camp Pendleton to begin two-week summer maneuvers.

The reservists, in full combat gear, went ashore in medium landing craft after transferring from troop and tank transport Monticello. They shared the Monticello with 126 men and six amphibious tractors of San Francisco's Second Armored Amphibian Company.

This week and next the Marin units will undergo intensive training in infantry tactics and weapons firing. Obstacle courses, conditioning hikes and lectures will complete the schedule.

Club Group Scans County's Budget

No recommendations on the 1960-61 county budget were made last night by the Marin Federation of Improvement Clubs, holding its first budget-scanning session.

The federation will hold a second session at its July 11 meeting, after having heard what budget-cutting proposals are made next Monday by County Auditor Leon A. de Lisle, said Gilbert Darroch of Strawberry, chairman of the federation. Ten persons attended last night's meeting.

Caterer Job Dumped In Mill Valley

The Mill Valley Parks and Recreation Commission has decided to do away with a hired caterer for the municipal clubhouse, hiring only a custodian.

The matter was brought up again with the resignation of caterer Rudolf Klassen, who will leave July 15 for health reasons.

The commissioners voted unanimously last night to do away with a job. Those wishing a caterer, Mrs. Lee Collor said, will hire their own, and it will be a private matter between the organization and the caterer.

In the past there has been much haranguing among different organizations using the clubhouse as to whether the city should supply catering service.

Dr. P. R. Danford will explore possibilities of hiring a custodian for the clubhouse, Mrs. Collor said.

The commission also:

1. Voted that the peanut leaguer (8-year-old) baseball teams be allowed to use Sycamore Park starting next season. The commission turned down a request that the league be allowed to use a space at Boyle Park between the two diamonds now being used on grounds it was contrary to the master plan and could be a safety hazard.

2. Approved the sale of beer at the adult ball games at Project 17, permit to be renewed for each game.

3. Approved a capital outlay program for 1960-61 for $19,000 to allow for these improvements in order of their priority: Repaid tennis courts, $8,000; repave golf clubhouse, $6,000; provide additional parking at the golf course, $4,000; provide additional play equipment at all parks, $1,000. The capital expenditures last year were $11,100.

Hub Budget Meet Planned Tonight

San Anselmo city councilmen will begin discussion tonight of a 1960-61 budget, with their meeting scheduled for 8 o'clock in the city hall.

The budget proposed by City Administrator Douglas Flautt calls for a $613,000 outlay, with a tax rate of $1.33 at 35 per cent assessment, the same as for the current year.

Driver, Reason For Ticket Not As Given

The Independent-Journal incorrectly reported Saturday that Thomas J. Mondrogon of 383 Shoreline Highway was cited by San Anselmo police for driving with a suspended driver's license.

Correctly it was Theodore Joel Mondrogon, 18, of the same address, and he was given a ticket only for driving a car that had no front license plate. The car was owned by a friend of Mondrogon.

San Rafael To Enforce Law Against Overgrown Hedges

Fences or hedges that are too high or too near the city streets and sidewalk areas must be cut back, San Rafael city fathers decided last night.

City Manager Dan E. Andersen reported he has been getting many complaints on high fences and hedges that obstruct view and creat blind corners. In some cases, pedestrians are forced to walk in the street because fences and hedges are in the sidewalk area.

City fathers agreed that as long as the fence and hedge ordinance is in the books, it should be enforced. And now is as good a time as any because school children are on vacation, and blind corners can be traffic hazards.

Mayor John F. McInnis instructed the city manager to enforce the ordinance which provides:

No fence, hedge or similar screen planting will exceed six feet in height in any rear or side yard. No fence or hedge will exceed three feet within any required front yard or within 15 feet of the street corner on any corner lot, any exceptions to these rules must be by use permit.

PUC Staff Off On Flight Of Impractical Economics

We often become concerned over the peculiar pronouncements that gush from the throats of some of our governmental spokesmen. One such recently issued from a member of the staff of the California Public Utilities Commission.

In making recommendations regarding two Southern California gas companies, neither of which operates in Northern California, he proposed that the gas companies eliminate from their budgets a million dollars worth of advertising and at the same time trim 1½ million dollars from other sales expenses.

This staff member declared that advertising and sales expenses are a waste to industry. What he said, in effect, is that competition is a waste.

We have news for this theoretical young "expert." Competition is what has made America great. Competition is what has reduced the cost of both essentials and luxuries. Only when there is active, effective competition, does the customer get a break. Only when there is stiff competition, is there any strong incentive to do the job better or cheaper than the other fellow.

And only through advertising can a firm explain to the buying public that it has the better product.

Does a public utility selling gas have competition? You just ask an electric stove salesman or a man who sells oil furnaces.

But in addition, if the 2½ million dollars could be saved, wouldn't the companies be able to reduce their rates by that much?

Don't you believe it. Even if the cuts could be made without affecting the dollar volume of the businesses, which is not possible, less than half the total saving could be returned to the gas users. That two and a half million then would be taxable revenue. Uncle Sam would get at least 52 per cent of it.

No, this is another of those common flights of fancy by the unrealistic, those who don't seem to understand the American economic system. We sure that the PUC itself will not follow the meandering recommendations of its staff member.

THREE MINUTES A DAY

A MODEST HERO

No one knew the name of the man who rescued a 10-month-old baby from a burning building in North Hollywood, Calif. In the excitement, he left without identifying himself.

When the modest man got home, he casually told his wife and children about the incident. Next day when newspapers hailed the unknown hero, his 11-year-old son, a newsboy, decided to call the paper with this information.

"I see you want to know the man who saved that baby. Well he's my Dad!" He then gave the name of his father, Lee Ritchie, 39, a store manager and father of three.

You can be quite sure that your motives are nobly high if you are willing to be considerably inconvenienced in serving others and to be forgotten yourself. God sees what you do and that counts more than any amount of personal recognition.

Remember Christ's words:

'When thou givest alms, do not let thy left hand know what they right hand is doing, so that thy alms may be given in secret, and thy Father, Who sees in secret, will reward thee."

(Matthew 6:3-4)

Teach me the wisdom, O Holy Spirit, of seeking the good of others even though I am forgetting myself.

Speedster Campbell Out To Bring Land Record Back Into The Clan

NEW YORK (AP) — Why should a wealthy businessman with a pretty wife — and a great joy in living — want to risk his life trying to drive a car more than 400 miles an hour?

"You can't logically explain why you feel something has to be done, and you are the one who must do it — at least I can't," said Donald Campbell.

"This is something you either feel, or you don't feel."

He idolized his father, the late Sir Malcolm Campbell, and watched as his father in his last race against time in 1935 roared across the Bonneville Salt Flats in Utah at 301 miles an hour.

"That was the ninth time he broke the land record," recalled Donald. "No other man broke it more than three times."

Donald, now 39, was only 14 when he thrilled to his father's feat.

"Little did I think I'd be back 25 years later trying for a record myself," he said.

Donald, no stranger to speed, has broken the water speed record six times and holds the present record of 260.35 miles an hour.

It was five and a half years ago that he decided to bring the land speed record back into the Campbell clan. His target is the 396.196 mph mark set at Bonneville in 1947 by the late John Cobb.

The elder Campbell died in bed at 63. Cobb, his rival, died in 1952 in a speedboat accident.

DONALD'S RIDE to glory or defeat at Bonneville this September will be made in 30-foot gas-turbine car, called Bluebird, the same name borne by a long string of Campbell speed cars and boats since 1911.

It is a four-million-dollar venture.

Campbell is bringing more than 80 tires and 35 tons of engineering equipment and spare parts. The car is designed to go 500 mph but anything over 400 mph will set a mark.

Donald, a slender, dark-haired, friendly man with the handshake of a blacksmith, is mildly annoyed at people who class speed record attempts with ordinary car racing.

"AUTO RACING is colorful and romantic," he observed. "But record breaking is an adventure into the unknown. It is a cold-blooded lonely game. There is a carefully planned schedule of tests to follow. It calls for great accuracy and hellish mental discipline."

Campbell brushes aside the danger.

"I never take an unnecessary risk—to do so is foolhardy," he said.

REMEMBER WHEN?

10 YEARS AGO

Fred H. Chesnut, consulting engineer representing Marin County bus riders, told the California Public Utilities Commission that Pacific Greyhound Lines has been making money on its Marin traffic rather than losing it as claimed.

20 YEARS AGO

Mill Valley's 2,886 registered voters turned out to the number of 2,164 to approve a $190,000 bond issue to buy municipal bus equipment. The vote was the largest in the history of the city. But Greyhound Lines had an application to put service into Mill Valley if the trains quit.

Aviation Guide Plan For Bridge?

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

My first "Letter to the Editor." I hope you will publish it, for many other people I have talked to privately feel as I do.

Let us gravely reconsider the present plan to erect a series of some dozen traffic control arches on our Golden Gate Bridge.

These proposed new appendages, with funds already allotted for their erection, offend the overall simple elegance of the bridge and would destroy, for Marin commuters particularly, the daily drama of crossing and returning via this exhilarating world landmark.

Such a plan, if carried through, would mutilate the design of this wonderful bridge which is, as it stands now, a tribute to engineering skill and imagination.

As an alternative plan, therefore, why not install an advanced new system of directing high speed traffic which has been developed by the aviation industry where the maximum in visibility, visual guidance, and safety is imperative?

This system has been tested and proven highly successful right here at our San Francisco International Airport. It is based on a concurrent, widely-spaced series of illuminated disks countersunk in the runway. Each disk has a small riser with a window facing both fore and aft to transmit white guide lights.

This basic unit could be modified for use in automobile traffic as well. A set of red and green lights could face drivers approaching each way, visible both in daylight and at night.

Great versatility is possible. The lights could be controlled by automatic switches; but they could also be operated manually, or optionally, from the bridge toll plaza so that, in event of any accident, they could be used to forewarn and even divert drivers.

During fog or rain they would act as effective roadway beacons and prove a further safety factor in traffic control. (The proposed arches might well be shrouded in fog which often washes across at roadbed level.)

The disks are very rugged and withstand traffic impact, including heavy aircraft and also snowplows in arctic regions. Water evaporates off of them.

Several types of these "buttons" or "pancake" lights have already been developed —some more reasonable in cost than others, and all proving satisfactory.

At an American Society of Civil Engineers Airport Section meeting at San Francisco International Airport, which I attended the end of May, I discovered this basic unit had been developed over the last two years under a development contract with the University of California, spearheaded by Professor Finch.

Early this year, prompted by a sketch of the disfiguring arches, I became engaged in patenting a similar light. Now I regret not broadcasting this idea earlier to the powers that be. Surely then someone would have recognized that such a guide light is feasible, is manufactured, is used on airport runways and could be modified for traffic control on the bridge.

I imagine both Parcel Engineering Company of San Francisco and Bala and Strandgaard of San Rafael, surveying for the bridge directors, may also have visualized this better plan in theory, but possibly no one clued them about Professor Finch, whose light was hidden under a bushel (or, more precisely, a "button"!)

In summation: I hope the judgment of the bridge directors, coupled with public opinion, will bring this arch plan to a halt in light of this alternative traffic control system which is more logical, with a greater variety of safety uses, more economical and more aesthetic.

I hope this letter will trigger an awakening in the Bay Area to save the beauty of the world's only Golden Gate Bridge before it is too late.

May I hear from you who are concerned what you intend to do about it?

Why Senior Proms Are Held In S.F.

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

At the beginning of the school year there was considerable controversy about the location of Marin County high school's senior proms.

Most of the schools held theirs in the city despite the objections of parents who complained that there was no reason not to hold them in the county. Many parents felt that the students had no right in complaining; however, there is one definite reason for this, and it is that the service is so poor in the county that it is worth it to pay the extra money to go to the city and be treated like adults.

I would like to give a few examples of the service Drake received. We had our Senior Ball at a well-known restaurant in Marin, thinking that we would receive proper service. Instead, we were given one very good run around.

When the arrangements for the dance were made, we had the understanding that we could use the swimming pool if we desired. This privilege was cancelled a few weeks before the dance. This was the only change of plans of which we were informed before the dance. However, many changes came while the dance was being held.

The outdoor rights which permitted us to go out and sit around the pool were refused at the beginning of the dance; and at the same time we were told to be out by 1:30 a. m. instead of 2 a. m. as previously arranged. No explanation was given as to why these things were planned if they were not to be permitted.

The climax came when it had been agreed that the school would supply sheet cakes as refreshments and the management would sell coffee for 15 cents a cup. They were to serve the cake. Shortly before the dance the Senior Class was informed that it would cost 50 dollars to serve our cake and and sell their coffee. We could not afford this because we did not have enough time to raise the money. Instead the manager agreed to let us serve the cakes without coffee, but at 12:30, the time we were to serve, the manager came up and informed me that we couldn't. The only explanation he gave was that it was too late. Why did he agree to it in the first place then?

This left us with 35 dollars worth of cakes and three hundred hungry students.

By this time it was obvious we weren't getting anywhere so we stopped arguing, packed the cakes up, and finally disposed of them because the icing had spoiled.

It seems to me that if the students are willing to stay in the county, facilities should be as good as those elsewhere. If adults received the same treatment as we did, perhaps they wouldn't be so dubious when high schools wish to hold their senior proms in the city.

There's nothing routine about motion picture production in Egypt these days. During the shooting of a romantic interlude at a Cairo studio, reports Variety, the hero was called upon to slap the heroine on the cheek. "Make it more realistic," ordered the director, whereupon the hero clouted the heroine so hard that he broke her jaw and left her lying unconscious on the set.

When the director surveyed the damage done to his heroine—in private life as well as public, it would appear — he socked the hero with a chair and fractured his skull.

The name of the film they were making, incidentally, is "Sweet and Tender."

There's A House Of Happiness In Novato; Swift Family's Moved In

You've heard the old wheeze about "you can tell about the parents by the way the children behave."

If it's so, Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Swift have a sense of humor. Vivaciousness, good manners and a knack for raising kids. They have five of their own and four foster children at the moment.

THE FAMILY moved to Novato about two weeks ago from San Francisco where Mrs. Swift had been named mother of the year by the city's Catholic Youth Organization only a couple months ago. Swift is a credit manager with Bear Garages in San Francisco.

The house at 2052 Shady Lane has four bedrooms and three bathrooms to cope with Swift youngsters Maryann, 18; twins Michelle and Sharon, 17; Donna, 15; Linda, 12; and foster children Janice, 7; Desiree, 4; Randy, 3; Teddy 18 months. (You can't tell the players without a score card).

YOU WALK into the house to be surrounded by smiles and long legs sticking out of swimming suits, pedal pushers and shorts. You are surrounded by giggles and cracks.

The opinion on Novato is divided: "I like it; it's like real country," from Maryann. A negative shake of the head from another quarter.

The girls seemed to agree that the crop of teen-age boys around town looks pretty promising. "My sisters are having a blast," adds Maryann. She is looking for a little older material. She wants 12 children.

THINGS WERE running smoothly, even with the absence of Mr. and Mrs. Swift. Maryann had control. "I do the bossing when mother's gone and I don't like it but—." Janice looked up confidentially and added, "She screams real loud."

There was a race to get Randy, Desiree and Teddy.

I said, "Ho," to Randy.

He stared at me, standing there in a dark tan and diapers. Somebody asked him if he didn't want to say, "Hi." "Wait 'til I scratch myself," he said.

TEDDY SAT on Linda's lap and grinned.

The housework is divided up in shifts, which change from month to month. The family of foster children changes about every three years.

Linda sweeps and sets the table; Donna dries dishes, Michelle and Sharon wash and iron, Janice washes dishes and makes beds with Desiree. Randy "yells." Teddy "screams."

I got up to leave and Janice opened the door for me. She and Desiree waved as I drove away.

I didn't meet Mr. and Mrs. Swift. But I think they have something else I didn't mention. There is much love in that house.

If Medical Payments Are Socialistic, Founding Fathers Weren't Worried

WASHINGTON—Why does the President feel so strongly opposed to the principle of compulsory insurance for medical care to supplement the insurance, which already exists, for old age?

What is wrong about its being compulsory that a man should insure himself against the needs of his old age?

What is so wonderful about a voluntary system under which a man who doesn't save for his old age has to have his doctors and his hospital bills paid for by his children or public welfare funds?

There is nothing un-American in the principle that the imprudent shall be compelled to save so that they do not become a burden to their families and the local charities, so that they can meet the needs of their old age with the self-respect which comes from being entitled to the benefits because they have paid the cost out of their own earnings.

THE PRESIDENT has been led to think, he says, that compulsory insurance is "a very definite step in socialized medicine." Why? In a system of compulsory insurance the Department of Health, Education, and Welfare, which would administer the program, could and should use as its agents private organizations like the National Blue Cross Association in negotiating with hospitals and nursing homes and in dealing with claims and complaints. The system would be financed as insurance. But it would be worked not by a new government agency but by the kind of private voluntary association which the President otherwise believes in.

IN THIS CONNECTION it is interesting to remember that in the early 1930's when voluntary insurance plans were inaugurated, our old friend, the American Medical Association, was declaring that they were communism and socialism and socialized medicine.

Today, the American Medical Association is pointing to these same voluntary insurance plans as the solution of our present needs and the proper alternative to compulsory old age medical care insurance.

Among the opponents of medical insurance there seems to be a vague and uncomfortable feeling that it is a new-fangled theory, alien to the American way of life and imported, presumably, from Soviet Russia.

The Founding Fathers were not subject to such theoretical hobgoblins. In 1798 Congress set up the first medical insurance scheme under the United States Marine Hospital Service. The scheme was financed by deducting from seamen's wages contributions to pay for their hospital expenses.

If that was "socialized medicine," the generation of the Founding Fathers was blandly unaware of it.

New Tract Worries Garden Enthusiasts

Concern was expressed before the Marin County Planning Commission yesterday over the welfare of "one of the most remarkable wildflower gardens in the world" which will be neighbor to a new Tiburon Peninsula subdivision.

The garden in question surrounds old St. Hilary's Church, to be adjoined by crescent-shaped Crescent Heights. Enclosed to some extent, also will be the Southern Marin Recreation Center, with a possible drainage problem resulting.

Mrs. Robert Bastian, 19 Peninsula Road, Belvedere, appeared at the first hearing on a master plan for the subdivision to speak up for flowers around the church, now owned by the Belvedere-Tiburon Landmark Society of which she is president.

"Some of the flowers there can be found nowhere else in the world," she said, reading a letter to herself from John Thomas Howell, curator of the botany department of the California Academy of Sciences in San Francisco.

This letter lauded the beauty of the "bontanical treasures that cluster around the chapel" and pleaded for their preservation with the church, saying their extermination would be "irreparable loss."

Robert P. Tobin, for the architectural firm of Hetzka and Knowles, intimated that subdivision plans should not unduly interfere with the immediate vicinity of the chapel.

Mrs. Bastian said money could be raised to buy more land if it were made available.

The chapel stands almost on a spring which feeds a marshy strip where rare plants flourish, with other rarities on open dry rocky grassland nearby. Plants include a lacy star-lily, a golden-flowered sunflower and what Howell called "one of the very loveliest species" named only "Brodiaea peduncularis."

Mrs. Thomas Stanton of the planning committee for the Southern Marin Recreation Center expressed worry over possible drainage problems to be created by the subdivision which encloses the center's upper eight acres. She was told that the development plans to continue natural drainage channels.

Power and phone lines will be underground, Tobin said, displaying a model of the area with intended construction which caused Commissioner Margaret Azevedo to express herself as "very impressed."

Another hearing must precede final action.

Planners Reject Dining Room Plan—It's A Foot Too Wide

It takes a heap o' living to make a house a home, sang the poet.

In the opinion of some Marinwood residents, it also takes a dining room.

Edward P. Lindell of 274 Emerystone Terrace, Marinwood, found himself unexpectedly the center of what the Marin County Planning Commission regarded yesterday as a test case, because he has found through years of residence what many others may have found too.

Homes sold with a counter as "feature," replacing dining space, now have young children and a need for elbow room.

But to provide a dining room, the owners are likely to encroach on the six-foot side yard requirement. So with Lindell. He asked a dining room nine-by-10 feet and was unhappy with a staff suggestion that he content himself with nine-by-nine, requiring no adjustment.

"An extra foot means an awful lot," he said plaintively.

Supporting his position was a recommendation from a committee of the Marinwood Assn. But opposing it was a petition with 10 signers.

Dr. William Upton, chairman, supported the staff view that Lindell's needs did not meet the three legal requirements for a variance and said, "If we approved, we would do it just to suit you personally, and we can't do that."

"Everybody in Marinwood who bought that kind of house five years ago wouldn't do it now," Lindell retorted.

"If that is the case," said Dr. Upton, " a substantial number of property owners might get together and all want five-foot side yards. A public hearing could be set up toward getting all the side yards in Marinwood changed.

"But just to grant to one individual would be opening a can of worms."

Sure enough—after the commission had unanimously voted denial of an adjustment which would have allowed the extra foot, the next agenda item was a request from Mr. and Mrs. Robert A. Miller of 217 Cobblestone Drive, Marinwood, asking an extra foot and a half, likewise to make a dining nook.

The Millers got a similar denial on the same ground.

Novato Developer Reports Horse Gone

Novato developer John L. Nova's has lost his tan and white Tennessee walking horse, he reported to the sheriff yesterday.

He got up yesterday to his horse gone from his home in Monte Maria. Sheriff's deputies called the Marin County Humane Society to be on the lookout for a stray horse.

Approval Asked On School Job Bid

A resolution asking approval of a $126,904 construction bid for the Lynwood School addition has been sent to the State Department of Finance in Sacramento.

The addition to the San Jose district school will provide six more classrooms, using state funds. Work is expected to be completed late next fall.

Low bidder was Inland Pacific Construction Co., San Francisco.

4 Methodist Pastors Given Marin Posts

Three Methodist ministers were reappointed to their pastorates in Marin County and a new pastor was named for the Tamalpais Valley Community Methodist Church at the Northern California-Nevada Methodist Conference during the weekend.

Bishop Donald H. Tippett reappointed Rev. Edgar Nelson to the Methodist Church of Mill Valley, Rev. Lawrence H. Doyle to the Community Methodist Church in Novato and Rev. Donald H. Baldwin to the Methodist Church in San Rafael.

Rev. Robert F. Roberts of Spokane, Wash., has been assigned to the Tamalpais Valley Church.

Rev. William F. Dittler, a 1960 graduate of San Francisco Theological Seminary in San Francisco, has been temporarily serving the church. He is leaving to serve Presbyterian churches at Nipomo and Pismo Beach, San Luis Obispo County.

Rev. Roberts, who will conduct his first service at the church Sunday, is a spring graduate of Whitworth College in Spokane where he received a B.A. degree in religion and economics.

He will attend Pacific School of Religion in Berkeley while serving as pastor. He previously served Methodist churches in Four Lakes, Rockland and Spokane, Wash.

Novato Fire Board To Fix Budget

Novato Fire District commissioners will meet tomorrow for a final decision on a proposed $169,950 budget which would raise the district tax rate to 69 cents per $100 assessed valuation.

Last year's budget totaled $136,180, with a 65-cent rate. Principal reasons for the hike are $10,000 set aside for a part payment on an alarm system and $11,000 for part payment of a new truck. Total truck cost is $17,893, for a 1,300-gallon tanker which has been ordered.

The alarm system proposed would place 19 call boxes in the Novato business area and near schools. Total cost would depend on the type of boxes ordered.

District Commissioners have said that if the 69-cent rate is not high enough to cover expenditures, some items will be removed from the budget.

Fire Chief George J. Cavallero said the boxes and truck will help in getting a lower district fire insurance rating.

The budget meeting will begin at 8 p.m. at the main fire station on Grant Avenue.

Floyd Terms Winning Left 'Hardest Blow I Ever Hit'

Ex-Champ Regains Crown To Make Ring History

NEW YORK (AP)—Floyd Patterson showed he had a lightning left hook to match Ingemar Johansson's thunderbolt right and today held the coveted heavyweight championship for a record second time.

The solemn-faced, 25-year-old New Yorker became the first former heavyweight champion ever to regain the title when he knocked out the handsome, hard-hitting Swede with a leaping left hook in 1:51 of the fifth round at the ancient Polo Grounds last night.

"I think it was the hardest blow I ever hit anyone," said the elated Patterson. "For the first time I feel I'm a real champion.

For the downcast Johansson, it was his first defeat in a pro career of 23 fights.

He had soared to the championship heights last June 26 by demolishing Patterson on a seven-knockdown, third-round technical knockout. Now he found it hard to talk.

In regaining the most lucrative prize in sports, the young, broad-shouldered Negro succeeded where eight other ring greats, including Jack Dempsey and Joe Louis, had failed.

At 21, Patterson went into the record books as the youngest heavyweight champion by flattening ancient Archie Moore with a devastating left hook in the fifth round at Chicago, Nov. 30, 1956.

Never again had he demonstrated the power of that jolting hook until last night. First he felled the 194¾-pound champion early in the fifth round for a nine-count. Then he did it again with a leaping left that had all of his 190 pounds behind it.

The strong Swede hit the canvas flat on his back. He was out cold. Referee Artie Mercante could have counted 500.

It could have been different if the powerful Viking had been able to follow up his best punch of the night in the second round. He nailed Floyd high on the head with the old "toonder and lightning" right. This was almost the same punch that started Floyd on the way out a year ago.

Patterson was stunned but he was able to retreat. Ingo went after his foe cautiously, poking with his left repeatedly. He didn't get in the followup right. By the end of the round Patterson had regained his full senses.

That, it turned out, was Ingo's last chance. It was the only round he got from the officials.

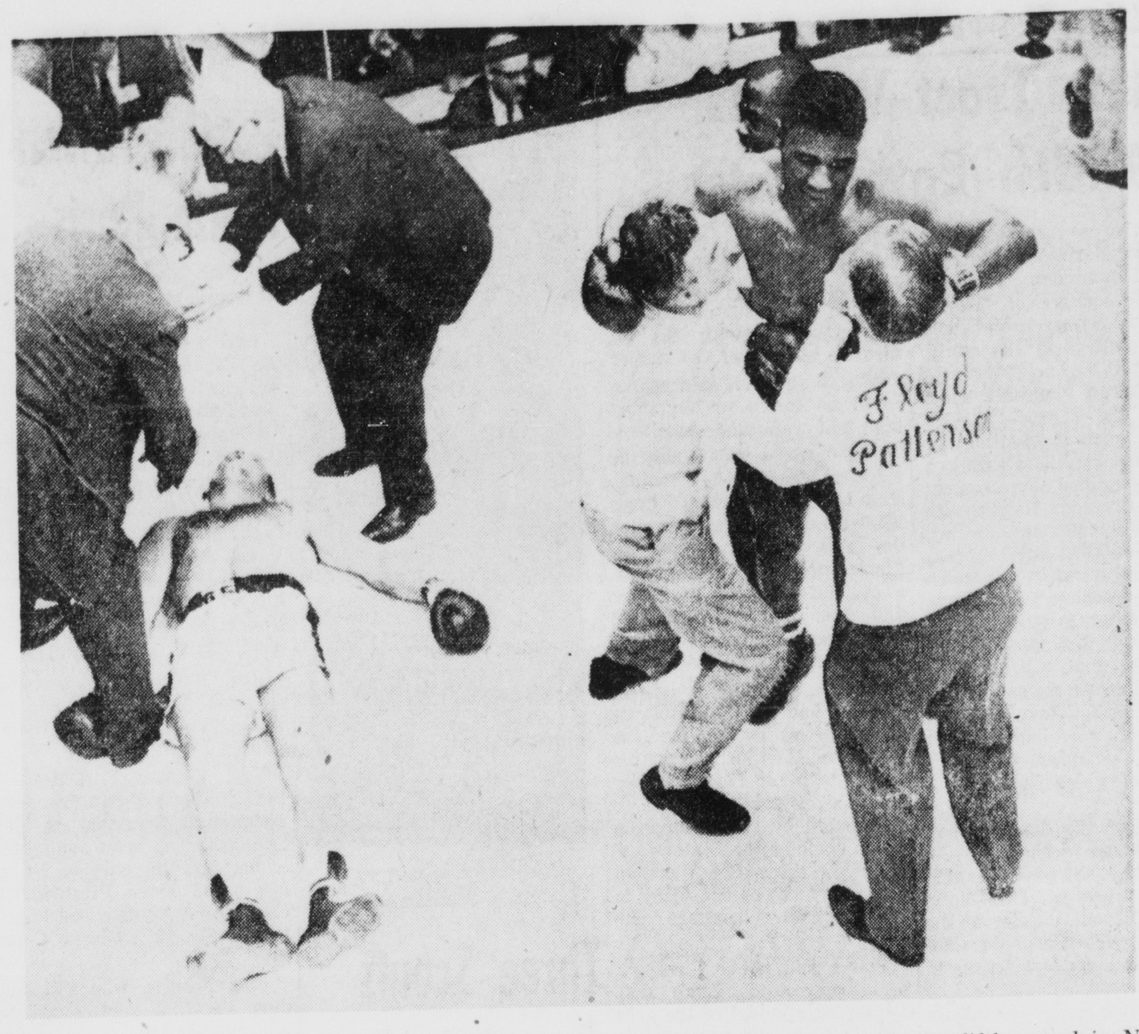
Patterson fought differently this time. Instead of looking for a chance to unlimber his fast combinations, he upset Johansson's pattern by using the Swede's own piercing weapon—the classic left jab.

Floyd lanced repeatedly and effectively with the jab.

In the fifth round he sent Johansson to the ropes. The first leaping left hook thudded against Ingo's jaw and dropped him. The champ got up on one knee and took the count of nine. Patterson tore after him with a vengeance, battering him with both hands. Then came the crushing final left hook and boxing history was made.

In money it could mean millions.

For this second fight alone, Patterson's purse may amount to $763,000. Ingo will be consoled by a purse of close to $636,000.



AS TITLE CHANGED HANDS—Two doctors enter the ring to minister to the unconscious Ingemar Johansson at left while happy handlers lift victor Floyd Patterson at right. Patterson had just knocked out Johansson in the fifth round in New York's Polo Grounds to become the first man ever to regain the world heavyweight boxing championship. (AP Wirephoto)

Ingo Seemed Hypnotized, Says Expert

NEW YORK (AP)—A leading expert on hypnosis said today Ingemar Johansson "could very possibly have been in a hypnotic state" during last night's heavyweight title bout with Floyd Patterson.

"Johansson's reactions seemed subnormal throughout. He appeared dazed in the ring and later when I saw him in the dressing rooms," said Dr. Ralph Slater, president of the International Academy of Hypnotism. Dr. Slater was at ringside at the invitation of Patterson's manager, Cus D'Amato.

HE STUMBLED

"As Johansson came into the ring I noticed that he stumbled slightly," continued Dr. Slater. "Then he smiled almost all the way through the fight. Sometimes a person in a hypnotic state acts this way, like someone who's drunk. Certainly, the smiling was peculiar considering the seriousness of his task.

"Also, for one in Johansson's excellent condition, he was on the canvas for an unusually long time after being knocked out in the fifth round. This could have been the result of a post hypnotic suggestion."

There have been rumors Ingo was hypnotized by his personal physician, Dr. Gusta Carlsson, before knocking out Patterson in their first match last June.

'MILD FORM'

"The form of hypnosis Johansson received last night could have been very mild," said Dr. Slater. "Maybe they underestimated Patterson this time. In their first fight, Johansson may have been put in a somnambulistic very deep state and this could have had a violent reaction and made him a tiger in the ring.

"Hypnotism can do several things to a fighter. It can give him more confidence, make him immune to pain and speed his senses considerably. It can work the other way too if given in a milder form."

Giants Open Road Trek In Milwaukee

MILWAUKEE (AP)—The San Francisco Giants came to the home of the Braves today for a twi-night twin bill that opens a 17-game road trip.

If either club sweeps tonight's doubleheader, the winner will have clear possession of second place in the National League.

CLOSE CALL

At Tacoma, the Giants needed two ninth inning runs last night to squeeze out an 8-7 victory over their Pacific Coast League farm club.

The big Giants, tied 6-6 going into the ninth, picked up two runs on a homer by Andre Rodgers, a single by Dave Philley and a triple by Joe Amalfitano.

The little Giants pushed one run over and had the tying run on base in the bottom of the ninth but Bud Byerly finally shut the door and saved the exhibition win.

Rodgers and Willie Kirkland led the San Francisco attack. They each got a homer and a single in two trips to the plate.

TONIGHT'S HURLERS

McCormick (8-3) will opposed tonight by Milwaukee's Juan Pizarro (4-2). Sanford (6-4) will face rookie George Brunet (0-0).

Sheehan hopes third baseman Jim Davenport will be ready to return to full duty before this trip is over. Davenport suffered an ulcer attack when the Giants were here last month.

Although Davenport has been used occasionally as a pinch-hitter in the last two weeks, his regular spot has been held down by Amalfitano and Rodgers.

CEPEDA ON FIRST

Sheehan indicated he would stay with Orlando Cepeda at first base. In the last three home games with Philadelphia the 1958 rookie of the year moved back to first from left field and performed with finesse.

The move was made by Bill Rigney before his dismissal as Giant manager. With power hitter Willie McCovey benched from the first base post, Rigney had Felipe Alou playing in Cepeda's place in left field.

THE FINAL BLOW — This is the Floyd Patterson left to the chin of Ingemar Johansson that sent the latter to the canvas in the fifth round of last night's championship fight in New York's Polo Grounds. It was Johansson's second knockdown, and this time it took handlers and doctors nearly 10 minutes to revive him. Patterson described this blow as the hardest he had ever struck. (AP Wirephoto)

Patterson Promises He'll Be Busy Champ

NEW YORK (AP)—"I definitely will give Johansson a return fight. I'd like to fight him in 90 days. I will be a fighting champion this time. I will fight early and often."

So spoke Floyd Patterson following his spectacular fifth-round knockout of Ingemar Johansson last night, a victory that made him the first man in boxing history to regain the heavyweight championship of the world.

This was a new Patterson, far different from the mumbling young man of a year ago who, after his stunning defeat at the hands of the Swedish challenger, let his manager, Cus D'Amato, do all the talking.

Last night Floyd was doing his own talking.

"For the first time since I won the title in 1956," Patterson said, "I feel I'm a real champion. I think the public finally will accept me. At least, I hope so."

The spectacular victory seemed to have done more to the 25-year-old Patterson than give him back his title. Throughout the hour-long session with newsmen in the steaming, crowded quarters, Floyd gave the appearance of being a much more mature, confident and decisive person.

"It was worth losing the title for this," he said happily. "This is easily the most gratifying moment of my life.

"I'm the champ again. A real champ this time. Do you know what that means?"

The only person who might have really known was sitting, still stunned, still groggy, and still unbelieving, not 50 feet away, in the loser's dressing room.

"I was careless," mumbled Johansson. "I was overconfident. Something like Patterson was in our first fight."

The good-looking Swede looked like a beaten fighter. His face showed the pounding he had taken for five rounds. It took nearly 10 minutes to revive him.

As he left the dressing room, with his mother, sister, fiancee and manager, he was asked when he thought he would be ready for a rematch with Patterson.

Ingemar stared blankly for a moment, then smiling sadly, said slowly: "I'm going to think it over."

Aaron's Bat Powers Braves Into Second Place In National League

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Hank Aaron broke loose, Joey Jay finally won one and the Milwaukee Braves are up in second place in the National League race for the first time since the first week of the season.

Aaron, batting a chilly .279 with only one home run in the last 17 games, hammered two homers and drove in three runs while Jay, pitched 6⅔ innings of four-hit, shutout relief for a 4-1 victory over Los Angeles last night.

It was Jay's first success since last September, and his first over the Dodgers in two years.

With no other games scheduled in the National loop, the Braves pushed within four games of first place Pittsburgh and jumped past San Francisco into second by seven percentage points. The Giants open a four-game series at Milwaukee with a twi-night doubleheader tonight.

In the only American League game scheduled, Kansas City defeated Boston, 9-6.

Aaron, last year's bat champ with a .355 average, upped his current mark to .284 and triggered a winning, two-run second inning with a leadoff homer off Don Drysdale. Aaron walked in the third inning, hit his 15th home run of the year leading off the sixth and then drove in another while ground ing into a force play against reliever Ed Palmquist in the seventh.

Drysdale (4-9) now has lost five in a row and eight of his last nine decisions.

Jay, whose only other decision was a losing relief job against Pittsburgh two months ago, struck out three and walked one. He came on in the third after starter Bob Buhl, the Dodger killer, gave up four walks.

The seventh place A's beat the last place Red Sox with a tie-breaking, three-run seventh capped by Harry Chiti's home run with a man on. Hank Bauer's double and a single by Norm Siebern cracked the 5-5 tie and handed Tom Borland (0-2) the defeat. Marty Kutyna (2-2) won it in relief for the A's, who also had a home run from Andy Carey.

Like Enraged Tiger, Patterson Unleashed His Fury On Swede

By OSCAR FRALEY

NEW YORK (UPI) — It was a mad, violent thing which had been a year in the making.

Floyd Patterson was a tiger who hadn't been fed for a month; a savage to whom the only law was to tear and rend; a man insane with the built-in hatreds of his own doubts, fears and passions.

And when it was over, a broken, beaten man named Ingemar Johansson lay flat on his back on the blood-stained canvas at the Polo Grounds in an insensible heap.

You could doubt, until the referee was halfway through his count at 1:51 of the fifth round last night, that the scrowling man who had just regained the heavyweight championship of the world was human.

There was no sign on his face when he climbed through the ropes before a crowd which hungered for his destruction, sure that once again he was to be annihilated as he had been a year ago. He nodded, slowly, grimly, as they announced him and then sat there, staring at the floor.

A whole year of misery was behind his eyes and a whole year of fury was in his clenched fists.

Minutes later the world around him disappeared in the red haze of his primitive emotions and his only thought was to batter into prostrate helplessness the man tottering in front of him.

There will be only a few times when you will see a man ridden by such maniacal passion without policemen stepping in with clubs to stop him from commiting such mayhem. But the one man in the ring with them never had a chance to intervene if he had wanted to do so.

It was blinding fast, with the dazzling abruptness of lightning and the pulsebeat of thunder. It started to build up within Patterson with the first knockdown. Until then he had been fighting cautiously, a man carrying out the dictates of other minds.

But then, with the fleeting beat of rapid pulse, the change came over him. Now, suddenly, he was on his own. The punches he rained on Johansson were of the sheer, blazing murder emanating from a heart hurt to bursting by the criticisms and aspersion he had taken so silently through a crushing, pitiless year.

The referee couldn't have stopped him then because his flashing fists were tearing down all those built up hatreds, smashing them with the crushing violence which came from within. He looked, even after Johansson was down, as if he wanted to leap on that prone body.

Then, as the referee's arm tolled the count, the light of reason came back into Floyd Patterson's face. The animal was gone.

But while the veneer of civilization was missing, it was a savage, frightening thing that made you think of the bloody days in the Colisseum.

Twin Cities Defeats Mill Valley Ponies

Mike Cooney pitched a five-hitter and fanned 10 as the Twin Cities Boys Club defeated Mill Valley 5-3 in Pony League competition last night.

Jim Purtell tripled home the two deciding runs in the seventh for the victors who lead the loop with a five win, one loss record.

Benefit Bowling A Big Hit; Youth, 15, Fires 666 Series

With a check for $862.50 going to a worthy cause and more than 80 merchandise prizes for the top competitors, the recent benefit bowling tournament for the Marin County Crippled Children and Adult Society today was described as a howling success.

"This year was great," said Manager Dave Rivera of Country Club Bowl in San Rafael, site of the tournament, "but next year we'll do even better," he promised.

Rivera added, "We want to thank all the bowlers who helped make this a success, and a special thanks to the merchants who donated the prizes.

Laurie Migliore and Jeanne Blumenfeld were winners of the top men's and women's prizes. Migliori fired a 613 scratch and with 110 handicap pins came in at 723, just one pin ahead of young Al Charney of San Rafael. Charney fired 642-80—722. Third place went to Carlo Drago with 624-80—704.

Mrs. Blumenfeld fashioned a 567 series and added 106 handicap for a 673. Shirley Campanella was the runnerup with 542-124—666 while Leah McLean hit 511-144—655 for third place honors.

Other winners may collect their prizes anytime at Country Club, Rivers said.

RUSSELL BOATES is only 15 years old, but he's blazing a remarkable scoring trail in the Junior League at Country Club.

Last Friday night the youngster hit a sensational scratch score of 666 for three games, climaxing the evening with a 277 line. He made that by firing nine consecutive strikes, sparing the 10th, and winding up with a strike. His other games were 214 and 175.

On the previous week Boates hit a 590 series with 209-222—159.

FRIDAY NIGHT'S 540 Scratch Trio circuit at Greenbrae Lanes saw Al Charney of Diablo Bowling Supply hit an 836 four-gamer on lines of 233, 191, 229 and 183.

The FISHIN' FOOL

By RALPH STEVENS,
I-J Fish and Game Writer

Bass Reports Range From Good To Bad, Depending On The Wind

STEVENS

Howdy, folks! What's a poor scribe to do when one angler calls up and tells him the wind drove all the boats and their occupants back to the harbor, sans fish?

That's what happened when we heard a report from Joe Nervani of Joe's Boat Launching on Santa Venetia Slough. Joe added that that happened both Saturday and Sunday. A few fishermen managed to get a few—very few, only five — on Saturday, but none on Sunday.

Then the scribe gets another report from an authentic source who swears the water is not too rough at all; in fact it hadn't interefered with fishing at all. That was Hank Dowrelio of Dowrelio's Harbor at Crockett. He reported Skipper John Sivera netting seven fish to seven pounds on bait during the day, and 23 to 10 pounds for the late afternoon trolling. Also, Captain George Jones of the Kay Bil brought in six bass to eight pounds and the Trade Winds had eight to eight pounds bait fishing first at the Black Buoy off Port Costa and later near Buoy 10 in the upper San Pablo.

WHAT TO do? Simply to believe both our contact men. The wind has an annoying habit of blowing hard and soft depending upon what sector of the Bay Area you happen to dunk your bait or trail your lures.

For example: The vast stretch of bay reached easily from Joe's Boat Launching was too windy for small boats, yet on the same side of the bay, in the Racoon Strait, five bass trollers were back in Tony Caruso's Sausalito harbor with beautiful limits of beautiful stripers. Tony informed us that the fish averaged between eight and 10 pounds and ran to a top of 20 pounds. We should mention that the quintet, consisting of Henry Schram, Francie and Jean Rodriquez, Rocky Bawuens and Bill Puccielli, was back in the harbor by 10 o'clock Sunday morning.

By the way, here are some belated congratulations to John Ozawa for the Schenley salmon he landed from the Luck Lady, with Skipper Otto Ronniger netting it. Said prize fish weighing in at 40 pounds, four ounces.

SORRY WE can't report that salmon fishing is still hot, but the sad fact is that the Rocky Point area (where the 40 pounder was taken a few days ago) cooled off to near freezing. Both Saturday and Sunday were poor days. Some of the boats from around the Lightship did connect (one boat came in with 15 salmon), but the overall picture was gloomy.

A group of nine hopefuls from the East Bay fished faithfully all day Saturday and the score was only four fish for the effort. Bill Meyers managed to win all pools with his 17-pounder.

GETTING BACK to the conflicting reports of bass fishing: There is no question but what there are plenty of stripers in the bay. If you can get to a sector where there isn't a high wind your chances are really good of making the grade. Frequently one side of the bay will be bad and the other side quite the opposite. So why not shift your field of operations in accord with the shift in the wind. Allah be praised, we have spoken.

SOME FAIR abalone and some good clam tides are due over the coming weekend.

That's all for the nonce; see you anon!

Harry Belafonte became the first Negro ever to win an Emmy.

Jackie Gleason's former second banana, Art Carney, won an award for the best comedy show.

Olivier, generally rated the greatest English-speaking actor, won his Emmy for his portrayal of a character in "The Moon and Sixpence."

Both Olivier and Miss Bergman a two-time Oscar winner, were in Europe. The Swedish actress won her first TV award for the chilling "Turn of the Screw."

Stack, who plays the gang-busting Elliott Ness in "The Untouchables," won his Emmy as the best actor in a series. The award for the best actress in a series went to Jane Wyatt, the wife and mother of the Anderson family in "Father Knows Best."

Belafonte won for the best performance in a variety or musical program. He accepted his Emmy from Fred Astaire, who also was nominated for the award.

Carney, competing with such top bananas as Danny Thomas, Jack Benny and Red Skelton, won his award for the "Art Carney Special Show—VIP."

The show, staged and telecast from both Hollywood and New York, gave other Emmys to:

Playhouse 90 for the best drama show.

CBS' "Fabulous Fifties," best variety program.

The Huntley-Brinkley Report, best news program.

CBS' "20th Century," best public affairs program.

Writer Rod Serling for his series "Twilight Zone," best written drama.

Rates For Gas Held Lowest Among U.S.

LOS ANGELES (AP) — California natural gas consumers are paying rates that are among the lowest for any major area in the nation, a spokesman for a major supplier today told a special governor's conference.

Paul Kayser, chairman of the board of the El Paso Natural Gas Co., said in a paper prepared for the conference:

"The economy of natural gas service to Californians reflects the efficiency of operations of California's gas distribution companies, the pipe line that brings this gas into the state and of course the unremitting efforts of the Federal Power Commission and your state regulatory agency."

Kayser said California's "insatiable" demands for natural gas has required a 400 per cent increase in the last 10 years. These demands, he added, have made it necessary to compete vigorously for gas in the producing field and to meet rising field prices resulting from competition for available supplies.

California's size, growth and consumer need for gas demand that the state be connected to all major sources of natural gas within economic reach, Kayser said.

Eighteen major corporations operate research laboratories in or near Baltimore.

FIVE CITIES IN MARIN WIN PEDESTRIAN SAFETY AWARDS

Five cities in Marin County have received "excellence of pedestrian protection" awards from the American Automobile Assn. for their achievement of no pedestrian deaths in 1959.

The cities are Mill Valley, Sausalito, San Anselmo, San Rafael and Fairfax.

More than 1,700 cities competed in the annual nationwide pedestrian program appraisal, which is sponsored in northern and central California by the California State Automobile Assn.

Mill Valley has now achieved the record of nine years without a single pedestrian fatality. Sausalito has gone five years without a fatality; San Anselmo, four; San Rafael and Fairfax, two years.

Pedestrian fatalities dropped to an all-time low last year, reported the CSAA. When the AAA pedestrian program was launched in 1937, a total of 15,500 pedestrians were killed in traffic accidents, as compared with 7,750 in 1959.

Permit Granted Again For School At Church

A use permit was granted yesterday for the second time to permit establishment of an elementary school on part of the St. Hilary Church site at 761 Hilary Drive, Tiburon.

With recommendation of the staff of the Marin County Planning Commission, which noted enlargement of the site by 2.32 acres to a total of 6.36 acres since an earler use permit was granted in 1952, the commision unanimously approved.

The earlier permit was for church, school and rectory, but due to a change in zoning as well as site enlargement, another consideration was legally required.

It was found that the project would not be detrimental to the area nor will it interfere with a proposed extension of Hilary Drive.

The plan is to establish a school giving first through eighth grade instruction with maximum enrollment of 400, and a convent for teacher residences in conjunction with an already established church and rectory.

The commission also approved Fred T. Houweling's application for a permit for grading on the site in preparation for the school.

Committee Will Seek Field For Little League

A committee of the San Rafael Little League will meet with city council representative Charles W. Aby to see what can be done to provide a ball field for the young baseball enthusiasts.

This was decided last night after more than an hour of discussion before the San Rafael City Council.

A big delegation of Little League backers, headed by Roland D. Hellman, asked for city help in improving grounds at the high school or Davidson School, or in setting up a ball field on three acres of leased land near the San Rafael sewage treatment plant. Hellman presented a petition carrying about 500 signatures.

Councilman Aby declared that in past years, Little League officials had indicated they want to be completely independent and do not want to be under supervision of the city recreation department. Therefore, the city could not help Little League because that would be a gift of public funds to help a private organization, said Aby.

Hellman, acting chairman of National Little League, and Mark Brown, president of American Little League, said they have no objection to supervision by the city recreation department.

Mayor John F. McInnis pointed out that if the city recreation department uses public funds to set up a ball park, all residents of San Rafael must be allowed to use the facilities, not only Little League.

With that understanding, the mayor asked Hellman to appoint a committee of Little League officials. Councilman Aby said he would be happy to serve as the council's representative to meet with the committee.

Some of the possibilities discussed last night were these:

1. Improving and turfing open area at the San Rafael High School. Hellman said open space is available, but the field is dirt, and too rocky for baseball use.

2. Improving and turfing open area at Davidson School.

3. Purchase or long-term lease of three acres of land near the sewage treatment plant, off San Quentin road. Irving Litchfield, owner of Bermuda Palms, said the Kerner-Bellam Estate, which owns the land, has offered the three acres for lease at $1 per year. He said the lease offer is for 10 years, but it can probably be extended for another 10 years.

Little League backers have already put about $12,000 worth of fill, into this acreage, said Litchfield, but it will take another $10,000 to $15,000 to complete the fill and put in bleachers and turf.

Litchfield strongly urged the city to help set up a ball park there. Outright purchase of the land would come to about $50,000, he estimated.

IGNORES PROGRESS

Gov. Brown Rips Law On Criminally Insane

ATASCADERO (AP)—It's time for society to treat criminals according to 20th century standards, says Gov. Edmund G. Brown.

In fixing responsibility, punishment and treatment of offenders, Brown declared yesterday, "we completely ignore a century and a quarter of scientific progress."

The governor made the comments as he opened a two-day symposium at Atascadero State Hospital on treatment of the criminally insane.

Brown urged the lawyers, psychiatrists and law officers present to work for a new definition of chiminal insanity which makes use of modern psychiatry.

California's test, based on an 18th century English rule, is merely whether the accused knows right from wrong.

Brown called the test "completely inadequate" because it fails to recognize "that mental illness does contribute directly and prozimately to criminal behavior."

He cited the case of Stephen Nash, judged sane under the current test, but who laughed and boasted of killing 11 persons before going to death in San Quention Prison's gas chamber.

Nash, Brown noted, had told authorities that "everyone knows it's wrong to kill, and if you want carcasses, you've got to give your own."

Nash was one of 29 condemned men who have come before Brown for clemency in his 18 months as governor — presenting Brown said, "a picture of gross abnormality."

"It is difficult to understand how we can permit these condemned creatures to be pronounced sufficiently free in will and choice to be responsible, even to their deaths, according to rules and procedures which completely ignore a century and a quarter of scientific progress," Brown added.

"It is painfully clear that most of the crime in our midst is due in whole or part to mental and emotional instability."

While not agreeing that all offenders are sick and the concept of criminal justice should thus be abolished, Brown noted that we must "rid ourselves of superstition and archaic methodology which do not help, but hinder."

Federal Judge David L. Bazelon of Washington, D.C., told the symposium society justifies punishment on the theory it deters crime. But it does no such thing, he asserted.

He called for true rehabilitation centers instead of prisons "where the youthful offender, having been processed through the homosexual auction block, will be taught the ways of crime and perversity by a hardened expert."

Council Rolls Snake Eyes At Gambling

The Novato City Council passed an ordinance against professional gambling at its meeting last night after noting there had been no protests against the proposed law.

Only three spectators attended last night's meeting. Meetings usually are held on Tuesday, but the day was changed for this single meeting.

Councilmen set for July 26 a hearing on a proposed annexation of about 10 acres of land to the city. It would be the first annexation since Novato became a city in January. The 10 acres is near the northwest corner of the city, east of Sutro Avenue and south of Center Road.

In other business, the Novato council:

1. Agreed by resolution to make Elm Street, a boulevard-type street, one-way on each side. Cost will be $165 for seven street signs.
2. Informally agreed that budget discussion would begin at next week's meeting, at 8 p.m., Tuesday, at the city hall.
3. Noted that residents could get dog licenses at the city hall.
4. Approved the county civil defense plan, without reading it, on assurance that it is a standard agreement and could be modified.
5. Received a letter from realty broker Al Bellucci saying that plans for a medical-dental building at Rowland Boulevard and Novato Boulevard had been dropped.
6. Received a letter from Dr. John Siemens, manager of the Novato Hospital now being constructed, saying that he will protest the city planning commission's conditions for street improvement near the hospital.
7. Agreed to visit a trailer court operated by Gus Ravetz. Ravetz recently was turned down by the planning commission on a request for rezoning which would make it possible to build a 120-place court in the city.
8. Approved various traffic ordinances, which generally would formalize existing usage.

The touring group's program will include 12 vocal selections, two string quartet numbers and organ selections. The vocal feature church music classics, arrangements of familiar hymns and Negro spirituals.

The quartet is on tour, giving nightly concerts and speaking to prospective students about the college.

The members will be entertained at the home of Janet Christiansen of Corte Madera and will attend a barbecue supper with high school seniors and college youth of the church.

Driver In Church Robbery Draws Year In County Jail

Robert Alexander Donohue, 20, of San Rafael, who drove the getaway car after his accomplice held up St. Rita's Church during a whist party last month, drew a year in county jail yesterday.

Judge N. Charles Brusatori of Marin Superior Court also put Donohue on three years probation after completion of the jail term. He gets credit for 42 days already spent in jail.

Donohue's accomplice, a 16-year-old from San Rafael, was previously committed to the California Youth Authority. The youngster shoved a sawed-off, loaded rifle against the stomach of a parishioner at the Fairfax church and ran out with the contribution box. It contained only 25 cents. Sheriff's deputies caught the two in Marinwood about a half hour after the holdup.

James Bates McIndoe Claims Bride In Portland, Ore.

A wedding of interest to Marinites took place in Portland, Ore., on Saturday when Judith Wayneflete Patten of that city became the bride of James Bates McIndoe. Bates, as he is known, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. James F. McIndoe of Sausalito.

The bride, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Francis Patten Jr., was given in marriage by her father. The 4 o'clock double ring ceremony took place at Trinity Episcopal Church with Rev. Neville Blunt officiating. The flower decorations were all white and the aisle candlelighted.

Judith's gown was of fine white Skinner satin with full princess lines, a bateau neckline and long, fitted sleeves. The bouffant skirt ended in a chapel train. The bride's "something borrowed" was an heirloom veil taken from the Portland Art Museum for the occasion. Nearly 100 years old, it is of fine Mechlin lace with scalloped scroll and flower motifs and belonged to the Failing family of Portland. At least 30 family brides have worn the veil. Judith's bouquet was white roses and stephanotis.

The maid of honor was Margaret Patten, one of Judith's sisters. Her seven bridesmaids were Anne McInoe (Bates' sister) of Sausalito, Deborah and Alice Patten, Leslie Beebe, Cynthia Staley and Mesdames Robert Gortmaker and Craig MacCloskey, all of Portland. All the attendants wore identical dresses of white flocked organdy with scoop neck and full skirts and carried arm bouquets of red roses with wreaths of red rose buds as hair pieces.

Stuart McIndoe of Sausalito was his brother's best man, and the ushers were Peter Smith of Ross; Robert Pool, Berkeley; Joseph Bingaman, Oakland; Gordon Beebe and George F. Patten III, Portland and Dr. James Burnell and Kermit Brandt of Seattle.

The mother of the bride, Mrs. Patten, wore a three tiered sheaf dress of blue lace with hat and shoes to match. Her long gloves were cream kid and her flowers, white orchids. Mrs. McIndoe chose beige silk organza with full skirt and three quarter sleeves. Her matching accessories included cymbidium orchids.

The reception, following the ceremony was held at the Portland Garden Club where 750 guests watched the cutting of the all white, tiered cake containing trinkets. For her going away outfit, the bride wore a pink cotton sheath with a light wool coat in deeper pink. Her hat, shoes and accessories were beige and her flowers, white roses. The couple's destination was a Canadian resort until they return early in July to make their home in Seattle where Bates is employed at American Radiator Standard Sanitary Corp.

The new Mrs. McIndoe was a graduate (cum laude) this month at University of Portland. Following the announcement of her engagement last December, she was introduced in Sausalito by Mr. and Mrs. McIndoe at a cocktail party in January. The bride's grandparents are Major and Mrs. George Francis Patten of Del Mar, Calif. Dr. and Mrs. Otto Pfleuger of San Francisco and Mr. and Mrs. Roger Barker of Oakland are her uncles and aunts.

Bates is a graduate of Tamalpais High School and the University of California at Berkeley where he was a member of Chi Phi and Wing and Helmet. His grandparents were the late Gen. and Mrs. James F. McIndoe of Coronado, and Mrs. Floyd Wentworth of Portland and the late Mr. Wentforth. His uncle and aunt are Mr. and Mrs. Philip Church Smith of Ross.

Hawaiians To Fly In For Luau On Sunday

Flying in from Hawaii to participate in the luau to be presented on Sunday on the grounds of St. Peter Chanel Seminary, 1675 Grand Avenue, San Rafael, will be 36 Hawaiians, singers, dancers and chefs.

The luau, being given to raise money for a chapel at the seminary, will have all the glamor and color of the islands, according to Rev. Edward Donze, vice provincial of the Marist Fathers. The Hawaiians, Father Donze's parishioners when he was pastor of the Star of the Sea Parish in Honolulu, are coming here at their own expense.

The event will start at 10 a.m. with the traditional preparation and pit cooking of hogs and will continue throughout the day and evening.

Guests can enjoy the beautiful grounds for picnicking, cool off with a refreshing swim in the outdoor Olympic swimming pool, take out time for the cocktail hour, and then partake of many kinds of delicious tropical foods and delicacies. The public is invited. Informal dress is suggested.

Hawaiian entertainment will be featured during the feast. 'Be A Star Spangled Beauty' Theme For Fashion Luncheon

Wish you may, wish you might "Be A Star Spangled Beauty?" Not just for the fourth of July, but all summer long!

Well, it's as easy as lighting a firecracker, says "Fashion Focus," and the popular poolside luncheon at Rickey's will prove it on Tuesday with a host of fashionable firecrackers and a patriotic salute to July 4.

Appropriately, the fashion luncheon under gay umbrellas around the pool will honor the Young Republicans of Marin, an enthusiastic, dedicated group who will become increasingly hard-at-work in this election year.

Summer flag wavers to keep star-spangled girls of all ages welcoming a morning or evening star will be from San Rafael's attractive new women's shop.

Fashions with the biz, bang, boom of a roman candle to light a pool, patio, or party will swoosh patriotic 4th of Julver's through the long weekend and long past Labor Day.

To keep summer hair from looking like the burnt end of a firecracker, a Kentfield coiffure salon will create vacation hair styles for the attractive models, all members of the Young Republicans.

Reservations to enjoy the fashion luncheon in its salute to the Young Republicans and the 4th of July may be made by calling Rickey's. Luncheon is served at 12:30 with the poolside fashions at 1 p.m.

Nurses Hear Reports Of Convention

Marin County nurses were challenged to support the goals set in motion at their American Nurses Assn. Convention, Mary Clark, R.N., reported to District 28 Friday night.

Mrs. Clark was representative from Marin County to the recent national conclave at Miami Beach. These goals relate to research in nursing, a firm stand on health insurance, complete integration in all state associations, economic security for nurses, and proposed goals for better nursing education.

The American Nurses Foundation will seek one million dollars for research in nursing in a nation wide fund raising program. Mrs. Lionne Conta, R.N., was appointed local chairman of this drive. Proposed research will include projects in nursing which will affect the health and well-being of every individual in the nation.

Mrs. Ellen Bergman, R.N., president of Marin County's District 28, asked for nurse volunteers to help staff the first aid booth at the Marin Art and Garden Fair.

All local registered nurses are invited to affiliate themselves professionally through membership in Marin County's Nurses' Association.

Old Shoes

NEW YORK (UPI)—Old shoes get in on the wedding scene for traditional reasons. The tradition holds that by casting a shoe, the bride's father indicates he is passing on his authority to the bridegroom.

MRS. KENDALL L. DINWIDDIE, the former Barbara Sue Alpert of Corona Del Mar. She was married recently to the son of Mrs. James K. Dinwiddie of San Rafael in a garden ceremony at Scripps College from which she graduated on June 10. The same day the bridegroom was graduated from California Institute of Technology.

Dinwiddie-Alpert Rite In Southern Garden

The Margaret Fowler Memorial Garden at Scripps College in Claremont was the picturesque setting for the recent wedding of Barbara Sue Alpert, who was graduated from the college, on June 10 and Kendall Lochridge Dinwiddie, who also on June 10 was graduated from the California Institute of Technology. His mother, Mrs. James K. Dinwiddie of San Rafael, formerly of Larkspur with other relatives, went south for the wedding.

Dr. Floyd Ross officiated at the double ring ceremony. The bride's white organza gown had a full train. Appliqued lace flowers were on the bodice. Over her hair was a long white lace mantilla she had bought in Madrid. She carried two white orchids backed with white carnations and encircled with stephanotis. Her uncle, Lawrence Weill of Bakersfield, gave her in marriage.

Mrs. Howard F. Mower of Wilmington, Del., sister of the bride, was matron of honor and bridesmaids were Elizabeth Avery of Pasadena, Patricia Binger of Riverside, Phyllis Stribley of Long Beach and Mrs. Murray Sherman of Pomona. All the attendants wore sheaths of white chiffon over taffeta and carried pink anthuriums with camellia leaves. Camellia leaves were on their bandeaux.

Richard Conser of Mountain View, a cousin of the bridegroom, was best man and guests were escorted by Stuart Goff of Los Angeles, Phillip Harriman of Berkeley, Michael Talcott of New York and Donald Reiterman of Pasadena.

Carol Roxanne Mower, niece of the bride, was flower girl. Her dress of imported Swiss organdy was edged with lace and a band of camellia leaves was on her hair.

Mrs. Lee Carlson of San Francisco, accompanied by her husband sang "One Heart, One Hand," Whither Thou Goest" and "The Lord's Prayer."

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Herbert A. Alpert of Corona Del Mar wore a pale blue dress of embossed Japanese silk and a matching hat of silk petals. To her pale blue bag a white orchid was attached. Her accessories were shocking pink.

The bridegroom's mother wore a turquoise silk organza sheath with matching hat and she had a white orchid corsage. A reception on the campus immediately followed the ceremony.

The newlyweds who are honeymooning in Northern California, will reside in Palo Alto. For her going away costume the bride wore a white linen sheath embroidered in blue, a white hat and frosted blue accessories.

The bride, who majored in history at Scripps, was president of Toll Hall.

The new benedict, who majored in mechanical engineering at Cal Tech, was social chairman of the Student Body there. His father was the late James K. Dinwiddie and he is the grandson of Mrs. James L. Dinwiddie of Petaluma and the late Mr. Dinwiddie and the late Mr. and Mrs. John R. Conser of Sausalito. The young man is a graduate of Sir Francis Drake High School.

Jay Irving, Janet Clivio Trade Vows

St. Raphael's Church was the locale of the recent wedding of Janet Ann Clivio and Roland D. (Jay) Irving Jr.

The bride, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Clivio of San Rafael, wore an embroidered white silk organza gown which ended in a chapel train. A coronet of pearls held her shoulder length veil and in her shower bouquet were white carnations, orchids and bouvardia.

The maid of honor, Denise Dell'Era, carried white daisies in a shell basket. She and the bridesmaids, Pauline Silva and Mrs. Richard Fraser, wore coral colored gowns of organza over taffeta. Their matching headdresses, outlined with pearls, held short veils. The bridesmaids had shell baskets filled with white and yellow daisies.

Andrew Irving was his brother's best man and ushers were Lawrence Reinhart and Gary Pierachini.

The bride was given in marriage by her father and the Rev. Richard S. Knapp officiated at the early afternoon ceremony which was followed by a reception at the Wye Club in San Rafael.

Both bride and bridegroom are graduates of San Rafael High School and Jay attended College of Marin. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Roland D. Irving of San Rafael. He has another brother, Geoffrey Irving.

The bride has one brother, Dennis Clivio.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Clivio wore a gown of pink organza over taffeta with matching accessories. The bridegroom's mother was gowned in white and cafe au lait organza. Both mothers had white orchid corsages.

Following a honeymoon in Southern California, the young couple will reside at 777 Meadowsweet Drive, Corte Madera.

'Pairables' To Sponsor Two Campers

One of the highlights of the recent dinner of "Pairables," couples' club of the First Baptist Church of Mill Valley, was announcement that offerings collected at each of the group's meetings are sufficient to send two children to the Redwood Glen Baptist Camp at Loma Mar this summer.

Members provided entertainment following the dinner at the church, which was attended by 50 people.

The program included a men's barbershop quartet composed of Peter Richardson, Edward Colburn, Logan McFadden and Roy Saxton; a clarinet number by Ted Blankenship; folk songs by Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Christiansen; a pantomime by Mr. and Mrs. Fred Carlson; a vocal duet by the Rev. and Mrs. James Reno; a blackboard sketch by Mrs. H. A. Huling; and a vocal solo by Edward Colburn.

Mrs. Edward Colburn was piano accompanist for these numbers.

Dramatic skits were staged by Mesdames Raleigh Young, William Lovvorn, Chester Bryson, Donald Erickson, Eugene Peterson, Walter Chappel, Miss Diane Friesen, and Messrs. Peter Richardson, Gordon Lindstrom, Walter Chappel, Quentin Anderson and Raleigh Young.

The program ended with a devotional talk by Dr. F. I. Drexler.

Why White?

NEW YORK (UPI)—In ancient Rome, a girl who married in any color but white was believed to have doomed the marriage to misery and unhappiness. During this time, purity also was associated with white.

Tamelpa Parlor Elects Officers

Mrs. Anthony Damazio was elected to succeed Mrs. John Guth as president of Mill Valley's Tamelpa Parlor, Native Daughters of the Golden West, at its recent meeting in the Outdoor Art clubhouse.

An initiation will take place at the next regular meeting on June 28. Secret pals also will be revealed and new ones chosen for the coming year.

Serving on the refreshment committee were Mesdames Damazio, Stinchcomb, Jack Lillestol and John De Carlo.

Tribal Custom

NEW YORK (UPI)—One of the tribal customs of the Kaffirs of Africa is that the bride dances around her sitting husband and kicks dust in his face to tell him her love is not easily won.

Ten Watched

NEW YORK (UPI) — According to ancient Roman law, ten witnesses had to be present during the nuptial ceremony. Otherwise, the marriage wasn't legal.

Northgate Summer Lunch Series Begins July 20 At Ross Center

The 14th annual series of summer luncheons and fashion shows sponsored by the Northgate Groups of the Marin Art and Garden Center begins July 20 on the center grounds in Ross.

Auxiliaries of Ross General, Marin General and San Rafael General hospitals will be in charge of the Aug. 10 program.

A Northgate member will bring fall fashions from her shop in Kentfield.

Dentists and Lawyers Wives, and the Jolly Roger and Tom Thumb chapters of the Children's Home Society will provide volunteers for the final luncheon on Aug. 17 when fashions from a store in San Francisco will be shown.

The Wednesday luncheons begin at 12:30 p.m. Reservations for the outdoor event, which must be made in advance, may be obtained at the Art and Garden Center, Ross.

SOMETHING NEW IN APARTMENTS ATOP SAN RAFAEL HILLS

An Olympic sized swimming pool occupies the center of the enclosed yard of tthe Tropicana Apartments, which were opened for occupancy last week by developer Paul Sade at 100 Bayo Vista Way, off East Crescent Drive above the Miracle Mile in San Rafael. Another unusual feature of each of the apartment units is a "moving wall" which can be opened to make an extension of the living room or closed to create a den, guest room or office. The apartments sit atop a hill with views in all directions. There are one, two and three-bedroom units.

With Twins, It Is Important That You Don't Play Favorites

"We expected one baby," a father writes, "but we got twin boys. They're two weeks old. How do you raise twins? Can you help us?"

I'll try. For many twins the big problem is a lack of love. Babies need to feel that they can monopolize their moms. But twins must share, and they know it. They may not get the satisfactions they need.

You and your wife should spend time daily alone with each baby. Cuddle each one, and talk and sing to him. Let him realize he is a very special person. Be careful not to play favorites. You'll build emotional security that way.

Another problem is their feeling toward each other. One twin will be the leader, the other the follower. The leader may be too aggressive. The follower may be too meek. Probably you should separate them part of the time, from the start. Let each one develop his own personality. I know this will be hard to do. Most parents want to keep twins together. Often it is a mistake.

Think a long time before you put them into the same room at school. That may be the best thing to do. They may need each other too much to take separation. But if they can get along in different rooms, they should be allowed to do so. Each boy needs to learn to live independently. Your twins aren't two peas in a pod. They're two separate human beings.

Be sure their mother conserves her strength. Help her all you can. Hire diaper laundry service, if possible. Find a good baby sitter, so she can get away occasionally. She needs your love and support. Good luck!

READERS' FORUM

(Q) "Why are some twins so much alike, and others so different?" S.J.M.

(A) There are two kinds of twins, identical and dissimilar. Identical twins come from the splitting of the germ cells. They are alike as the two gloves in a pair. Dissimilar twins come from different cells. They are no more alike than any brothers or sisters.

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE — Here's how to work it:

One letter simply stands for another. In this sample A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophes, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

State's Food Said Free Of Pest Killers

SACRAMENTO (AP) — California's food supply is free of excessive chemical pest killers, but constant research and enforcement is needed to keep it that way, the state director of agriculture said today.

William E. Warne, in a progress report prepared for the State Board of Agriculture, said food processors are observing high standards of quality and safety.

"Consumers, a group that includes us all, can rely on California food products with confidence," Warne said. "It is more plentiful and better than ever, and it is safe."

Warne blamed "sensational writers featuring irresponsible statements" for publicity about excessive pesticide residues.

But he added: "Notwithstanding this encouraging situation, the need remains for much additional painstaking research, strict enforcement, thoroughgoing inspections, continuing testing and a general alertness with regard to this whole matter."

Warne said no decision has been reached yet on an April hearing of proposals to bring the state's allowable chemical tolerances into conformity with the stricter federal standards.

"But the staff is working on the matter," he said.

He said about 900 lots of fresh fruits and vegetables have been sampled by the State Agriculture Department this year, and 13 showed more than allowable residues of pesticides.

Tests were made of 156 samples of milk and milk products, Warne said. Of those, 91 showed the presence of DDT, and 32 exceeded permissible limits.

"Tests of milk and milk products are made continually, and when violations are found the milk products are impounded," he said.

Inspectors visited 6,441 dairy farms in the state and found 2,954 using sprays containing DDT around food supplies for the animals.

Dairymen were warned to stop feeding the animals any materials contaminated with DDT.

Warne said a warning is usually enough, but four farmers have been prosecuted and fined for clear-cut tolerance violations this year.

Valley Association Allows Delegate Vote Privilege

The San Geronimo Valley Assn. last night authorized its representative on the valley's master plan committee, president Leslie S. Stone, to vote as he sees fit on questions arising before the committee, reported Mrs. Georgette Vilas, secretary.

The alternative would have been to check back with the association before casting a vote as its representative on the master plan committe, she said.

In other business last night, the association voted to send a letter of thanks to Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Roy for use of their barn for a June 11 barn dance; voted to ask Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Co. the results of a survey of phone demand in the San Geronimo Valley, and agreed to vote July 18 on proposed by-law changes.

Study Shows Men Who Smoke More Out-Going

NEW YORK (UPI)—A new statistical check-up on a single phase of human behavior suggests men who smoke cigarets are more out-going, less rigid emotionally, but no more neurotic than men who don't smoke anything.

The best known of the single-phase statistics are those of the late Dr. Alfred Kinsey on sexual behavior. This one was on smoking behavior and carries the scientific prestige of its author, Dr. H. J. Eysenck who has an international reputation in the science of psychology.

He began with his own much-discussed dimensional theory of human personality which he has been formulating for some 20 years. Reduced to its nub, it holds that many behaviorial traits are in-born — influenced, perhaps, but not formed by environmental circumstances.

Among these traits are those of being extraverted (out-going) or introverted (turned inward or the self). Mental rigidity and the emotional instabilities lumped under the word, neurotic, have in-born components, too, according to the plausibly argued theory of Eysenck.

On this theoretic basis, he figured extraverts should smoke cigarets in numbers matching their degrees of extraversion, since extraverts "concentrate on objects in the outside world." He reasoned further the neurotic would smoke more than the non-neurotic because "smoking reduces the strength of an aroused emotion."

As for the mentally rigid, he based himself on "the fact that smoking as indeed all pleasurable activities, tends to be regarded as slightly sinful, and would therefore tend to be shunned by the rigid, puritanically minded type of person."

The next step was to prove or disprove these ideas in people. Toward that end, he and his associates worked out an elaborate questionnaire designed to draw from answerers their degrees of extraversion, introversion, neurotic imbalance, and rigidity of mind.

The answerers were divided among heavy, medium and light cigaret smokers, pipe smokers, and non-smokers. These divisions were sub-divided into age groups (40 to 59 and 60-70), occupations, and social class. In all, some 2,400 men answered. Our interest is in the results.

These hooked up cigaret-smoking with extraversion. With less certainty, they connected non-smoking with emotional rigidity. But they failed to show a link between cigaret smoking and neurotic personalities. However, they showed pipe-smokers were highly introverted, that is, turned inward.

Eysenck said the results demonstrated there are essential inborn personality differences "between smokers and non-smokers, and between cigaret smokers and pipe-smokers." Each is a "kind" of person distinct from any of the others.

His results supported the critics of statistics connecting cigaret smoking with lung cancer, who argue they don't show cigaret smoking causes lung cancer. The statistics could show, they say, that one kind of person is both more given to cigaret smoking and more susceptible to lung cancer than other kinds. However, there presently is no evidence that any personality type is more susceptible to cancer than other types.

Eysenck is a professor at the institute of psychiatry in London where the study was made. The results were published in Britain.

2 Fiberglass Firms Form New Company

Kimball Manufacturing Corp. of San Rafael and Marplex Co. of El Segundo today announced formation of a new corporation for the manufacture and marketing of fiberglass decorative accessories.

The firm, to be known as Artline-Kimball of California, will have headquarters in El Segundo, where the products such as planters, casual serving pieces and trays will be manufactured.

Operations begin July 1, announced William Kimball, president of the Kimball firm, and Erich Marx, president of Marplex.

Both companies will continue to manufacture their own lines of fiberglass products other than decorative accessories. Kimball's primary products include water skis and outdoor billboard trim.

The new firm plans to build new and larger headquarters in Los Angeles, with construction scheduled to begin about July 1.

Planners Postpone Tiburon Master Plan Decisions

Because of a special meeting tomorrow of the Tiburon Coordinating Council to review proposals on amendment of the Tiburon master plan, the Marin County Planning Commission deferred decision on most of the impending changes yesterday and will consider the matter again July 12.

Peter MacGowan, council chairman, wrote to the commission to notify of the projected meeting and ask delay.

Change in location of the Strawberry Recreation Area is among the matters under consideration, as well as revised or alternative traffic circulation in the vicinity of the recreation area and Rolling Hills and Marinero subdivisions.

The commission voted to reconsider the map of Tara Hills subdivision, in Tiburon, allowing construction of 24-foot unpaved roads in view of the difficult nature of the terrain.

Place In Comedy

Pvt. Camillo M. (Benny) Mello, formerly of Woodacre and San Rafael, is representing the Alaska Command in the comedy category of the All-Army Entertainment Contest finals being held at Fort Belvoir, Va. He appeared in productions at San Rafael High School, College of Marin and San Francisco State College before entering the Army in November.

CROWD'S ON HAND FOR PRIZE GIVE-AWAY

There were plenty of people on hand as prizes in a Wilshire Holiday Service Stations contest were announced at the station at 451 Francisco Boulevard in San Rafael. But none of the throng had the number entitling the winner to a free vacation trip to Europe. The winning number has been posted in all seven Wilshire Holiday stations in Marin, announced Bill Vinson, supervisor, and the prize may be claimed by tomorrow night. Other principal winners were Donna Rose of 121 Woodland Avenue, San Anselmo, who got a set of tires, and Bill Weems of 120 Forest Avenue, San Anselmo, who received an electric razor.

West Marin School Board Adopts New Math Program

The West Marin School District board adopted a new mathematics program, including the use of exactly calibrated rods which help primary children acquire a feel of numbers as well as recognition.

The new program will emphasize understanding arithmetic, rather than rote memorization, Supt. George Stratton said.

It will include the use of the Scott-Foresman series of textbooks, "Seeing through Arithmetic," and the Cuisenaire-Gattegno rods, named for their inventor and chief exponent. The rods have been in use on an experimental basis in San Jose, Dixie and Novato School Districts.

"We feel children of today can add and subtract a column of figures without trouble. Knowing how to apply the knowledge is of more importance," Stratton said.

The rods will be used mostly in the first and second grades. The book series will be used initially in the third, sixth and seventh grades, and each year thereafter a new grade will be added.

The board, meeting last Friday, expressed approval of Stratton's report on the achievement texting program this year and asked him to continue his research next year.

The superintendent and Clerk Donald J. McIssac were named a committee to contact the Point Reyes School District about possible annexation of that district to West Marin. The matter has been discussed unofficially.

Stratton was asked to contact several local contractors about the possibility of constructing a temporary wall through the old auditorium to get additional classroom space.

The old auditorium was originally designed as a kindergarten and has been in full time use as a classroom.

The board also:

1. Approved a contract with the county superintendent's office for audio-visual materials and services next year and with the county library for library materials and services.
2. Voted to increase the district's liability limits from $500,000 to $1,000,000 per accident.
3. Hired Donald Odell of Inverness as a school bus-driver-custodian.
4. Approved a notice of completion on the new multi-purpose room and classroom.
5. Decided to meet next on July 5 instead of the July 4 holiday.

SMOKE PALL HANGS OVER FIRE—The smoke was visible for long distances as fire ate a half-mile swath of dry grass and brush up the hillside from Las Gallinas Valley to the ridge above Mount Tamalpais Cemetery yesterday. Youngsters watch across gulley to south of blaze. Firemen said children with matches may have been responsible for the big fire.

Brush, Grass Fire Perils Cemetery; Children Blamed

Flames Burn Off 50 Acres, Race Up Hillside Near Terra Linda

A stubborn brush and grass fire, blamed on children, broke out in the Terra Linda annex to San Rafael yesterday and roared to the top of the hill above Mount Tamalpais Cemetery, burning over 50 acres.

The embers were still smoldering this morning, with firement standing by.

Only a fire break atop the ridge kept the blaze from sweeping down into the cemetery, declared Fire Chief C. M. Johansen.

CHILDREN SEEN

The alarm was telephoned to the San Rafael Fire Department at 2:17 p.m. by an unidentified woman who said she had seen children running from the area as the flames broke out.

Chief Johansen and County Fire Chief Charles A. Reilley, who sent trucks to assist in fighting the blaze, joined a plea to parents to educate their children against playing with matches.

"Most of the outdoor fires this season have been caused by children with matches," said Reilley. He and Johansen urged parents "to impress upon their children the danger of fire to lives and property."

STARTS IN GULCH

The blaze began in a gulch about 200 feet south of Devon Drive, in a new Terra Linda subdivision being developed by Eichler Homes. Pushed by a south wind, it started eating rapidly up the hillside, then spread to the east as the wind changed.

Two trucks and eight men from the San Rafael Fire Department were joined by two trucks and six men from the county fire department in a battle that lasted more than two hours before the flames were brought under control, and nearly four hours before the fire was extinguished.

A half mile strip, as wide as 400 feet in some places, was burned.

Battalion Chief Walter B. Vaning was in direct charge of the city crews in the battle, with Asst. Chief Louis H. Bloom directing county firefighters.

Chief Reilley praised the "remarkable and successful" efforts of firemen of both departments in stopping the "extremely dangerous fire."

Herter Says No More Goodwill Trips Due

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Secretary of State Christian A. Herter told Congress today that Presdient Eisenhower is abandoning personal high-level diplomacy and plans no further goodwill trips to other countries.

Herter told a Senate appropriations subcommittee the administration will return to "traditional channels and procedures of international contact" and put increased emphasis on these procedures as a means to better relations with Russia and "resolve outstanding issues."

Herter said damage to U. S. prestige in the Far East as a result of the forced cancellation of the president's visit to Tokyo has been "overdrawn."

Defending the administration's foreign policy against Democratic criticism, Herter denied "that this program has been a great flop." He acknowledged "There have been some setbacks," however, and admitted that U. S. officials "misgauged" the political turmoil in Japan which blocked Eisenhower's trip to that country.

"But despite our deep disappointment at the outcome of the summit," Herter said, "and despite the propaganda campaign being waged against us, it appears that the basic conditions of the world situation have not so far been greatly changed."

Herter admitted under critical questioning by subcommittee Chairman Lyndon B. Johnson (D-Tex.) that the State Department misgauged the size of the Japanese riots which led to cancellation of Eisenhower's visit and disregarded recommendation of high congressional leaders that the trip be canceled earlier.

Johnson commented that "not only was our judgment bad, but our information was bad."

Johnson reminded Herter that Chairman Richard B. Rus-

Marin Bakes As Summer Makes Debut

Summer arrived today amid a sizzling heat wave.

The season changed officially at 2:43 a.m. today.

Today's high temperatives are expected to match yesterday's, when the mercury rose to 100 degrees in San Anselmo.

Other Marin communities sweltered yesterday, but to a lesser degree. San Rafael's high was 97; Novato, 96; Woodacre, 95; and Tiburon, 87.

Barometric pressure inland was higher than along the coast and this prevented cool sea winds from moving inshore. San Pablo Bay this morning was as calm as a pond.

By 11 a.m. today the temperature in downtown San Francisco was 79 and the smog count in the Mission District was an irritating .33.

The Weather Bureau in San Francisco held out hope that barometric conditions would change tomorrow, bringing cooler weather to the Bay Area.

SWEDE SAYS HE'S EAGER FOR REMATCH

NEW YORK (AP)—Ingemar Johansson, shorn of his world heavyweight crown by Floyd Patterson last night, said today he would like to fight his conqueror again for the title "the sooner the better."

The dimpled Swede looked refreshed after what he called a good night's sleep. The only visible mark on him after his fifth round knockout was a slightly puffed eye.

"Patterson was fresher and stronger this time," Johansson said. "He caught me with a good punch and that was that.

"Maybe next time it will be different."

The ex-champion did not speak as confidently or as cockily as in the past but there was no mistaking the fact that he looked forward eagerly to a third encounter with the only man who has ever beaten him in 24 fights.

JOHN ANGELONI
His first public office

Garage Owner Appointed To Novato Council

John Angeloni, who had never held or run for public office, was named to the Novato City Council last night.

He will fill the unexpired two-year term of Councilman Harvey J. Vicchio, who resigned at last week's meeting because of a coming business transfer to Sacramento.

Angeloni, 50, has lived in Novato for eight years. He owns the Nave Garage in the city and is the Novato Dodge car dealer.

DOES HIS JOB

"I'm not politically ambitious; when there's a job to do, I do it," he said today in comment on his appointment.

Angeloni is a non-practicing attorney who hopes "to go back into law." He quit high school for financial reasons and began work as an office boy with Greyhound Lines. He finished high school by studying at night, and continued his studies to receive a law degree from University of San Francisco after seven years of night school.

ROSE FROM RANKS

He rose from office boy "through the shop" to become an attorney for the bus lines. Eight years ago he decided to go into business for himself and moved to Novato, where he briefly practiced law. He has lived in the bay area all his life.

In Novato, he has been president of the Chamber of Commerce, and has been elected a chamber director three times. He is a member of the Lions Club, Druids and Knights of Columbus.

Angeloni and his wife and five children reside at 14 Villa Place.

Rocky: Reorganize U.S. Government

BINGHAMTON, N.Y. (UPI)—Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller today proposed a sweeping governmental reorganization that would give near-presidential powers in national security and international affairs to a new post of "first secretary of the government."

He recommended downgrading the office of secretary of state to a day-to-day conduct of diplomacy.

His plan also would reduce the office of the vice presidency to the stand-by status it had before Vice President Richard M. Nixon was given an active role by President Eisenhower.

In a speech at a Rotary Club luncheon here, Rockefeller ranged far and wide in his strongest statement since he challenged Nixon to speak out on important issues before the GOP National Convention begins July 25.

Rockefeller's other proposals included:

Making the chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff responsible for the development of over-all strategic doctrine and designating him as principal adviser to the secretary of defense and the president.

Organizing the staff of the joint chiefs on a unified basis under the direct authority of the chairman.

Unifying the armed forces by empowering the Department of Defense to promote any officers above the rank of brigadier general, or the equivalent, as officers of the armed forces of the United States, not the individual service of their earlier careers.

Giving the secretary of defense full authority over all military research, development and procurement.

Leftists Vow To Mob Kishi Out Of Office

TOKYO (UPI) — Tens of thousands of leftists jammed Japan's railway stations today to back a six-million-general transportation strike against Premier Nobusuke Kishi and the U.S.-Japan security treaty.

The fanatical left-wing Zengakuren students announced they would storm Parliment later today with 200,000 students and laborers in an effort to bring down the Kishi government through mob violence.

Police were prepared for trouble and bloodshed in what might be an even more serious demonstration than the one June 15 that finally caused the Japanese government to cancel President Eisenhower's visit to Japan. One person was killed and 1,000 were injured in that riot.

Boat Owners Plagued By Burglaries

Reports of boat burglaries continued to pour in today from San Rafael Yacht Harbor on Francisco Boulevard.

Police said three more boat owners complained that their cruisers were entered probably during the weekend. Fishing gear, transistor radios and binoculars are missing.

William Charles Gardner of 138 Auburn Street, San Rafael, told police about $85 worth of equipment is gone from his Irene Ann. Poles, reels, binoculars, flashlight, captain's cap, and transistor radio are missing.

Thomas Clement Hotchkin of 24 San Gabriel Court, Fairfax, also reported his fishing gear and binoculars gone. The burglars had apparently used kitchen matches to light their way through the cabin.

Maj. Robert Paul Senecal of 1404 Dawes Street, Novato, reported the loss of rods, reels, tool box, and radio gone from his boat. The intruders also drank two cans of beer and two soft drinks. Cigarette butts were strewn all over the boat.

Nixon Asserts Russia Can't Pass Us Up

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Vice President Richard M. Nixon moved from agriculture to the general economy today in his series of speeches on national issues.

In a speech prepared for delivery at the 40th annual convention of the National Junior Chamber of Commerce, Nixon said: "Mr. Khrushchev boasts that he will catch us and pass us economically in 7 or 10 years. By any projection that can be applied, there is not a possibility that the Soviet economy will overtake our own at any time in this century."

SHOULD HELP

Nixon said this government to prevent lopsided growth should help out whenever the job was too big for private industry.

"We must not hesitate," said the man who expects to be the Republican candidate for president, "to resort to government action where it provides the best road to progress."

This was billed by Nixon as a major speech on this nation's economic growth. But, typical of speeches at this stage of the presidential campaign, Nixon offered few specifics.

FIRST SPEECH

His first speech, delivered in Minot, N.D., last night, was significant both for what he said and what he didn't say.

He called on the free world to turn its food surpluses over to the United Nations to feed the one billion persons who go to bed hungry each night.

But he didn't give his stand on price supports, a controversial subject in the farmlands.

In other political developments, Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York, Nixon's only rival for the Republican presidential nomination, said he would campaign nationally for the party's candidates in the fall.

Rockefeller's statement drew an official cheer from GOP National Chairman Thurston B. Morton. But some Republicans viewed a national tour with misgivings.

STRAY TOO FAR?

They were afraid the governor might stray too far from the crucial New York electorate. They feel Nixon, the likely nominee, would need the state's 45 electoral votes to win the election.

In the Democratic race, Mayor Robert Wagner of New York annnounced his support of Sen. John F. Kennedy of Massachusetts for the presidential nomination.

Wagner is expected to be chairman of New York 114-vote delegation at the national convention in Los Angeles July 11.

SENATE APPROVES TAXES EXTENSION

Measure Keeps Corporation Income Rates; 'Loophole' Amendments To Add $650 Million

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate has ended it annual tax fight by voting to increase revenues rather than cut them as it did a year ago.

The tax bill, passed 84-0 last night, not only extended present rates on corporation income and excise taxes yielding 41 billion dollars, but added an estimated 650 million of additional revenues.

President Eisenhower had asked extension of present taxes for another year.

A worsening inernational situation combined with recent Senate votes to increase money for defense, health research, education and federal pay led the Senate to swell the Treasury's income in the bill.

The 650 million was added through adoption of three or a series of what their sponsors called loophole-closing amendments advocated by Democrats seeking to avoid a tag of fiscal irresponsibility for their party.

The fate of these in conference with the House is dubious, since that branch had given advance notice it was not inclined to accept any tax amendments.

In disposing of the bill in a 14-hour session, the Senate passed one of the major items it had to handle before final adjournment.

The bill extends for another year the corporation income tax and excises on liquor, wine, beer, cigarettes, autos, and auto parts and accessories.

These all are Korean War rates. They have been extended each year since 1954.

The bill also continues for another year 10 per cent levies on local telephone service, telegrams and passenger fares made effective during World War II.

The Senate Finance Committee had recommended these be allowed to die June 30, at a cost of 752 million a year.

Last year the Senate voted to repeal both the telephone and travel levies. In the conference with the House the effective date was moved up to July 1, 1960.

These were the loophole amendments adopted by the Senate:

By Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy (D-Minn.), to repeal the 4 per cent tax credit on stock dividend income, bringing in 350 million dollars a year.

By Sen. Joseph S. Clark (D-Pa.), to outlaw many entertainment items now eligible as business deductions, bringing in 260 million annually.

By Sen. Albert Gore (D-Tenn.), to provide that the percentage depletion allowance may apply only to the raw mineral value and not the finished product. This would cut off a present 50-million Treasury loss.

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Richard E. Loomis was in jail today, charged with murdering James Keith Gibbs by sabotaging a plane they bought as partners.

Loomis was charged in the district attorney's complaint yesterday with conspiring with Gibbs to crash the war surplus British Mosquito bomber three years ago and collect $50,000 insurance. The complaint said Loomis rigged the plane so that Gibbs could not parachute to safety.

Union, Court 'Pressure' Returns Pilots To Jobs

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Eastern Air Lines pilots were returning to work today, under pressure from their union and the courts to end a crippling, 10-day-old wildcat strike.

A National Airlines strike set for tonight was averted when the union agreed to resume contract negotiations with management with a federal mediator sitting in.

A wave of sick reports by pilots continued to hamper operations of Pan American World Airways.

Eastern said 35 of its Miami pilots telephoned for flight orders last night. The line said the break "sounds very encouraging."

Eastern's flights out of Miami dwindled from a normal 55 daily to none when pilots struck at midnight June 10 in protest to federal flight check inspectors' sitting in third-pilot seats. Two to seven flights took off from Miami in the past three days. A federal judge ordered all pilots back to work, but Eastern's dispatchers could not reach most of the fliers to give them assignments.

The Air Line Pilots Assn., which said it had not sanctioned the walkoff, ordered pilots back to Eastern cockpits Monday saying "anarchy is not the answer" to the pilots' troubles. A U.S. Appeals Court Judge in New Orleans turned the pilots association down on a request to stay a Miami back-to-work injunction.

Balmy Hawaii Proves Tonic To Weary Ike

HONOLULU (AP)—Balmy weather and a rousing reception proved a refreshing tonic yesterday to President Eisenhower, who arrived here weary after his Far Eastern tour.

More than 100,000 Hawaiians, the men in short-sleeved sports shirts and the women in gay print dresses, welcomed the president as he stepped from his big jet airliner.

LEI FOR IKE

Eisenhower grinned as Mrs. William F. Quinn, wife of Hawaii's governor, placed a lei of bright red carnations around his shoulders.

Eisenhower was admittedly exhausted when he arrived from Korea in this new 50th state. Nevertheless, he lost little time in turning to his favorite outdoor recreation.

The president took a brief nap and then played nine holes of golf on a sunny, breeze-cooled course at the edge of the blue Pacific.

REFRESHING CHANGE

The temperature was in the mid-80s but there was none of the mugginess he had encountered almost everywhere on his tour of the Philippines, Formosa, Okinawa and Korea.

Today, Eisenhower arranged a morning round of golf over the same course at the Kaneohe Marine Corps Air Station where he plans to relax for perhaps the rest of the week before flying home to Washington.

Eisenhower came back to his own country with fresh memories of tumultous welcomes everywhere he went in the Orient.

ONE BAD TOUCH

There was only one marked touch of anti-Americanism in the countries he has visited. That came in Okinawa, under U. S. administrative control since World War II, where about 1,500 student demonstrators yelled, "Yankee go home," and demanded that the islands be returned to Japan.

That happened Sunday, the day the president originally had been scheduled to arrive in Tokyo for a three-day visit. The Japan stop was canceled when the Japanese government decided its police could not protect Eisenhower from left-wing rioters.

Druids Greet Sun As Ingemar Slumbers

By EDDY GILMORE

STONEHENGE, England (AP) — Floyd Patterson's knockout victory almost kayoed the Ancient Order of Druids' annual greeting of summer's sun today.

Fifteen white-sheeted members of the cult gathered before dawn amid the prehistoric ruins of Stonehenge for age-old rites welcoming summer's first day. But they kept their ears cocked to the portable radios carried by dozens among the 3,000 Britons who assembled on Salisbury Plain for midsummer eve revelry.

Two minutes before the sun rose, the chief Druid intoned:

"We have come here this morning to the place of eternal light."

From beside him came another Druid's stage whisper:

"What round did Patterson get him in?"

Because of an orgy at the ceremony last year — when a beatnik girl danced barebosomed on the Stonehenge altar stone—the police were out in force.

Twice they held back excited girls in blue jeans who tried to join the druid observance.

The police didn't interfere with the unrestrained drinking or the young couples smooching beneath blankets between the ancient stones. But three or four times they broke up jiving on top of the 60-ton stones.

A policeman made a half-hearted — and fruitless — attempt to waken a slim brunette passed out beside one of the stones. He, too, kept listening to the blow-by-blow broadcast of the Patterson - Johansson fight.

DEATH AND DAMAGE

Midwest Spring Rides Out On Flurry Of Tornadoes

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

One of the worst springs in memory rode a flurry of tornadoes and flash floods into the record books today.

The season, which started with record-breaking March blizzards and April floods, bowed out almost as violently yesterday.

Tornadoes struck portions of Colorado and Nebraska and heavy rain hit the plains states and Florida.

A twister caused $50,000 damage at Peetz, Colo., when it snapped off 60-foot light poles, smashed buildings and blew out windows.

Sidney, Neb., was also struck by a twister which uprooted trees but did little other damage. No injuries were reported at either city.

Thunderstorms drenched the plains with up to five inches of rain, touching off dozens of flash floods in Nebraska. Many persons fled their homes and at least one died.

A Stanton, Neb., farmer, Donald Hendricks, 25, was presumed drowned in a bridge washout. His wrecked car was found in a creekbed and police said warning lights on the washout apparently blew away.

At the Omaha, Neb., suburb of Ralston, an Army helicopter picked up a young housewife whose home was cut off by a flooding creek and flew her to Offutt Air Force Base hospital where she gave birth to a son a half hour after landing.

The rain looked like the beginning of spring in the plains states, with dozens of highways blocked by water and swollen creeks and rivers pouring into stores and houses.

Fire Ruins $800 Of Fertilizer

A pile of horse manure worth $800 flared up from spontaneous combustion at the Circle V Ranch near Fairfax Saturday and had to be put out with a bulldozer, county firemen reported.

The blaze started about 11:25 a.m. A county bulldozer was used to spread the manure so the fire could be watered down and extinguished.

The Circle V is owned by Edward Smith who estimated the manure to be potentially worth $800 as fertilizer.

Officer's Slayer Back At Prison

James Kendrick, 29, San Quentin Prison escapee and convicted slayer of a California Highway Patrolman, has been returned to San Quentin after being sentenced to death in San Bernardino County last week.

Kendrick was convicted June 1 of murdering officer Richard Duvall on Feb. 26 when the patrolman stopped him on the Barstow freeway for speeding. He was captured three days later in a gunfight with police at a San Luis Obispo motel.

Kendrick escaped from San Quentin Dec. 7, supposedly by hiding in a laundry truck.

Bike-Car Crash Injures Boy, 8

An 8-year-old boy was injured Saturday afternoon when his bicycle collided with a car at Calletta Avenue and Butterfield Road in San Anselmo.

The boy, Philip Bundschu, son of Mr. and Mrs. Philip S. Bundschu of 421 the Alameda, suffered a cut head and a bruised ankle. The driver of the car, Dr. Alexander Simon of San Francisco, told police he was in the intersection when the boy crossed Butterfield Road from Callette Avenue after failing to stop at the stop sign. He said the boy hit the side of his car.

Town Seeking Way To Stop Fence Damage

Thirteen years of running battle with Corte Madera Town officials paid off last night in some action for Theodora Morris and her brother, Frederick Morris — they hope.

Miss Morris, with the vocal aid of Frederick, has maintained through the years that a town street is encroaching on her property at 30 Summit Drive. She and her brother maintain, their fence takes a terrible beating from passing cars on the narrow street.

Appearing before the council for the second time within a month, the Morrises said their prime concern was public safety — plus the fact they were tired of rebuilding the fence.

The council promised to visit the Morris home in a body Thursday at 8 p.m. to look at the situation. The possibility of a barrier to fend off the onslaught of vehicles might be the answer suggested.

"We have been after this for 13 years," Morris said. "We don't know how to thank you."

MERGER MOVE LEFT UP TO CORTE MADERA

Bowing to the cold logic of the recent census, the City of Larkspur last night admitted that the Town of Corte Madera was the "big brother" of the two — adding that any move toward merger of the twin cities was now up to the larger town.

The admission was contained in a letter from the City of Larkspur which was read at last night's Corte Madera Town Council meeting.

The Corte Madera councilmen decided to wait until after the forthcoming budget sessions before going into the controversial matter again.

The census gave Larkspur a mere 5,642. Big brother Corte Madera came up with 5,945.

Councilmen Postpone Decision On Osteopath

Lacking legal advice, Corte Madera town councilmen last night ducked a decision on whether an osteopath may "incidentally" conduct her practice in her Madera Gardens home.

Dr. Gertrude Casey, who recently purchased a home at 22 Mohawk Avenue, where she plans to conduct what she termed a limited practice, found last night that her new neighbors — at least, 111 of them who signed a petition — do not want her.

Interference with television reception by the doctor's diathermy machines appeared to be the neighbors' biggest objection. But councilmen said they must base their decision on whether the business is "incidental" to the use of the building as a residence, according to the letter of the law.

An occupancy permit was issued Dr. Casey and her husband, Dr. Vernon Casey, who maintains a practice in San Francisco, by William McBride, Corte Madera zoning administrator. According to McBride's interpretation of the zoning ordinance, a sufficiently small area of the home is devoted to the practice to place it in the incidental category.

Appearing for the doctors was San Francisco attorney Frank B. Peebles. He termed ridiculous the contention that television was impaired, saying the Federal Communications Commission issues wavelengths for all such machines to prevent interference.

Neighbors also objected to recent remodeling of the exterior of the house, claiming it gave the appearance of a doctor's office. The alterations, according to Dr. Casey and his landscape architect, Robert Walsh, were a definite improvement.

Supporting the doctors was Margaret Walker, real estate salesman who sold the home. If the doctors' neighbors would be patient, she said, Dr. Casey's gardening prowess would make her home the envy of the neighborhood.

"If you open the door for this one doctor, Lord knows what will follow," warned one of the objectors.

Decision was put over to July 18, pending a legal decision by Town Atty. John B. Ehlen, who was absent last night because of what was termed a slight injury.

Lack Of Signs Costly, Inn Manager Says

The long-smouldering truce between the Town of Corte Madera and the Edgewater Inn erupted in a new skirmish last night as James Stockman, proprietor of the motel, informed the council he would "soon be broke" unless he could erect off-site signs along Highway 101 to attract some passing trade.

The councilmen dumped the small war in the laps of the planning commission.

Stockman, offering to allow councilmen to look at his books as proof he was operating at a loss, urged amendments to the sign ordinance which would allow off-site signs as well as increase the sign area now permitted.

The councilmen gave the matter to the planners.

Sleep Cuts Short Girl's Carney Dream

A 13-year-old Novato girl, who wanted to join the carnival which was in town during the weekend, was found fast asleep inside one of the carnival trucks yesterday.

Deputy Sheriff Robert DiGrazia plucked the girl out of the truck and sent her home. The trucks were just about to pull out of town.

Parents of the girl said she was in about about 11 o'clock the night before. When they got up yesterday morning, the girl was gone. They called the sheriff.

Workmen tearing down the Golden Gate Show, in preparation for moving out, reported they saw a girl on the grounds about 3 a.m. DiGrazia searched the trucks and found the girl about 7 a.m.

Planners Ask Company To Prepare New Plot Plan For 'Home On Stilts'

Decision on Belvedere Properties Co.'s proposal for "homes on stilts" along the waterfront was postponed again last night by the Belvedere Planning Commission.

At its June 6 meeting, the city council rejected the proposal for "homes on stilts" and asked the commission to consider a resolution that each lot be filled in but "in no case should any one lot contain less than 6,000 square feet of fill."

Instead, the commission, on recommendation of chairman George P. Goddard, requested Belvedere Properties Co. to prepare a new plot plan of the development, to be presented at a special meeting of the commission next Monday and at the next city council meeting.

Goddard contended the city should have a graphic presentation of how the development will look.

Commissioner Joseph Marshall felt further study was needed to determine why the council voted against the original design of the development. He said the commission, in approving the original plan, had accepted the report of engineers and the fire department. He said safety standards had been met.

Commissioner Kenneth A. Frost quoted Fire Chief L. T. Mersereau as feeling that an additional water main in the subdivision and the availability of salt water would aid firefighting on the island itself.

Frost further felt the matter "has been tossed back and forth too long. It has become ridiculous."

He proposed a round-table discussion with the council and the developer.

H. H. Horne, president of Belvedere Property Owners Assn., suggested the commission re-study the engineering report prepared by Morton W. Lieberman. Horne warned of "the wind problem at the north point." He also objected to lack of play area for children.

The commission recommended that the city engineer review the engineering program with respect to the fill proposal.

The commission voted to support the Belvedere Recreation Commission's request that certain walkways be maintained by the city. Presenting the request was E. Allan Steinau Jr.

The commission also recommended that Frank O. Colvan, 147 Beach Road, be granted a revokable permit to install a funicular lift from the street to his home.

A public hearing was set for the next regular meeting on the request of the lagoon property owners, represented by Edward Brash, that a variance be granted to permit small boat docking and storage of lagoon maintenance equipment on one lot.

The outgoing board will give a progress report. Officers and board to be installed are: president, Caroline D. Rose; first vice president, Lothar Salin; second vice president, Louis Milani; third vice president, Rose S. Paul; treasurer, Ben Badaracco and secretary, Virgil Hollis.

Council Orders New Stop Sign

East-west traffic on West End Avenue in San Rafael will have to stop at the Marquard Avenue intersection hereafter.

City fathers last night ordered stop signs erected at that corner on the recommendation of the traffic committee.

Commercial Place from Cijos to Lootens will be one-way westbound. No parking will be allowed at any time on the south side of Second Street from Lincoln Avenue to E Street.

In 1944 more than one and a quarter billion dollars was legally bet at American horse race tracks.

County Planners Approve Private Club At Black Point

Despite strongly expressed doubts of some residents, the proposal for a half-million-dollar private recreation club off Grandview Avenue in the Black Point area was approved for a use permit by the Marin County Planning Cimmission yesterday.

Several neighbors raised questions concerning the already scant water supply of the area, possibilities of traffic congestion, noise and fire hazard. But the Black Point Improvement Club had voted approval of the proposal by Robert Campbell, Novato real estate agent, provided he obtains his own water supply from wells and springs, and with several other stipulations.

Campbell appeared to explain plans for small boat harbor without launching ramps, swimming pool, tennis courts, club house and picnic areas, and to give assurance of desire to operate quietly.

Franklin Miller, a neighbor, stressed that Grandview Avenue is used by pedestrians and that operation of a club may develop dangerous traffic conditions. Any further drains on water supply of the locality would be detrimental in the extreme, he insisted. His wife, one of several other speakers, declared herself "100 per cent against."

Making Campbell's development of a private water supply among conditions to be imposed, Neils Schultz Jr. finally moved for a use permit and the board approved unanimously.

The commission also:

1. Approved a tentative map of the Barn House Ranch subdivision, seven one-half acres near Novato east of Wilson Avenue. Annexation to the Novato Sanitary District is proposed.
2. Permitted expansion of the Shoreline Market, Shoreline Highway and Flamingo Road, to accomodate small retail shops.
3. Reset to July 11 a hearing on amendment to the county's excavation ordinance.
4. Approved plans for a new retail store of Graham Lumber Co., on Jacoby Street south of Auburn Street in South San Rafael. It will have 3,000 square feet of floor space and 28 parking spaces.
5. Approved plans for a fire station at Trestle Glen Boulevard and Paradise Drive intersection, Tiburon, finding them "well designed and attractive" but with conditions requiring surfaced four-car parking area and some nearby planting.

Planners Rezone Area At Alto

An area of about 25 acres by Ricardo Drive and near Belvedere Drive, Alto, was reclassified from single-family to planned residential zoning by the Marin County Planning Commission yesterday.

The commission issued a policy statement emphasizing that density of development should be related to building design. Much of the subdivision cannot be directly used for building.

Bryan R. McCarthy, attorney for the developers, said the density will work out at well over 2,500 square feet per unit. A green "buffer zone" is to surround the project.

Nicasio Road Bids To Be Opened Soon

Bids to relocate a four-tenths mile stretch of Nicasio Road, due to be flooded by a future Marin Municipal Water District reservior, will be opened by the State Division of Highways on July 20.

Relocation of Nicasio Road between 7.2 and 7.6 miles northwest of San Geronimo has been estimated to cost $319,800.

Pauling Refuses To Tell A-Ban Scientist Names

WASHINGTON (AP) — Linus Pauling, world famous scientist, refused today to give Senate investigators a list of fellow scientists who helped him campaign against nuclear weapons tests.

Pauling told the Senate Internal Security Subcommittee he believed that despite any promises it might make, the group would use the names for reprisal against those who helped him to gather signatures on a test ban petition to the United Nations.

Without invoking any constitutional privilege, he told the subcommitte, "My conscience will not allow me to protect myself by sacrificing the idealistic young people" who helped him.

"I have decided I am not going to comply with the request of this committe," he said. It is, he said, a matter of "morality, justice and conscience."

The subcommittee, with Sen. Thomas J. Dodd (D-Conn.) presiding, had asked Pauling to name scientists who had helped him to collect signatures, and also to name those he asked to help them.

The subcommittee is investigating whether Communist propaganda efforts figure anywhere in the petition move.

Truck Driver Arrested For Hitting Stepson

A San Rafael father was jailed last night on suspicion of beating his stepson on the shins with a metal sweeper handle.

William Seraphine Jacinth, 31, truck driver of 527 Mission Avenue, was booked about 10 o'clock last night. He was being held in jail today for arraignment in municipal court.

Police Sgt. Lincoln Borba identified the victim as Gary William Motcher, 16. He had large welts on his shins. The boy's mother, Barbara Jean Jacinth, complained.

Jacinth admitted using the handle, but said he did it to discipline the boys for staying out all night and for hitting two smaller children and making them cry. He said he did not strike the boy with much force.

The boy is small for his age, police reported.

Three Injured As Car Goes Wrong Way

A Petaluma driver, returning north through Marin County, created a lot of consternation by getting on the wrong side of Highway 101 yesterday afternoon.

John Francis Cherico, 68 retired, drove across the divider strip on the Richardson Bay Bridge. David Lee Whitlock, 33, tile helper from San Francisco, southbound, braked hard to avoid a headon collision. Whitlock's car was struck in the rear by an auto driven by Andrew Berwick, 62, San Francisco contractor. The impact threw Berwick's car across the divider into the northbound lane, where it crashed into a car driven by Nick Dollente, 52-year-old laborer from Middletown, Lake County.

Only injuries suffered were by three members of Dollente's family in his car: Pelagia Dollente, 49, and two boys, Leopoldo Dollente, 13, and Alfonso Dollente, 7. All three were taken to Letterman Army Hospital in San Francisco and treated for cuts and bruises.

Cherico's car which had created all this confusion was unscathed. But Cherico landed in Marin County Jail, charged with felony drunken driving.

Japanese Newsmen Decline Comment On Tokyo Rioting

Six Japanese newspapermen visiting Hamilton Air Force Base yesterday declined to express opinions, individually or as a group, on recent riots in Tokyo.

Mrs. Hatsue Edwards was called in at the last moment to interpret for the group, after the visiting reporters declined to answer questions without an interpreter. She is the Japanese wife of S/Sgt. Herbert Edwards, stationed at Hamilton.

But when Mrs. Edwards asked "what shall I tell the reporter?" In Japanese she evidently was told to say that "the answer would take too long to explain."

Air Force public relations personnel cut off the interview before the "other kind of questions" requested by the newsmen could be asked.

The six are with a group of nine newsmen with five Japanese destroyers which have visited Portland, Ore, and Los Angeles. The remaining reporters stayed with the ships.

No Action Comes From Sausalito Parking Parley

A committee of the Sausalito City Council discussed the feasibility of forming a parking district last night but took no action.

Councilman Howard Sievers, chairman, said the meeting was merely exploratory, although all four members agreed the district was feasible. A second meeting will be held on either July 11 or 18, Sievers said.

There will be a regular meeting of the Sausalito City Council at 8 p.m. today at the city hall.

Child Molester Sought By Police

Sheriff's deputies today sought a child molester who forced a 7-year-old Novato boy to commit perverted acts, then gave him a dollar bill as "hush money" yesterday noon.

The boy returned home crying, clutching the dollar bill. His mother called the sheriff at 12:30 p.m. The boy told investigators he was playing in a creek bed near his home when he was accosted by a young man.

FIRE, BURGLAR STRIKE HOME IN MILL VALLEY

Trouble comes in twos for B. A. Lundstrom of 200 Elinor Avenue, Mill Valley.

Yesterday, a fire raged over the hill onto his property, nearly reaching his house. The fire, starting in some rubbish in a ravine behind the Mill Valley Municipal Golf Course, destroyed Lundstrom's lawn furniture, burned trees and shrubbery about his place and scorched his greenhouse and fence. Firemen and neighbors with garden hoses saved the house.

That was the second disaster. Earlier yesterday, Lundstrom and Alan Schlachter, who shares the house, discovered someone had stolen a $100 paid of Japanese binoculars, a $50 wrist watch and $21 in cash. Lundstrom told Mill Valley police the front door had been left unlocked.

Mechanic Suspected As Dope Peddler

Henry William (Lefty) Hale, 34, of 633 Fifth Avenue, San Rafael, was booked last night on suspicion of trying to peddle a pound of manicured marijuana for about $75.

Undersheriff Eugene Meyer said Inspectors Carl Sears and Richard Argento, on routine patrol, spotted two cars parked near the Greenbrae intersection and caught Hale in the act of trying to sell the marijuana to another man.

Hale, free on $1,050 bail, is scheduled to appear in Marin Municipal Court tomorrow afternoon. He is a mechanic.

Tentative 1960-61 Budget Revealed For Corte Madera

A tentative 1960-61 budget of $316,822 was submitted to the Town of Corte Madera today by Town Manager Arthur H. Brandow.

The town council will take its first look at the budget next Monday at 8 p.m.

Based on the present town tax rate of $1.25 per $100 of assessed valuation, the budget enticipates a revenue of $300,267, none of which will be available until after July 1. Estimated as cash on hand at that time was $50,664, leaving a plus balance of $16,615.

Policeman Who Hit Car Suspended

The off-duty San Francisco policeman, who bulldozed his car into the parked sports car of Principal Webster Smith of San Rafael's Coleman School on June 10, last night was suspended by the San Francisco Police Commission for two weeks.

Smith's smashed car landed in the shrubbery of his next-door neighbor, San Francisco Dist. Atty. Thomas C. Lynch.

Patrolman Thomas J. O'Hara pleaded guilty before the commission to being drunk while off duty. The commission decided against more severe punishment because O'Hara has two meritorious commendations on his record. Earlier the police officer had been fined $263 in municipal court.

Gov. Brown Buttons Up His Delegates

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Gov. Edmund G. Brown today blasted any hopes of presidential candidates with an eye on California's big vote for an early declaration in the Democratic race.

He said in an interview that he will not commit himself nor release the 81 California votes pledged to him until national convention time in Los Angeles.

The governor said he will expect the 162 delegates—each with one-half vote — to vote for him on the first ballot.

He acknowledged there "could be" a switch to one of the actual candidates before the end of that roll call but sized up the possibility as unlikely.

The delegation is committed to Brown as a favorite son. He has said repeatedly he is not a serious candidate himself, either for president or vice president.

In any event, Brown said "there will be no commitment before the next delegation caucus in Los Angeles on the afternoon of July 10." The convention begins the next day.

sell (D-Ga.) of the Senate Armed Services Committee and Chairman J. William Fulbright (D-Ark.) of the Foreign Relations Committee had advised against the trip when the Tokyo disturbances first opened up.

Herter said the recommendations were considered but rejected.

When Johnson demanded to know who made the "incorrect evaluation" about extent of the Japanese riots, Herter said that "from all the information we received . . . it was a collective judgment" but "you can pin it on me if you like."

Herter said that, despite the setback in Japan, the Senate should go ahead and ratify the Japanese treaty.

He said "the damage to our prestige in the Far East has been definitely overdrawn."

The secretary appeared before the subcommittee to urge approval of a $250,600,000 budget for the State Department for the coming year.

Boy Swallows Poison; Stomach Pumped Out

An 18-month-old San Rafael boy had his stomach pumped at San Rafael General Hospital yesterday after he drank DDT insect spray he found in his back yard at 114 Hawthorne Way.

The boy, Brian Coleman, was sent back home in good condition, said hospital officials. His mother, Mrs. John Coleman, said the can of spray had been left on a bench in the yard.

City Worker Immerman Dies At 62

Lester Frank Immerman, 62, an employee of the City of San Rafael and a motion picture theater manager in California for 40 years, died yesterday in a local hospital after a short illness.

Immerman had been a clerk for the city's corporation yard for 18 months. Yesterday morning, while at work, he complained of a pain in his side and was taken home. Shortly after noon he was taken to a hospital, where he died at 1:15 p.m. He had been under doctor's care for several months.

Before Immerman moved to 1364 Grand Avenue in San Rafael with his wife, Amy, he managed theaters throughout the Bay Area for Golden State Theaters, Inc., for 20 years. Before that he was with Fox West Coast Theaters in the Los Angeles area.

Budget Approved Kentfield School

A $624,000 preliminary budget for 1960-61 was approved by the Kentfield School District board last night for forwarding to the county superintendent's office.

Supt. Harold R. DePue reported that it would not be possible to finance an economics course for the eighth grade from district funds. The district will seek a foundation grant for the course.

DePue said that the district has $1,500 in its research budget if the board wants to go ahead at any time with foreign language research. A parent study group some time ago made recommendations for such research.

The superintendent reported that the first addition to Wolfe Grade School is about 80 per cent complete. Completion date is Sept. 5.

The district office will be located temporarily in the fifth grade classroom, and will move into two of the new classrooms when the addition is completed.

Robert Shore, rapid learner consultant to the district, told the board the rapid learner program, in effect for two years in fourth through eighth grades, had upgraded the level of instruction, produced more interest by teachers in curriculum development, and benefited "gifted children."

The board also:

1. Accepted the resignation of Nancy Butcher, second grade teacher at Kent School.
2. Authorized advertising for school bus service for a three-year period.
3. Decided to combine an organizational and regular meeting July 18.

Ben-Gurion, Frondizi To Air Eichmann Case

BRUSSELS, Belgium (UPI) — Israeli Premier David Ben-Gurion said today he would meet Argentine President Arturo Frondizi before the end of this week to discuss the Eichmann case.

Ben-Gurion, who is on an official visit to Belgium, told a news conference the meeting would take place either in Brussels or at The Hague.

Ben-Gurion leaves for The Hague tomorrow and Frondizi is due in Belgium on Friday.

Ben-Gurion indicated that Israel would not in any circumstance release Adolf Eichmann, former Nazi leader charged with the murder of six million Jews during World War II.

Eichmann was tracked down by Israeli agents in Argentina and taken back to Israel last month. Argentina maintains he was kidnaped in violation of its national sovereignty. Israel said he was discovered by Israeli "volunteers" and returned to Israel "voluntarily" to stand trial.

Argentina demanded his return, but Israel refused. Argentina then put the issue before the United Nations Security Council.

The Security Council is due to consider the issue in New York tomorrow.

The Act of Congress which established the Smithsonian Institution was signed by President James K. Polk on Aug. 10, 1846.

Dog Vaccination Clinic Tomorrow

A rabies vaccination clinic for dogs will be held from 7 to 9 p.m. tomorrow at Hall School in Larkspur by the Marin County Health Department.

Last night, 204 dogs received shots at Fairfax Central School. Last year, only 89 dogs were vaccinated in Fairfax, a smaller number because many had received shots, good for two years, in 1958.

A health department spokesman reminded dog owners that dogs must be on leash when taken to the clinics.

Corte Madera Will Set Up Rules For Naming Streets

Reconsidering a former refusal to name a street after a Corte Madera resident, the Corte Madera town council last night voted to "set up ground rules" for bestowing streets names.

The request from the Meadowsweet Improvement Assn. to name a short street after Mrs. Charlotte Conow was turned down by the council two weeks ago. Councilmen did not want to become involved in deciding who was worthy of such an honor, they said.

Last night's decision came on the suggestion of Councilman William R. Hansen, after a motion by Councilman Roger F. Morse to deny the application for the second time was defeated. Morse's motion, he said, was made merely to clarify the similar motion he made in denying the request the last time.

The matter was placed in the hands of the public works committee of the council, with the suggestion that streets might, after all, be named afer citizens providing there were no objections from neighbors.

WAR ON DUMPING

San Rafael Seeking Anti-Littering Law

The San Rafael City Council last night decided to take a series of steps to cut down on indiscriminate trash and garbage dumping that is littering the roadways of the city.

City councilmen asked the city attorney to draw up an ordinance that would allow industrial dumping by permit. Landowners would be required to fence their land, provide gate and locks, put up a performance bond, and submit plans showing how the natural drainage of water would be preserved.

The biggest problem is the San Quentin road approach to San Rafael.

At the suggestion of Councilman Louis H. Baar, the city attorney will study an ordinance to require the occupants of every living structure in San Rafael to subscribe to garbage collection. City Atty. Albert E. Bagshaw said he thinks it is possible to make garbage service mandatory if the city issues a franchise to garbage collectors. Although the city charter prohibits the issuing of an exclusive franchise, Bagshaw said it is possible to issue franchises to Marin Sanitary Service and any others who want to compete.

Councilman Baar pointed out that mandatory garbage service would help curb the dumping of garbage on roadsides.

In other actions, the city council last night:

1. Set for 8 p.m., July 6, public hearing on the rezoning of a lot at Greenbrae Avenue near West End Avenue, R. D. Lang wants to rezone the lot from single family dwelling to restricted commercial so that a nursery can be established there. The planning commission denied the rezoning. Lang is appealing to the city council.
2. Set July 6 as public hearing date for rezoning of Palm Avenue from Jewell Street to Magnolia Avenue. Property owners want to increase the minimum lot size to 10,000 square feet.
3. Set July 6 as public hearing date for rezoning of Medway Road in East San Rafael from heavy commercial and industrial to general commercial.
4. Authorized the city attorney to file an injunction action in Marin Superior Court against Chester Sipkin of 27 Eucalyptus Court. Public Works Director Norris Rawles reported that Sipkin keeps plugging a storm drain above Highland Avenue, thus diverting water away from his property. The storm drain was installed in 1938, long before Sipkin's property was developed, says Rawles.
5. Confirmed the rezoning of a lot on Ridge Avenue near Belle Avenue for Margaret Hedden. The vote was 3-to-2 in favor of rezoning from single family residential to duplex. Neighbors asked Councilman Baar's "yes" vote to be withdrawn since the real estate firm for which he works handled the sale of the lot. However, the city attorney ruled that since Baar himself made no financial profit from the sale, he was not disqualified from voting.
6. Approved the final maps of Terra Linda Valley 4 and Rafael Racquet Club Estate 1.
7. Hired Dennis Sullivan as recreation supervisor at $496 per month, and Barbara Morehouse as steno-clerk at $311 per month.

New Reed School Will Have Kindergarten Through Sixth

Reed School District's Del Mar School will be for kindergarten through sixth grade, instead of for seventh and eighth grades as previously planned.

This was decided last night by the district's board.

The reason: The district would have to buy an additional one and one-half acres to meet state requirements for a seventh-eighth grade school. Cost of the additional acreage, on which condemnation proceedings had already been started, was estimated at $46,000.

No other site has been selected for a seventh-eighth grade school. Supt. Paul R. Stouffer said the district will continue to hold all seventh and eighth grade classes at Reed School.

The district has an election scheduled Sept. 20 on authorization of an additional $525,000 bond issue to meet building needs of the next three years. Trustee Erwin Farley expressed fear that inclusion of additional site purchase, when the district already owns three school sites, would impair the chance for approval of the bond issue.

A letter from the Marin Estates Home Owners Assn. was read complaining of the condition of district property near Marin Estates. The home owners consider the property an eyesore and a menace to children, the letter said. The property is on the old Brazil Ranch adjacent to Marin Estates above Paradise Drive.

Summer school Principal Jack Usilton reported 353 have registered for the academic course and 325 for art and crafts.

Plans for a new building to house the library and arts and crafts at Reed School were approved. The building will replace one demolished accidentally by a bulldozer. An eighth grade class will occupy the present library.

A resolution of thanks was voted Lloyd O'Connor, who has resigned as administrative assistant to the superintendent to become superintendent of Lincoln Elementary School District near Yuba City.

Mrs. Jane Pokorny was hired as a half-time instrumental music teacher.

Marin City Council Vote Set June 30

Elections to fill five upcoming vacancies on the Marin City Tenants Council will be held June 30.

Nominating petitions for candidates must be placed in the ballot box at the Marin City rental office by 6 p.m., Sunday.

Originally the council had 13 members but it was voted to reduce the number to five. At present, there are six on the council, since members were allowed to remain until their terms ended.

All Marin City residents listed on the official records of the Marin County Housing Authority, who are 18 or older, are eligible to vote, and those who are 21 or older are eligible to run for the council. The terms are for one year.

The election will be at the Community Center Lounge between 10 a.m. and 8 p.m.

County, Developer Map Out Drake Beach Road

Developers of Drake Beach Estates are willing to build to county standards the first mile of road from the county road to the subdivision property, the county board of supervisors was told today. But the roads inside the subdivision will be substandard and will not be dedicated to public use.

Benjamin P. Bonelli, attorney representing the developers, reported that he, Supervisor James Marshall and Public Works Director Marvin W. Brigham had made a trip to the area on the south shore of Point Reyes. Agreement on construction of the first mile of the road to serve the 200 lot subdivision was reached.

However, Bonelli went on, it is illegal for the supervisors to require a developer to dedicate the roads inside his subdivision to public use. They can be held solely for the use of the people of the subdivision, he maintained. County Counsel Leland H. Jordan agreed with him.

"Can the developer build them substandard?" asked Marshall.

"The board of supervisors decides on the standards," Jordan answered. "The board can also require that they be maintained."

Bonelli said he could argue convincingly that it is "economically impossible" to build subdivision roads to county minimum standards "in a recreational area." When questioned as to the type of housing the developer expected there, he "assumes they will be weekend places."

Marshall suggested a district be formed for maintenance of the roads. But Supervisor William D. Fusselman said that a deed restriction about road maintenance "would get the board of supervisors out from under."

Bonelli agreed to work out road problems with Brigham and Marshall and then submit the proposed plan for the board's further consideration.

Tam Trustees Back Mental Health Funds

Tamalpais Union High School District trustees last night urged that the county board of supervisors support the state-financed Short-Doyle Act mental health program.

The board's action followed recommendations of the Marin County Mental Health Advisory Board and the district guidance department.

A tentative budget of $3,719,532 was approved last night by the trustees and will go to the county superintendent of schools for final approval before publication early in July.

Hired as a new language teacher at Sir Francis Drake High School was Paul Schwartzbart, former University of California instructor and teacher at Mary Hardin Baylor College in Belton, Tex.

A contract of $55,221 was awarded Zoellner Construction Co. of Ross for an addition of the Tamalpais High School gymnasium. The addition would house a foyer, coaches' offices and additional locker rooms.

The board accepted with thanks a gift of a set of career monographs from the Ross Valley Kiwanis Club. The books, presented by Loman Wittenberg, will be placed in the district vocational library for the use of students seeking information on careers.

Oct. 11 was reaffirmed by the board as the date for the proposed three-million-dollar bond election for funds to construct a fourth high school and finance additions and alterations on the three present schools.

Fusselman To Plump For Juvenile Fund

Supervisor William D. Fusselman will make a personal appeal to veterans posts in Marin County to approve the board of supervisors' plan for temporary transfer of veterans' memorial funds for a new juvenile hall.

The board proposes borrowing $300,000 from the veterans memorial fund to finance construction of the hall. The money would be repaid in three years through a five-cent addition to the county tax rate during the first two years and a three-cent tax the third year.

MOST AGAINST

County Veterans Service Officer W. P. Duhamel told the board today the only reports he has heard so far from the posts have been against the plan. But, he said, he believes there is more support than has been indicated.

Roy A. Ibach, chairman of the county probation committee, told the board he had just returned from a state meeting of probation and is even more impressed with the necessity of improving Marin's facilities in Lucas Valley. "The hall is now housing about twice the number of youngsters for which it was designed.

Ibach reported California Youth Authority, which has just completed a new facility, has such a backlog the new quarters will not relieve the congestion.

'PROBLEM OURS'

"Marin must look after the problem which is ours," he declared.

He said he had discussed the crowding problem with probation officials from other counties with the idea that perhaps some of Marin's youths could be housed elsewhere. He said he wasn't able to find a single probation office that could take any of them except for an extremely limited time.

Fusselman said he would call on the veterans posts and report back to the board in two weeks.

Caterer Job Dumped In Mill Valley

The Mill Valley Parks and Recreation Commission has decided to do away with a hired caterer for the municipal clubhouse, hiring only a custodian.

The matter was brought up again with the resignation of caterer Rudolf Klassen, who will leave July 15 for health reasons.

The commissioners voted unanimously last night to do away with a job. Those wishing a caterer, Mrs. Lee Collor said, will hire their own, and it will be a private matter between the organization and the caterer.

In the past there has been much haranguing among different organizations using the clubhouse as to whether the city should supply catering service.

Dr. P. R. Danford will explore possibilities of hiring a custodian for the clubhouse, Mrs. Collor said.

The commission also:

1. Voted that the peanut leaguer (8-year-old) baseball teams be allowed to use Sycamore Park starting next season. The commission turned down a request that the league be allowed to use a space at Boyle Park between the two diamonds now being used on grounds it was contrary to the master plan and could be a safety hazard.
2. Approved the sale of beer at the adult ball games at Project 17, permit to be renewed for each game.
3. Approved a capital outlay program for 1960-61 for $19,000 to allow for these improvements in order of their priority: Repaid tennis courts, $8,000; repave golf clubhouse, $6,000; provide additional parking at the golf course, $4,000; provide additional play equipment at all parks, $1,000. The capital expenditures last year were $11,100.

Stinson, Bolinas School Merger Hearing Slated

The County Committee on School District Organization will hold a public hearing on a proposal to form a union district of Stinson Beach and Bolinas School Districts at 8 p.m., June 30, in Bolinas School.

The proposal was adopted last night by the augmented committee of the county committee for study of the West Marin area.

The augmented committee decided, however, to table further study of possible unionization or unification of districts throughout the West Marin area until the county committee has developed a master plan.

The 1959 legislature set up a requirement for county committees to submit to the State Board of Education by Sept. 15, 1963, a master plan for unified districts in the counties.

The Marin committee is just beginning its background study for development of the master plan, E. L. Blackmore, county school department administrative assistant, said.

Dr. Virgil S. Hollis, county superintendent, presented a budget for hypothetical unified school district (including both elementary and high schools) to the augmented committee to show how it would compare with separate district budgets.

Blackmore said the Stinson Beach and Bolinas boards had agreed on the benefits of a union district after a two-year experience with operating on an inter-district attendance agreement.

About 35 persons attended last night's meeting, representing Bolinas, Marshall, Tomales Union, Tomales Joint Union High and West Marin Union Districts in Marin, and Potter and Watson districts in Sonoma.

City Approves $33,000 Bid For Pumper

San Rafael last night bought a new fire truck for $33,216.56, to be stationed at the new Joseph Sauer Firehouse across Highway 101 from Terra Linda.

Van Pelt Inc. of Oakdale, lowest of three bidders, will provide the fire truck, a 1,250-gallon pumper. Other bidders were Crown Body and Coach Corp. of Los Angeles and American La France Corp. of Elmira, N. Y.

City fathers called for bids on two pumps and pipes to take storm waters from the Third and High Street area into the canal. Cost is estimated at $75,000. Bids will be opened on July 6 at 8 p.m.

Novato Contract Meet Tomorrow

Marin County's supervisors, in session today, also will meet tomorrow.

They are scheduled to meet at 10 a.m. with the Novato City Council to discuss a contract for the county to furnish certain services to the new city.

At 2:30 p.m., the board will convene again to discuss the charging of fees at the county's boat ramp on Tomales Bay.

School Budget Session Slated

A tentative budget for 1960-61 will be discussed tonight by Larkspur School District trustees at a postponed meeting at 7:30 o'clock in the district office in the Larkspur-Corte Madera School.

Also on the agenda will be a report on a fourth school, with preliminary plans for the proposed school presented to the board by the architects, John Lyon Reid and Associates.

Marin Marines Start Training

The 149 men of Kentfield's 14th Rifle Company, Marine Corps Reserve, waded ashore yesterday at Camp Pendleton to begin two-week summer maneuvers.

The reservists, in full combat gear, went ashore in medium landing craft after transferring from troop and tank transport Monticello. They shared the Monticello with 126 men and six amphibious tractors of San Francisco's Second Armored Amphibian Company.

This week and next the Marin units will undergo intensive training in infantry tactics and weapons firing. Obstacle courses, conditioning hikes and lectures will complete the schedule.

Club Group Scans County's Budget

No recommendations on the 1960-61 county budget were made last night by the Marin Federation of Improvement Clubs, holding its first budget-scanning session.

The federation will hold a second session at its July 11 meeting, after having heard what budget-cutting proposals are made next Monday by County Auditor Leon A. de Lisle, said Gilbert Darroch of Strawberry, chairman of the federation. Ten persons attended last night's meeting.

Driver, Reason For Ticket Not As Given

The Independent-Journal incorrectly reported Saturday that Thomas J. Mondrogon of 383 Shoreline Highway was cited by San Anselmo police for driving with a suspended driver's license.

Correctly it was Theodore Joel Mondrogon, 18, of the same address, and he was given a ticket only for driving a car that had no front license plate. The car was owned by a friend of Mondrogon.

Hub Budget Meet Planned Tonight

San Anselmo city councilmen will begin discussion tonight of a 1960-61 budget, with their meeting scheduled for 8 o'clock in the city hall.

The budget proposed by City Administrator Douglas Flautt calls for a $613,000 outlay, with a tax rate of $1.33 at 35 per cent assessment, the same as for the current year.

San Rafael To Enforce Law Against Overgrown Hedges

Fences or hedges that are too high or too near the city streets and sidewalk areas must be cut back, San Rafael city fathers decided last night.

City Manager Dan E. Andersen reported he has been getting many complaints on high fences and hedges that obstruct view and creat blind corners. In some cases, pedestrians are forced to walk in the street because fences and hedges are in the sidewalk area.

City fathers agreed that as long as the fence and hedge ordinance is in the books, it should be enforced. And now is as good a time as any because school children are on vacation, and blind corners can be traffic hazards.

Mayor John F. McInnis instructed the city manager to enforce the ordinance which provides:

No fence, hedge or similar screen planting will exceed six feet in height in any rear or side yard. No fence or hedge will exceed three feet within any required front yard or within 15 feet of the street corner on any corner lot, any exceptions to these rules must be by use permit.

Lagoon Waters 'Safe,' Health Officer Says

Waters of the Belvedere lagoon are "bacteriologically safe" to swim in, Dr. Carolyn B. Albrecht, Marin County health officer, reported today.

Twelve samples of water from the lagoon were tested by the health department, partly as a result of illness of a Belvedere child which was first diagnosed as a suspected paratyphoid case.

Dr. Albrecht said most of the samples were satisfactory. Only in one was the bacteria count up a little, and this might have been the result of ducks or seagulls contaminating the water, she reported.

A letter reporting the test results will be sent to Robert Davies, president of the Belvedere Property Owners Assn., Dr. Albrecht said.

The pollution scare developed after the 3-year-old son of architect Felix M. Warburg of 61 Peninsula Road, Belvedere, became ill. Dr. Albrecht said the disease was never confirmed as paratyphoid. The health department conducted tests on the child at his physician's request. The boy has recovered from his illness.

In 1820, all but one of the 232 electors of the Electoral College voted for James Monroe.

PUC Staff Off On Flight Of Impractical Economics

We often become concerned over the peculiar pronouncements that gush from the throats of some of our governmental spokesmen. One such recently issued from a member of the staff of the California Public Utilities Commission.

In making recommendations regarding two Southern California gas companies, neither of which operates in Northern California, he proposed that the gas companies eliminate from their budgets a million dollars worth of advertising and at the same time trim 1½ million dollars from other sales expenses.

This staff member declared that advertising and sales expenses are a waste to industry. What he said, in effect, is that competition is a waste.

We have news for this theoretical young "expert." Competition is what has made America great. Competition is what has reduced the cost of both essentials and luxuries. Only when there is active, effective competition, does the customer get a break. Only when there is stiff competition, is there any strong incentive to do the job better or cheaper than the other fellow.

And only through advertising can a firm explain to the buying public that it has the better product.

Does a public utility selling gas have competition? You just ask an electric stove salesman or a man who sells oil furnaces.

But in addition, if the 2½ million dollars could be saved, wouldn't the companies be able to reduce their rates by that much?

Don't you believe it. Even if the cuts could be made without affecting the dollar volume of the businesses, which is not possible, less than half the total saving could be returned to the gas users. That two and a half million then would be taxable revenue. Uncle Sam would get at least 52 per cent of it.

No, this is another of those common flights of fancy by the unrealistic, those who don't seem to understand the American economic system. We sure that the PUC itself will not follow the meandering recommendations of its staff member.

Aviation Guide Plan For Bridge?

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

My first "Letter to the Editor." I hope you will publish it, for many other people I have talked to privately feel as I do.

Let us gravely reconsider the present plan to erect a series of some dozen traffic control arches on our Golden Gate Bridge.

These proposed new appendages, with funds already allotted for their erection, offend the overall simple elegance of the bridge and would destroy, for Marin commuters particularly, the daily drama of crossing and returning via this exhilarating world landmark.

Such a plan, if carried through, would mutilate the design of this wonderful bridge which is, as it stands now, a tribute to engineering skill and imagination.

As an alternative plan, therefore, why not install an advanced new system of directing high speed traffic which has been developed by the aviation industry where the maximum in visibility, visual guidance, and safety is imperative?

This system has been tested and proven highly successful right here at our San Francisco International Airport. It is based on a concurrent, widely-spaced series of illuminated disks countersunk in the runway. Each disk has a small riser with a window facing both fore and aft to transmit white guide lights.

This basic unit could be modified for use in automobile traffic as well. A set of red and green lights could face drivers approaching each way, visible both in daylight and at night.

Great versatility is possible. The lights could be controlled by automatic switches; but they could also be operated manually, or optionally, from the bridge toll plaza so that, in event of any accident, they could be used to forewarn and even divert drivers.

During fog or rain they would act as effective roadway beacons and prove a further safety factor in traffic control. (The proposed arches might well be shrouded in fog which often washes across at roadbed level.)

The disks are very rugged and withstand traffic impact, including heavy aircraft and also snowplows in arctic regions. Water evaporates off of them.

Several types of these "buttons" or "pancake" lights have already been developed —some more reasonable in cost than others, and all proving satisfactory.

At an American Society of Civil Engineers Airport Section meeting at San Francisco International Airport, which I attended the end of May, I discovered this basic unit had been developed over the last two years under a development contract with the University of California, spearheaded by Professor Finch.

Early this year, prompted by a sketch of the disfiguring arches, I became engaged in patenting a similar light. Now I regret not broadcasting this idea earlier to the powers that be. Surely then someone would have recognized that such a guide light is feasible, is manufactured, is used on airport runways and could be modified for traffic control on the bridge.

I imagine both Parcel Engineering Company of San Francisco and Bala and Strandgaard of San Rafael, surveying for the bridge directors, may also have visualized this better plan in theory, but possibly no one clued them about Professor Finch, whose light was hidden under a bushel (or, more precisely, a "button"!)

In summation: I hope the judgment of the bridge directors, coupled with public opinion, will bring this arch plan to a halt in light of this alternative traffic control system which is more logical, with a greater variety of safety uses, more economical and more aesthetic.

I hope this letter will trigger an awakening in the Bay Area to save the beauty of the world's only Golden Gate Bridge before it is too late.

May I hear from you who are concerned what you intend to do about it?

Why Senior Proms Are Held In S.F.

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

At the beginning of the school year there was considerable controversy about the location of Marin County high school's senior proms.

Most of the schools held theirs in the city despite the objections of parents who complained that there was no reason not to hold them in the county. Many parents felt that the students had no right in complaining; however, there is one definite reason for this, and it is that the service is so poor in the county that it is worth it to pay the extra money to go to the city and be treated like adults.

I would like to give a few examples of the service Drake received. We had our Senior Ball at a well-known restaurant in Marin, thinking that we would receive proper service. Instead, we were given one very good run around.

When the arrangements for the dance were made, we had the understanding that we could use the swimming pool if we desired. This privilege was cancelled a few weeks before the dance. This was the only change of plans of which we were informed before the dance. However, many changes came while the dance was being held.

The outdoor rights which permitted us to go out and sit around the pool were refused at the beginning of the dance; and at the same time we were told to be out by 1:30 a. m. instead of 2 a. m. as previously arranged. No explanation was given as to why these things were planned if they were not to be permitted.

The climax came when it had been agreed that the school would supply sheet cakes as refreshments and the management would sell coffee for 15 cents a cup. They were to serve the cake. Shortly before the dance the Senior Class was informed that it would cost 50 dollars to serve our cake and and sell their coffee. We could not afford this because we did not have enough time to raise the money. Instead the manager agreed to let us serve the cakes without coffee, but at 12:30, the time we were to serve, the manager came up and informed me that we couldn't. The only explanation he gave was that it was too late. Why did he agree to it in the first place then?

This left us with 35 dollars worth of cakes and three hundred hungry students.

By this time it was obvious we weren't getting anywhere so we stopped arguing, packed the cakes up, and finally disposed of them because the icing had spoiled.

It seems to me that if the students are willing to stay in the county, facilities should be as good as those elsewhere. If adults received the same treatment as we did, perhaps they wouldn't be so dubious when high schools wish to hold their senior proms in the city.

There's A House Of Happiness In Novato; Swift Family's Moved In

You've heard the old wheeze about "you can tell about the parents by the way the children behave."

If it's so, Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Swift have a sense of humor. Vivaciousness, good manners and a knack for raising kids. They have five of their own and four foster children at the moment.

THE FAMILY moved to Novato about two weeks ago from San Francisco where Mrs. Swift had been named mother of the year by the city's Catholic Youth Organization only a couple months ago. Swift is a credit manager with Bear Garages in San Francisco.

The house at 2052 Shady Lane has four bedrooms and three bathrooms to cope with Swift youngsters Maryann, 18; twins Michelle and Sharon, 17; Donna, 15; Linda, 12; and foster children Janice, 7; Desiree, 4; Randy, 3; Teddy 18 months. (You can't tell the players without a score card).

YOU WALK into the house to be surrounded by smiles and long legs sticking out of swimming suits, pedal pushers and shorts. You are surrounded by giggles and cracks.

The opinion on Novato is divided: "I like it; it's like real country," from Maryann. A negative shake of the head from another quarter.

The girls seemed to agree that the crop of teen-age boys around town looks pretty promising. "My sisters are having a blast," adds Maryann. She is looking for a little older material. She wants 12 children.

THINGS WERE running smoothly, even with the absence of Mr. and Mrs. Swift. Maryann had control. "I do the bossing when mother's gone and I don't like it but—." Janice looked up confidentially and added, "She screams real loud."

There was a race to get Randy, Desiree and Teddy.

I said, "Ho," to Randy.

He stared at me, standing there in a dark tan and diapers. Somebody asked him if he didn't want to say, "Hi." "Wait 'til I scratch myself," he said.

TEDDY SAT on Linda's lap and grinned.

The housework is divided up in shifts, which change from month to month. The family of foster children changes about every three years.

Linda sweeps and sets the table; Donna dries dishes, Michelle and Sharon wash and iron, Janice washes dishes and makes beds with Desiree. Randy "yells." Teddy "screams."

I got up to leave and Janice opened the door for me. She and Desiree waved as I drove away.

I didn't meet Mr. and Mrs. Swift. But I think they have something else I didn't mention. There is much love in that house.

THREE MINUTES A DAY

A MODEST HERO

No one knew the name of the man who rescued a 10-month-old baby from a burning building in North Hollywood, Calif. In the excitement, he left without identifying himself.

When the modest man got home, he casually told his wife and children about the incident. Next day when newspapers hailed the unknown hero, his 11-year-old son, a newsboy, decided to call the paper with this information.

"I see you want to know the man who saved that baby. Well he's my Dad!" He then gave the name of his father, Lee Ritchie, 39, a store manager and father of three.

You can be quite sure that your motives are nobly high if you are willing to be considerably inconvenienced in serving others and to be forgotten yourself. God sees what you do and that counts more than any amount of personal recognition.

Remember Christ's words:

'When thou givest alms, do not let thy left hand know what they right hand is doing, so that thy alms may be given in secret, and thy Father, Who sees in secret, will reward thee."

(Matthew 6:3-4)

Teach me the wisdom, O Holy Spirit, of seeking the good of others even though I am forgetting myself.

If Medical Payments Are Socialistic, Founding Fathers Weren't Worried

WASHINGTON—Why does the President feel so strongly opposed to the principle of compulsory insurance for medical care to supplement the insurance, which already exists, for old age?

What is wrong about its being compulsory that a man should insure himself against the needs of his old age?

What is so wonderful about a voluntary system under which a man who doesn't save for his old age has to have his doctors and his hospital bills paid for by his children or public welfare funds?

There is nothing un-American in the principle that the imprudent shall be compelled to save so that they do not become a burden to their families and the local charities, so that they can meet the needs of their old age with the self-respect which comes from being entitled to the benefits because they have paid the cost out of their own earnings.

THE PRESIDENT has been led to think, he says, that compulsory insurance is "a very definite step in socialized medicine." Why? In a system of compulsory insurance the Department of Health, Education, and Welfare, which would administer the program, could and should use as its agents private organizations like the National Blue Cross Association in negotiating with hospitals and nursing homes and in dealing with claims and complaints. The system would be financed as insurance. But it would be worked not by a new government agency but by the kind of private voluntary association which the President otherwise believes in.

IN THIS CONNECTION it is interesting to remember that in the early 1930's when voluntary insurance plans were inaugurated, our old friend, the American Medical Association, was declaring that they were communism and socialism and socialized medicine.

Today, the American Medical Association is pointing to these same voluntary insurance plans as the solution of our present needs and the proper alternative to compulsory old age medical care insurance.

Among the opponents of medical insurance there seems to be a vague and uncomfortable feeling that it is a new-fangled theory, alien to the American way of life and imported, presumably, from Soviet Russia.

The Founding Fathers were not subject to such theoretical hobgoblins. In 1798 Congress set up the first medical insurance scheme under the United States Marine Hospital Service. The scheme was financed by deducting from seamen's wages contributions to pay for their hospital expenses.

If that was "socialized medicine," the generation of the Founding Fathers was blandly unaware of it.

Speedster Campbell Out To Bring Land Record Back Into The Clan

NEW YORK (AP) — Why should a wealthy businessman with a pretty wife — and a great joy in living — want to risk his life trying to drive a car more than 400 miles an hour?

"You can't logically explain why you feel something has to be done, and you are the one who must do it — at least I can't," said Donald Campbell.

"This is something you either feel, or you don't feel."

He idolized his father, the late Sir Malcolm Campbell, and watched as his father in his last race against time in 1935 roared across the Bonneville Salt Flats in Utah at 301 miles an hour.

"That was the ninth time he broke the land record," recalled Donald. "No other man broke it more than three times."

Donald, now 39, was only 14 when he thrilled to his father's feat.

"Little did I think I'd be back 25 years later trying for a record myself," he said.

Donald, no stranger to speed, has broken the water speed record six times and holds the present record of 260.35 miles an hour.

It was five and a half years ago that he decided to bring the land speed record back into the Campbell clan. His target is the 396.196 mph mark set at Bonneville in 1947 by the late John Cobb.

The elder Campbell died in bed at 63. Cobb, his rival, died in 1952 in a speedboat accident.

DONALD'S RIDE to glory or defeat at Bonneville this September will be made in 30-foot gas-turbine car, called Bluebird, the same name borne by a long string of Campbell speed cars and boats since 1911.

It is a four-million-dollar venture.

Campbell is bringing more than 80 tires and 35 tons of engineering equipment and spare parts. The car is designed to go 500 mph but anything over 400 mph will set a mark.

Donald, a slender, dark-haired, friendly man with the handshake of a blacksmith, is mildly annoyed at people who class speed record attempts with ordinary car racing.

"AUTO RACING is colorful and romantic," he observed. "But record breaking is an adventure into the unknown. It is a cold-blooded lonely game. There is a carefully planned schedule of tests to follow. It calls for great accuracy and hellish mental discipline."

Campbell brushes aside the danger.

"I never take an unnecessary risk—to do so is foolhardy," he said.

REMEMBER WHEN?

10 YEARS AGO

Fred H. Chesnut, consulting engineer representing Marin County bus riders, told the California Public Utilities Commission that Pacific Greyhound Lines has been making money on its Marin traffic rather than losing it as claimed.

20 YEARS AGO

Mill Valley's 2,886 registered voters turned out to the number of 2,164 to approve a $190,000 bond issue to buy municipal bus equipment. The vote was the largest in the history of the city. But Greyhound Lines had an application to put service into Mill Valley if the trains quit.

There's nothing routine about motion picture production in Egypt these days. During the shooting of a romantic interlude at a Cairo studio, reports Variety, the hero was called upon to slap the heroine on the cheek. "Make it more realistic," ordered the director, whereupon the hero clouted the heroine so hard that he broke her jaw and left her lying unconscious on the set.

When the director surveyed the damage done to his heroine—in private life as well as public, it would appear — he socked the hero with a chair and fractured his skull.

The name of the film they were making, incidentally, is "Sweet and Tender."

New Tract Worries Garden Enthusiasts

Concern was expressed before the Marin County Planning Commission yesterday over the welfare of "one of the most remarkable wildflower gardens in the world" which will be neighbor to a new Tiburon Peninsula subdivision.

The garden in question surrounds old St. Hilary's Church, to be adjoined by crescent-shaped Crescent Heights. Enclosed to some extent, also will be the Southern Marin Recreation Center, with a possible drainage problem resulting.

Mrs. Robert Bastian, 19 Peninsula Road, Belvedere, appeared at the first hearing on a master plan for the subdivision to speak up for flowers around the church, now owned by the Belvedere-Tiburon Landmark Society of which she is president.

"Some of the flowers there can be found nowhere else in the world," she said, reading a letter to herself from John Thomas Howell, curator of the botany department of the California Academy of Sciences in San Francisco.

This letter lauded the beauty of the "bontanical treasures that cluster around the chapel" and pleaded for their preservation with the church, saying their extermination would be "irreparable loss."

Robert P. Tobin, for the architectural firm of Hetzka and Knowles, intimated that subdivision plans should not unduly interfere with the immediate vicinity of the chapel.

Mrs. Bastian said money could be raised to buy more land if it were made available.

The chapel stands almost on a spring which feeds a marshy strip where rare plants flourish, with other rarities on open dry rocky grassland nearby. Plants include a lacy star-lily, a golden-flowered sunflower and what Howell called "one of the very loveliest species" named only "Brodiaea pedunculatis."

Mrs. Thomas Stanton of the planning committee for the Southern Marin Recreation Center expressed worry over possible drainage problems to be created by the subdivision which encloses the center's upper eight acres. She was told that the development plans to continue natural drainage channels.

Power and phone lines will be underground, Tobin said, displaying a model of the area with intended construction which caused Commissioner Margaret Azevedo to express herself as "very impressed."

Another hearing must precede final action.

Planners Reject Dining Room Plan—It's A Foot Too Wide

It takes a heap o' living to make a house a home, sang the poet.

In the opinion of some Marinwood residents, it also takes a dining room.

Edward P. Lindell of 274 Emerystone Terrace, Marinwood, found himself unexpectedly the center of what the Marin County Planning Commission regarded yesterday as a test case, because he has found through years of residence what many others may have found too.

Homes sold with a counter as "feature," replacing dining space, now have young children and a need for elbow room.

But to provide a dining room, the owners are likely to encroach on the six-foot side yard requirement. So with Lindell. He asked a dining room nine-by-10 feet and was unhappy with a staff suggestion that he content himself with nine-by-nine, requiring no adjustment.

"An extra foot means an awful lot," he said plaintively.

Supporting his position was a recommendation from a committee of the Marinwood Assn. But opposing it was a petition with 10 signers.

Dr. William Upton, chairman, supported the staff view that Lindell's needs did not meet the three legal requirements for a variance and said, "If we approved, we would do it just to suit you personally, and we can't do that."

"Everybody in Marinwood who bought that kind of house five years ago wouldn't do it now," Lindell retorted.

"If that is the case," said Dr. Upton, " a substantial number of property owners might get together and all want five-foot side yards. A public hearing could be set up toward getting all the side yards in Marinwood changed.

"But just to grant to one individual would be opening a can of worms."

Sure enough—after the commission had unanimously voted denial of an adjustment which would have allowed the extra foot, the next agenda item was a request from Mr. and Mrs. Robert A. Miller of 217 Cobblestone Drive, Marinwood, asking an extra foot and a half, likewise to make a dining nook.

The Millers got a similar denial on the same ground.

Novato Developer Reports Horse Gone

Novato developer John L. Novak has lost his tan and white Tennessee walking horse, he reported to the sheriff yesterday.

He got up yesterday to his horse gone from his home in Monte Maria. Sheriff's deputies called the Marin County Humane Society to be on the lookout for a stray horse.

Novato Fire Board To Fix Budget

Novato Fire District commissioners will meet tomorrow for a final decision on a proposed $169,950 budget which would raise the district tax rate to 69 cents per $100 assessed valuation.

Last year's budget totaled $136,180, with a 65-cent rate. Principal reasons for the hike are $10,000 set aside for a part payment on an alarm system and $11,000 for part payment of a new truck. Total truck cost is $17,893, for a 1,300-gallon tanker which has been ordered.

The alarm system proposed would place 19 call boxes in the Novato business area and near schools. Total cost would depend on the type of boxes ordered.

District Commissioners have said that if the 69-cent rate is not high enough to cover expenditures, some items will be removed from the budget.

Fire Chief George J. Cavallero said the boxes and truck will help in getting a lower district fire insurance rating.

The budget meeting will begin at 8 p.m. at the main fire station on Grant Avenue.

Ex-Champ Regains Crown To Make Ring History

NEW YORK (AP)—Floyd Patterson showed he had a lightning left hook to match Ingemar Johansson's thunderbolt right and today held the coveted heavyweight championship for a record second time.

The solemn-faced, 25-year-old New Yorker became the first former heavyweight champion ever to regain the title when he knocked out the handsome, hard-hitting Swede with a leaping left hook in 1:51 of the fifth round at the ancient Polo Grounds last night.

"I think it was the hardest blow I ever hit anyone," said the elated Patterson. "For the first time I feel I'm a real champion.

For the downcast Johansson, it was his first defeat in a pro career of 23 fights.

He had soared to the championship heights last June 26 by demolishing Patterson on a seven-knockdown, third-round technical knockout. Now he found it hard to talk.

In regaining the most lucrative prize in sports, the young, broad-shouldered Negro succeeded where eight other ring greats, including Jack Dempsey and Joe Louis, had failed.

At 21, Patterson went into the record books as the youngest heavyweight champion by flattening ancient Archie Moore with a devastating left hook in the fifth round at Chicago, Nov. 30, 1956.

Never again had he demonstrated the power of that jolting hook until last night. First he felled the 194¾-pound champion early in the fifth round for a nine-count. Then he did it again with a leaping left that had all of his 190 pounds behind it.

The strong Swede hit the canvas flat on his back. He was out cold. Referee Artie Mercante could have counted 500.

It could have been different if the powerful Viking had been able to follow up his best punch of the night in the second round. He nailed Floyd high on the head with the old "toonder and lightning" right. This was almost the same punch that started Floyd on the way out a year ago.

Patterson was stunned but he was able to retreat. Ingo went after his foe cautiously, poking with his left repeatedly. He didn't get in the followup right. By the end of the round Patterson had regained his full senses.

That, it turned out, was Ingo's last chance. It was the only round he got from the officials.

Patterson fought differently this time. Instead of looking for a chance to unlimber his fast combinations, he upset Johansson's pattern by using the Swede's own piercing weapon—the classic left jab.

Floyd lanced repeatedly and effectively with the jab.

In the fifth round he sent Johansson to the ropes. The first leaping left hook thudded against Ingo's jaw and dropped him. The champ got up on one knee and took the count of nine. Patterson tore after him with a vengeance, battering him with both hands. Then came the crushing final left hook and boxing history was made.

In money it could mean millions.

For this second fight alone, Patterson's purse may amount to $763,000. Ingo will be consoled by a purse of close to $636,000.

Ingo Seemed Hypnotized, Says Expert

NEW YORK (AP)—A leading expert on hypnosis said today Ingemar Johansson "could very possibly have been in a hypnotic state" during last night's heavyweight title bout with Floyd Patterson.

"Johansson's reactions seemed subnormal throughout. He appeared dazed in the ring and later when I saw him in the dressing rooms," said Dr. Ralph Slater, president of the International Academy of Hypnotism. Dr. Slater was at ringside at the invitation of Patterson's manager, Cus D'Amato.

HE STUMBLED

"As Johansson came into the ring I noticed that he stumbled slightly," continued Dr. Slater. "Then he smiled almost all the way through the fight. Sometimes a person in a hypnotic state acts this way, like someone who's drunk. Certainly, the smiling was peculiar considering the seriousness of his task.

"Also, for one in Johansson's excellent condition, he was on the canvas for an unusually long time after being knocked out in the fifth round. This could have been the result of a post hypnotic suggestion."

There have been rumors Ingo was hypnotized by his personal physician, Dr. Gusta Carlsson, before knocking out Patterson in their first match last June.

'MILD FORM'

"The form of hypnosis Johansson received last night could have been very mild," said Dr. Slater. "Maybe they underestimated Patterson this time. In their first fight, Johansson may have been put in a somnambulistic very deep state and this could have had a violent reaction and made him a tiger in the ring.

"Hypnotism can do several things to a fighter. It can give him more confidence, make him immune to pain and speed his senses considerably. It can work the other way too if given in a milder form."

AS TITLE CHANGED HANDS—Two doctors enter the ring to minister to the unconscious Ingemar Johansson at left while happy handlers lift victor Floyd Patterson at right. Patterson Promises He'll Be Busy Champ

NEW YORK (AP)—"I definitely will give Johansson a return fight. I'd like to fight him in 90 days. I will be a fighting champion this time. I will fight early and often."

So spoke Floyd Patterson following his spectacular fifth-round knockout of Ingemar Johansson last night, a victory that made him the first man in boxing history to regain the heavyweight championship of the world.

This was a new Patterson, far different from the mumbling young man of a year ago who, after his stunning defeat at the hands of the Swedish challenger, let his manager, Cus D'Amato, do all the talking.

Last night Floyd was doing his own talking.

"For the first time since I won the title in 1956," Patterson said, "I feel I'm a real champion. I think the public finally will accept me. At least, I hope so."

The spectacular victory seemed to have done more to the 25-year-old Patterson than give him back his title. Throughout the hour-long session with newsmen in the steaming, crowded quarters, Floyd gave the appearance of being a much more mature, confident and decisive person.

"It was worth losing the title for this," he said happily. "This is easily the most gratifying moment of my life.

"I'm the champ again. A real champ this time. Do you know what that means?"

The only person who might have really known was sitting, still stunned, still groggy, and still unbelieving, not 50 feet away, in the loser's dressing room.

"I was careless," mumbled Johansson. "I was overconfident. Something like Patterson was in our first fight."

The good-looking Swede looked like a beaten fighter. His face showed the pounding he had taken for five rounds. It took nearly 10 minutes to revive him.

As he left the dressing room, with his mother, sister, fiancee and manager, he was asked when he thought he would be ready for a rematch with Patterson.

Ingemar stared blankly for a moment, then smiling sadly, said slowly: "I'm going to think it over."

Giants Open Road Trek In Milwaukee

MILWAUKEE (AP)—The San Francisco Giants came to the home of the Braves today for a twi-night twin bill that opens a 17-game road trip.

If either club sweeps tonight's doubleheader, the winner will have clear possession of second place in the National League.

CLOSE CALL

At Tacoma, the Giants needed two ninth inning runs last night to squeeze out an 8-7 victory over their Pacific Coast League farm club.

The big Giants, tied 6-6 going into the ninth, picked up two runs on a homer by Andre Rodgers, a single by Dave Philley and a triple by Joe Amalfitano.

The little Giants pushed one run over and had the tying run on base in the bottom of the ninth but Bud Byerly finally shut the door and saved the exhibition win.

Rodgers and Willie Kirkland led the San Francisco attack. They each got a homer and a single in two trips to the plate.

TONIGHT'S HURLERS

McCormick (8-3) will opposed tonight by Milwaukee's Juan Pizarro (4-2). Sanford (6-4) will face rookie George Brunet (0-0).

Sheehan hopes third baseman Jim Davenport will be ready to return to full duty before this trip is over. Davenport suffered an ulcer attack when the Giants were here last month.

Although Davenport has been used occasionally as a pinch-hitter in the last two weeks, his regular spot has been held down by Amalfitano and Rodgers.

CEPEDA ON FIRST

Sheehan indicated he would stay with Orlando Cepeda at first base. In the last three home games with Philadelphia the 1958 rookie of the year moved back to first from left field and performed with finesse.

The move was made by Bill Rigney before his dismissal as Giant manager. With power hitter Willie McCovey benched from the first base post, Rigney had Felipe Alou playing in Cepeda's place in left field.

THE FINAL BLOW—This is the Floyd Patterson left to the chin of Ingemar Johansson that sent the latter to the canvas in the fifth round of last night's championship fight in New York's Polo Grounds. It was Johansson's second knockdown, and this time it took handlers and doctors nearly 10 minutes to revive him. Patterson described this blow as the hardest he had ever struck. (AP Wirephoto)

Aaron's Bat Powers Braves Into Second Place In National League

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Hank Aaron broke loose, Joey Jay finally won one and the Milwaukee Braves are up in second place in the National League race for the first time since the first week of the season.

Aaron, batting a chilly .279 with only one home run in the last 17 games, hammered two homers and drove in three runs while Jay, pitched 6⅔ innings of four-hit, shutout relief for a 4-1 victory over Los Angeles last night.

It was Jay's first success since last September, and his first over the Dodgers in two years.

With no other games scheduled in the National loop, the Braves pushed within four games of first place Pittsburgh and jumped past San Francisco into second by seven percentage points. The Giants open a four-game series at Milwaukee with a twi-night doubleheader tonight.

In the only American League game scheduled, Kansas City defeated Boston, 9-6.

Aaron, last year's bat champ with a .355 average, upped his current mark to .284 and triggered a winning, two-run second inning with a leadoff homer off Don Drysdale. Aaron walked in the third inning, hit his 15th home run of the year leading off the sixth and then drove in another while ground into a force play against reliever Ed Palmquist in the seventh.

Drysdale (4-9) now has lost five in a row and eight of his last nine decisions.

Jay, whose only other decision was a losing relief job against Pittsburgh two months ago, struck out three and walked one. He came on in the third after starter Bob Buhl, the Dodger killer, gave up four walks.

The seventh place A's beat the last place Red Sox with a tie-breaking, three-run seventh capped by Harry Chiti's home run with a man on. Hank Bauer's double and a single by Norm Siebern cracked the 5-5 tie and handed Tom Borland (0-2) the defeat. Marty Kutyna (2-2) won it in relief for the A's, who also had a home run from Andy Carey.

Like Enraged Tiger, Patterson Unleashed His Fury On Swede

By OSCAR FRALEY

NEW YORK (UPI) — It was a mad, violent thing which had been a year in the making.

Floyd Patterson was a tiger who hadn't been fed for a month; a savage to whom the only law was to tear and rend; a man insane with the built-in hatreds of his own doubts, fears and passions.

And when it was over, a broken, beaten man named Ingemar Johansson lay flat on his back on the blood-stained canvas at the Polo Grounds in an insensible heap.

You could doubt, until the referee was halfway through his count at 1:51 of the fifth round last night, that the scrowling man who had just regained the heavyweight championship of the world was human.

There was no sign on his face when he climbed through the ropes before a crowd which hungered for his destruction, sure that once again he was to be annihilated as he had been a year ago. He nodded, slowly, grimly, as they announced him and then sat there, staring at the floor.

A whole year of misery was behind his eyes and a whole year of fury was in his clenched fists.

Minutes later the world around him disappeared in the red haze of his primitive emotions and his only thought was to batter into prostrate helplessness the man tottering in front of him.

There will be only a few times when you will see a man ridden by such maniacal passion without policemen stepping in with clubs to stop him from commiting such mayhem. But the one man in the ring with them never had a chance to intervene if he had wanted to do so.

It was blinding fast, with the dazzling abruptness of lightning and the pulsebeat of thunder. It started to build up within Patterson with the first knockdown. Until then he had been fighting cautiously, a man carrying out the dictates of other minds.

But then, with the fleeting beat of rapid pulse, the change came over him. Now, suddenly, he was on his own. The punches he rained on Johansson were of the sheer, blazing murder emanating from a heart hurt to bursting by the criticisms and aspersion he had taken so silently through a crushing, pitiless year.

The referee couldn't have stopped him then because his flashing fists were tearing down all those built up hatreds, smashing them with the crushing violence which came from within. He looked, even after Johansson was down, as if he wanted to leap on that prone body.

Then, as the referee's arm tolled the count, the light of reason came back into Floyd Patterson's face. The animal was gone.

But while the veneer of civilization was missing, it was a savage, frightening thing that made you think of the bloody days in the Colisseum.

Twin Cities Defeats Mill Valley Ponies

Mike Cooney pitched a five-hitter and fanned 10 as the Twin Cities Boys Club defeated Mill Valley 5-3 in Pony League competition last night.

Jim Purtell tripled home the two deciding runs in the seventh for the victors who lead the loop with a five win, one loss record.

Benefit Bowling A Big Hit; Youth, 15, Fires 666 Series

With a check for $862.50 going to a worthy cause and more than 80 merchandise prizes for the top competitors, the recent benefit bowling tournament for the Marin County Crippled Children and Adult Society today was described as a howling success.

"This year was great," said Manager Dave Rivera of Country Club Bowl in San Rafael, site of the tournament, "but next year we'll do even better," he promised.

Rivera added, "We want to thank all the bowlers who helped make this a success, and a special thanks to the merchants who donated the prizes.

Laurie Migliore and Jeanne Blumenfeld were winners of the top men's and women's prizes. Migliori fired a 613 scratch and with 110 handicap pins came in at 723, just one pin ahead of young Al Charney of San Rafael. Charney fired 642-80—722. Third place went to Carlo Drago with 624-80—704.

Mrs. Blumenfeld fashioned a 567 series and added 106 handicap for a 673. Shirley Campanella was the runnerup with 542-124—666 while Leah McLean hit 511-144—655 for third place honors.

Other winners may collect their prizes anytime at Country Club, Rivers said.

RUSSELL BOATES is only 15 years old, but he's blazing a remarkable scoring trail in the Junior League at Country Club.

Last Friday night the youngster hit a sensational scratch score of 666 for three games, climaxing the evening with a 277 line. He made that by firing nine consecutive strikes, sparing the 10th, and winding up with a strike. His other games were 214 and 175.

On the previous week Boates hit a 590 series with 209-222—159.

FRIDAY NIGHT'S 540 Scratch Trio circuit at Greenbrae Lanes saw Al Charney of Diablo Bowling Supply hit an 836 four-gamer on lines of 233, 191, 229 and 183.

Here are team results and high scorers of that classic league: Marin Bowl Coffee Shop (Don Stevens, 822) d. Marin Wheel Alignment (Bill Rhodes, 771) by 3-1; Diablo Bowling (Charney, 836) tied Team 1 (Dick Treadway, 822); Casey's Floor Service (Spence Ward, 782) d. Oscar's (Holmes Christian, 798) by 3-1; Filippo Co. (Jack Parsons, 747) tied Oak Room (Zeno R. Gelatti, 725); Team 6 (Colin Rose, 776) tied Team 10 (Ted Benson, 705).

JEAN TAYLOR, a 159 average bowler, rolled a 611 series (188, 211—212) Friday morning at Greenbrae.

The FISHIN' FOOL

By RALPH STEVENS,
I-J Fish and Game Writer

STEVENS

Howdy, folks! What's a poor scribe to do when one angler calls up and tells him the wind drove all the boats and their occupants back to the harbor, sans fish?

That's what happened when we heard a report from Joe Nervani of Joe's Boat Launching on Santa Venetia Slough. Joe added that that happened both Saturday and Sunday. A few fishermen managed to get a few—very few, only five — on Saturday, but none on Sunday.

Then the scribe gets another report from an authentic source who swears the water is not too rough at all; in fact it hadn't interefered with fishing at all. That was Hank Dowrelio of Dowrelio's Harbor at Crockett. He reported Skipper John Sivera netting seven fish to seven pounds on bait during the day, and 23 to 10 pounds for the late afternoon trolling. Also, Captain George Jones of the Kay Bil brought in six bass to eight pounds and the Trade Winds had eight to eight pounds bait fishing first at the Black Buoy off Port Costa and later near Buoy 10 in the upper San Pablo.

WHAT TO do? Simply to believe both our contact men. The wind has an annoying habit of blowing hard and soft depending upon what sector of the Bay Area you happen to dunk your bait or trail your lures.

For example: The vast stretch of bay reached easily from Joe's Boat Launching was too windy for small boats, yet on the same side of the bay, in the Racoon Strait, five bass trollers were back in Tony Caruso's Sausalito harbor with beautiful limits of beautiful stripers. Tony informed us that the fish averaged between eight and 10 pounds and ran to a top of 20 pounds. We should mention that the quintet, consisting of Henry Schram, Francie and Jean Rodriquez, Rocky Bawuens and Bill Puccielli, was back in the harbor by 10 o'clock Sunday morning.

By the way, here are some belated congratulations to John Ozawa for the Schenley salmon he landed from the Luck Lady, with Skipper Otto Ronniger netting it. Said prize fish weighing in at 40 pounds, four ounces.

SORRY WE can't report that salmon fishing is still hot, but the sad fact is that the Rocky Point area (where the 40 pounder was taken a few days ago) cooled off to near freezing. Both Saturday and Sunday were poor days. Some of the boats from around the Lightship did connect (one boat came in with 15 salmon), but the overall picture was gloomy.

A group of nine hopefuls from the East Bay fished faithfully all day Saturday and the score was only four fish for the effort. Bill Meyers managed to win all pools with his 17-pounder.

GETTING BACK to the conflicting reports of bass fishing: There is no question but what there are plenty of stripers in the bay. If you can get to a sector where there isn't a high wind your chances are really good of making the grade. Frequently one side of the bay will be bad and the other side quite the opposite. So why not shift your field of operations in accord with the shift in the wind. Allah be praised, we have spoken.

SOME FAIR abalone and some good clam tides are due over the coming weekend.

That's all for the nonce; see you anon!

Film Pros Olivier, Bergman, Stack Win TV's Top Emmys

Harry Belafonte First Negro To Get Video Award

THEY GOT 'EM — Actress Jane Wyatt, the mother in "Father Knows Best," and actor Robert Stack, crime buster of "The Untouchables," hold the Emmys they won for best performances on television. (AP Wirephoto)

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—A trio of old movie pros—Sir Laurence Olivier, Ingrid Bergman and Robert Stack—in their first try at television walked off with the top TV Emmy awards last night.

Harry Belafonte became the first Negro ever to win an Emmy.

Jackie Gleason's former second banana, Art Carney, won an award for the best comedy show.

Olivier, generally rated the greatest English-speaking actor, won his Emmy for his portrayal of a character in "The Moon and Sixpence."

Both Olivier and Miss Bergman a two-time Oscar winner, were in Europe. The Swedish actress won her first TV award for the chilling "Turn of the Screw."

Stack, who plays the gang-busting Elliott Ness in "The Untouchables," won his Emmy as the best actor in a series. The award for the best actress in a series went to Jane Wyatt, the wife and mother of the Anderson family in "Father Knows Best."

Belafonte won for the best performance in a variety or musical program. He accepted his Emmy from Fred Astaire, who also was nominated for the award.

Carney, competing with such top bananas as Danny Thomas, Jack Benny and Red Skelton, won his award for the "Art Carney Special Show—VIP."

The show, staged and telecast from both Hollywood and New York, gave other Emmys to:

Playhouse 90 for the best drama show.

CBS' "Fabulous Fifties," best variety program.

The Huntley-Brinkley Report, best news program.

CBS' "20th Century," best public affairs program.

Writer Rod Serling for his series "Twilight Zone," best written drama.

Jack Benny's four writers, best comedy writing.

"Huckleberry Hound," a cartoon series, the first syndicated show ever to win an Emmy, for the most outstanding children's program.

Rates For Gas Held Lowest Among U.S.

LOS ANGELES (AP) — California natural gas consumers are paying rates that are among the lowest for any major area in the nation, a spokesman for a major supplier today told a special governor's conference.

Paul Kayser, chairman of the board of the El Paso Natural Gas Co., said in a paper prepared for the conference:

"The economy of natural gas service to Californians reflects the efficiency of operations of California's gas distribution companies, the pipe line that brings this gas into the state and of course the unremitting efforts of the Federal Power Commission and your state regulatory agency."

Kayser said California's "insatiable" demands for natural gas has required a 400 per cent increase in the last 10 years. These demands, he added, have made it necessary to compete vigorously for gas in the producing field and to meet rising field prices resulting from competition for available supplies.

California's size, growth and consumer need for gas demand that the state be connected to all major sources of natural gas within economic reach, Kayser said.

Eighteen major corporations operate research laboratories in or near Baltimore.

FIVE CITIES IN MARIN WIN PEDESTRIAN SAFETY AWARDS

Five cities in Marin County have received "excellence of pedestrian protection" awards from the American Automobile Assn. for their achievement of no pedestrian deaths in 1959.

The cities are Mill Valley, Sausalito, San Anselmo, San Rafael and Fairfax.

More than 1,700 cities competed in the annual nationwide pedestrian program appraisal, which is sponsored in northern and central California by the California State Automobile Assn.

Mill Valley has now achieved the record of nine years without a single pedestrian fatality. Sausalito has gone five years without a fatality; San Anselmo, four; San Rafael and Fairfax, two years.

Pedestrian fatalities dropped to an all-time low last year, reported the CSAA. When the AAA pedestrian program was launched in 1937, a total of 15,500 pedestrians were killed in traffic accidents, as compared with 7,750 in 1959.

Permit Granted Again For School At Church

A use permit was granted yesterday for the second time to permit establishment of an elementary school on part of the St. Hilary Church site at 761 Hilary Drive, Tiburon.

With recommendation of the staff of the Marin County Planning Commission, which noted enlargement of the site by 2.32 acres to a total of 6.36 acres since an earler use permit was granted in 1952, the commision unanimously approved.

The earlier permit was for church, school and rectory, but due to a change in zoning as well as site enlargement, another consideration was legally required.

It was found that the project would not be detrimental to the area nor will it interfere with a proposed extension of Hilary Drive.

The plan is to establish a school giving first through eighth grade instruction with maximum enrollment of 400, and a convent for teacher residences in conjunction with an already established church and rectory.

The commission also approved Fred T. Houweling's application for a permit for grading on the site in preparation for the school.

Committee Will Seek Field For Little League

A committee of the San Rafael Little League will meet with city council representative Charles W. Aby to see what can be done to provide a ball field for the young baseball enthusiasts.

This was decided last night after more than an hour of discussion before the San Rafael City Council.

A big delegation of Little League backers, headed by Roland D. Hellman, asked for city help in improving grounds at the high school or Davidson School, or in setting up a ball field on three acres of leased land near the San Rafael sewage treatment plant. Hellman presented a petition carrying about 500 signatures.

Councilman Aby declared that in past years, Little League officials had indicated they want to be completely independent and do not want to be under supervision of the city recreation department. Therefore, the city could not help Little League because that would be a gift of public funds to help a private organization, said Aby.

Hellman, acting chairman of National Little League, and Mark Brown, president of American Little League, said they have no objection to supervision by the city recreation department.

Mayor John F. McInnis pointed out that if the city recreation department uses public funds to set up a ball park, all residents of San Rafael must be allowed to use the facilities, not only Little League.

With that understanding, the mayor asked Hellman to appoint a committee of Little League officials. Councilman Aby said he would be happy to serve as the council's representative to meet with the committee.

Some of the possibilities discussed last night were these:

1. Improving and turfing open area at the San Rafael High School. Hellman said open space is available, but the field is dirt, and too rocky for baseball use.

2. Improving and turfing open area at Davidson School.

3. Purchase or long-term lease of three acres of land near the sewage treatment plant, off San Quentin road. Irving Litchfield, owner of Bermuda Palms, said the Kerner-Bellam Estate, which owns the land, has offered the three acres for lease at $1 per year. He said the lease offer is for 10 years, but it can probably be extended for another 10 years.

Little League backers have already put about $12,000 worth of fill, into this acreage, said Litchfield, but it will take another $10,000 to $15,000 to complete the fill and put in bleachers and turf.

Litchfield strongly urged the city to help set up a ball park there. Outright purchase of the land would come to about $50,000, he estimated.

IGNORES PROGRESS

Gov. Brown Rips Law On Criminally Insane

ATASCADERO (AP)—It's time for society to treat criminals according to 20th century standards, says Gov. Edmund G. Brown.

In fixing responsibility, punishment and treatment of offenders, Brown declared yesterday, "we completely ignore a century and a quarter of scientific progress."

The governor made the comments as he opened a two-day symposium at Atascadero State Hospital on treatment of the criminally insane.

Brown urged the lawyers, psychiatrists and law officers present to work for a new definition of chiminal insanity which makes use of modern psychiatry.

California's test, based on an 18th century English rule, is merely whether the accused knows right from wrong.

Brown called the test "completely inadequate" because it fails to recognize "that mental illness does contribute directly and prozimately to criminal behavior."

He cited the case of Stephen Nash, judged sane under the current test, but who laughed and boasted of killing 11 persons before going to death in San Quention Prison's gas chamber.

Nash, Brown noted, had told authorities that "everyone knows it's wrong to kill, and if you want carcasses, you've got to give your own."

Nash was one of 29 condemned men who have come before Brown for clemency in his 18 months as governor — presenting Brown said, " a picture of gross abnormality."

"It is difficult to understand how we can permit these condemned creatures to be pronounced sufficiently free in will and choice to be responsible, even to their deaths, according to rules and procedures which completely ignore a century and a quarter of scientific progress," Brown added.

"It is painfully clear that most of the crime in our midst is due in whole or part to mental and emotional instability."

While not agreeing that all offenders are sick and the concept of criminal justice should thus be abolished, Brown noted that we must "rid ourselves of superstition and archaic methodology which do not help, but hinder."

Federal Judge David L. Bazelon of Washington, D.C., told the symposium society justifies punishment on the theory it deters crime. But it does no such thing, he asserted.

He called for true rehabilitation centers instead of prisons "where the youthful offender, having been processed through the homosexual auction block, will be taught the ways of crime and perversity by a hardened expert."

Council Rolls Snake Eyes At Gambling

The Novato City Council passed an ordinance against professional gambling at its meeting last night after noting there had been no protests against the proposed law.

Only three spectators attended last night's meeting. Meetings usually are held on Tuesday, but the day was changed for this single meeting.

Councilmen set for July 26 a hearing on a proposed annexation of about 10 acres of land to the city. It would be the first annexation since Novato became a city in January. The 10 acres is near the northwest corner of the city, east of Sutro Avenue and south of Center Road.

In other business, the Novato council:

1. Agreed by resolution to make Elm Street, a boulevard-type street, one-way on each side. Cost will be $165 for seven street signs.
2. Informally agreed that budget discussion would begin at next week's meeting, at 8 p.m., Tuesday, at the city hall.
3. Noted that residents could get dog licenses at the city hall.
4. Approved the county civil defense plan, without reading it, on assurance that it is a standard agreement and could be modified.
5. Received a letter from realty broker Al Bellucci saying that plans for a medical-dental building at Rowland Boulevard and Novato Boulevard had been dropped.
6. Received a letter from Dr. John Siemens, manager of the Novato Hospital now being constructed, saying that he will protest the city planning commission's conditions for street improvement near the hospital.
7. Agreed to visit a trailer court operated by Gus Ravetz. Ravetz recently was turned down by the planning commission on a request for rezoning which would make it possible to build a 120-place court in the city.
8. Approved various traffic ordinances, which generally would formalize existing usage.

Concert Planned At Marin Church

The Ambassador Quartet of Pacific Lutheran College, Tacoma, Wash., will give a concert at 8 p.m. tomorrow, at Marin Lutheran Church of Corte Madera.

The touring group's program will include 12 vocal selections, two string quartet numbers and organ selections. The vocal feature church music classics, arrangements of familiar hymns and Negro spirituals.

The quartet is on tour, giving nightly concerts and speaking to prospective students about the college.

The members will be entertained at the home of Janet Christiansen of Corte Madera and will attend a barbecue supper with high school seniors and college youth of the church.

Driver In Church Robbery Draws Year In County Jail

Robert Alexander Donohue, 20, of San Rafael, who drove the getaway car after his accomplice held up St. Rita's Church during a whist party last month, drew a year in county jail yesterday.

Judge N. Charles Brusatori of Marin Superior Court also put Donohue on three years probation after completion of the jail term. He gets credit for 42 days already spent in jail.

Donohue's accomplice, a 16-year-old from San Rafael, was previously committed to the California Youth Authority. The youngster shoved a sawed-off, loaded rifle against the stomach of a parishioner at the Fairfax church and ran out with the contribution box. It contained only 25 cents. Sheriff's deputies caught the two in Marinwood about a half hour after the holdup.

Judith Ann Smith Bride Of Ensign John David Hixon

MRS. JAMES BATES McINDOE

Rev. Robert C. Clapham officiated for the 4 o'clock double ring ceremony in the First Presbyterian Church in San Anselmo on Sunday for the wedding of Judith Ann Smith of San Anselmo and Ensign John David Hixon of El Cerrito.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Philip Christy Smith of San Anselmo, and the bridegroom, the son of Mrs. Bertha Hixson of El Cerrito.

Escorted to the altar decorated with urns of white delphiniums and pink carnations by her father, the bride wore a gown of white silk organza with pearl embroidered Alencon lace. It had a lace molded Sabrina neckline, and yolk front which formed a decorative panel to the hemline. The long torso waistline folded into a gathered skirt with Dior bow extending into a brush train. Her fingertip veil of illusion was held by a pearl and tulle coronet.

Mrs. Roger LaBare of Oakland as matron of honor, and bridesmaids Carolyn Crook of Castro Valley, Dana Harvey, Glendale, and Cherry Smith, the bride's cousin of Santa Rosa, were gowned in petal pink chiffon. The gowns were fashioned with medieval necklines and lantern sleeves and the bell ballerina skirts were detailed with satin cummerbunds and matching roses. They had pink bouvardia and tulle coronets and carried crescent bouquets of pink roses and bouvardia.

Cynthia Smith, the bride's sister of San Anselmo, as flower girl, wore a frock of lace-trimmed pink organdy. She had a pink bouvardia and tulle coronet and carried a miniature bouquet of pink roses and bouvardia.

Ensign William R. Eddins of San Bernardino was best man. Ushers were Russell Kirk of El Centro; T. Edwin Jimison, Berkeley, and Dorman Smith, the bride's brother of San Anselmo.

Mrs. Smith chose a mauve lace sheath with matching silk organza hat for her daughter's wedding.

The mother of the bridegroom wore a champagne satin frock with matching accessories.

Pink and white were used in arrangements for the reception which followed the ceremony in Duncan Hall of the church. Bronwyn Hughes of Kentfield was in charge of the guest book.

For a wedding trip to Carmel, the bride wore a black and white suit with white straw hat and white accessories.

The bride was graduated from Sir Francis Drake High School and attended the University of California where she was a member of Alpha Gamma Delta Sorority. She is the sister of Dorman, Paul Allan and Cynthia Smith of San Anselmo and the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred H. Seaman of Petaluma and Mrs. Dorman H. Smith of Greenbrae.

The bridegroom was graduated from the University of California and is assigned to nuclear engineering training in the U.S. Navy at the Nuclear Power School at Mare Island. Mrs. Norman Howell of Denison, Tex., is his sister.

The couple will make their home at the Mare Island base for six months.

'Be A Star Spangled Beauty' Theme For Fashion Luncheon

Wish you may, wish you might "Be A Star Spangled Beauty?" Not just for the fourth of July, but all summer long!

Well, it's as easy as lighting a firecracker, says "Fashion Focus," and the popular poolside luncheon at Rickey's will prove it on Tuesday with a host of fashionable firecrackers and a patriotic salute to July 4.

Appropriately, the fashion luncheon under gay umbrellas around the pool will honor the Young Republicans of Marin, an enthusiastic, dedicated group who will become increasingly hard-at-work in this election year.

Summer flag wavers to keep star-spangled girls of all ages welcoming a morning or evening star will be from San Rafael's attractive new women's shop.

Fashions with the biz, bang, boom of a roman candle to light a pool, patio, or party will swoosh patriotic 4th of Julver's through the long weekend and long past Labor Day.

To keep summer hair from looking like the burnt end of a firecracker, a Kentfield coiffure salon will create vacation hair styles for the attractive models, all members of the Young Republicans.

Reservations to enjoy the fashion luncheon in its salute to the Young Republicans and the 4th of July may be made by calling Rickey's. Luncheon is served at 12:30 with the poolside fashions at 1 p.m.

SOMETHING NEW IN APARTMENTS ATOP SAN RAFAEL HILLS

An Olympic sized swimming pool occupies the center of the enclosed yard of tthe Tropicana Apartments, which were opened for occupancy last week by developer Paul Sade at 100 Bayo Vista Way, off East Crescent Drive above the Miracle Mile in San Rafael. Another unusual feature of each of the apartment units is a "moving wall" which can be opened to make an extension of the living room or closed to create a den, guest room or office. The apartments sit atop a hill with views in all directions. There are one, two and three-bedroom units.

With Twins, It Is Important That You Don't Play Favorites

"We expected one baby," a father writes, "but we got twin boys. They're two weeks old. How do you raise twins? Can you help us?"

I'll try. For many twins the big problem is a lack of love. Babies need to feel that they can monopolize their moms. But twins must share, and they know it. They may not get the satisfactions they need.

You and your wife should spend time daily alone with each baby. Cuddle each one, and talk and sing to him. Let him realize he is a very special person. Be careful not to play favorites. You'll build emotional security that way.

Another problem is their feeling toward each other. One twin will be the leader, the other the follower. The leader may be too aggressive. The follower may be too meek. Probably you should separate them part of the time, from the start. Let each one develop his own personality. I know this will be hard to do. Most parents want to keep twins together. Often it is a mistake.

Think a long time before you put them into the same room at school. That may be the best thing to do. They may need each other too much to take separation. But if they can get along in different rooms, they should be allowed to do so. Each boy needs to learn to live independently. Your twins aren't two peas in a pod. They're two separate human beings.

Be sure their mother conserves her strength. Help her all you can. Hire diaper laundry service, if possible. Find a good baby sitter, so she can get away occasionally. She needs your love and support. Good luck!

READERS' FORUM

(Q) "Why are some twins so much alike, and others so different?" S.J.M.

(A) There are two kinds of twins, identical and dissimilar. Identical twins come from the splitting of the germ cells. They are alike as the two gloves in a pair. Dissimilar twins come from different cells. They are no more alike than any brothers or sisters.

One letter simply stands for another. In this sample A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophes, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

State's Food Said Free Of Pest Killers

SACRAMENTO (AP) — California's food supply is free of excessive chemical pest killers, but constant research and enforcement is needed to keep it that way, the state director of agriculture said today.

William E. Warne, in a progress report prepared for the State Board of Agriculture, said food processors are observing high standards of quality and safety.

"Consumers, a group that includes us all, can rely on California food products with confidence," Warne said. "It is more plentiful and better than ever, and it is safe."

Warne blamed "sensational writers featuring irresponsible statements" for publicity about excessive pesticide residues.

But he added: "Notwithstanding this encouraging situation, the need remains for much additional painstaking research, strict enforcement, thoroughgoing inspections, continuing testing and a general alertness with regard to this whole matter."

Warne said no decision has been reached yet on an April hearing of proposals to bring the state's allowable chemical tolerances into conformity with the stricter federal standards.

"But the staff is working on the matter," he said.

He said about 900 lots of fresh fruits and vegetables have been sampled by the State Agriculture Department this year, and 13 showed more than allowable residues of pesticides.

Tests were made of 156 samples of milk and milk products, Warne said. Of those, 91 showed the presence of DDT, and 32 exceeded permissible limits.

"Tests of milk and milk products are made continually, and when violations are found the milk products are impounded," he said.

Inspectors visited 6,441 dairy farms in the state and found 2,954 using sprays containing DDT around food supplies for the animals.

Dairymen were warned to stop feeding the animals any materials contaminated with DDT.

Warne said a warning is usually enough, but four farmers have been prosecuted and fined for clear-cut tolerance violations this year.

Valley Association Allows Delegate Vote Privilege

The San Geronimo Valley Assn. last night authorized its representative on the valley's master plan committee, president Leslie S. Stone, to vote as he sees fit on questions arising before the committee, reported Mrs. Georgette Vilas, secretary.

The alternative would have been to check back with the association before casting a vote as its representative on the master plan committe, she said.

In other business last night, the association voted to send a letter of thanks to Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Roy for use of their barn for a June 11 barn dance; voted to ask Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Co. the results of a survey of phone demand in the San Geronimo Valley, and agreed to vote July 18 on proposed by-law changes.

Study Shows Men Who Smoke More Out-Going

NEW YORK (UPI)—A new statistical check-up on a single phase of human behavior suggests men who smoke cigarets are more out-going, less rigid emotionally, but no more neurotic than men who don't smoke anything.

The best known of the single-phase statistics are those of the late Dr. Alfred Kinsey on sexual behavior. This one was on smoking behavior and carries the scientific prestige of its author, Dr. H. J. Eysenck who has an international reputation in the science of psychology.

He began with his own much-discussed dimensional theory of human personality which he has been formulating for some 20 years. Reduced to its nub, it holds that many behaviorial traits are in-born — influenced, perhaps, but not formed by environmental circumstances.

Among these traits are those of being extraverted (out-going) or introverted (turned inward or the self). Mental rigidity and the emotional instabilities lumped under the word, neurotic, have in-born components, too, according to the plausibly argued theory of Eysenck.

On this theoretic basis, he figured extraverts should smoke cigarets in numbers matching their degrees of extraversion, since extraverts "concentrate on objects in the outside world." He reasoned further the neurotic would smoke more than the non-neurotic because "smoking reduces the strength of an aroused emotion."

As for the mentally rigid, he based himself on "the fact that smoking as indeed all pleasurable activities, tends to be regarded as slightly sinful, and would therefore tend to be shunned by the rigid, puritanically minded type of person."

The next step was to prove or disprove these ideas in people. Toward that end, he and his associates worked out an elaborate questionnaire designed to draw from answerers their degrees of extraversion, introversion, neurotic imbalance, and rigidity of mind.

The answerers were divided among heavy, medium and light cigaret smokers, pipe smokers, and non-smokers. These divisions were sub-divided into age groups (40 to 59 and 60-70), occupations, and social class. In all, some 2,400 men answered. Our interest is in the results.

These hooked up cigaret-smoking with extraversion. With less certainty, they connected non-smoking with emotional rigidity. But they failed to show a link between cigaret smoking and neurotic personalities. However, they showed pipe-smokers were highly introverted, that is, turned inward.

Eysenck said the results demonstrated there are essential inborn personality differences "between smokers and non-smokers, and between cigaret smokers and pipe-smokers." Each is a "kind" of person distinct from any of the others.

His results supported the critics of statistics connecting cigaret smoking with lung cancer, who argue they don't show cigaret smoking causes lung cancer. The statistics could show, they say, that one kind of person is both more given to cigaret smoking and more susceptible to lung cancer than other kinds. However, there presently is no evidence that any personality type is more susceptible to cancer than other types.

Eysenck is a professor at the institute of psychiatry in London where the study was made. The results were published in Britain.

2 Fiberglass Firms Form New Company

Kimball Manufacturing Corp. of San Rafael and Marplex Co. of El Segundo today announced formation of a new corporation for the manufacture and marketing of fiberglass decorative accessories.

The firm, to be known as Artline-Kimball of California, will have headquarters in El Segundo, where the products such as planters, casual serving pieces and trays will be manufactured.

Operations begin July 1, announced William Kimball, president of the Kimball firm, and Erich Marx, president of Marplex.

Both companies will continue to manufacture their own lines of fiberglass products other than decorative accessories. Kimball's primary products include water skis and outdoor billboard trim.

The new firm plans to build new and larger headquarters in Los Angeles, with construction scheduled to begin about July 1.

Planners Postpone Tiburon Master Plan Decisions

Because of a special meeting tomorrow of the Tiburon Coordinating Council to review proposals on amendment of the Tiburon master plan, the Marin County Planning Commission deferred decision on most of the impending changes yesterday and will consider the matter again July 12.

Peter MacGowan, council chairman, wrote to the commission to notify of the projected meeting and ask delay.

Change in location of the Strawberry Recreation Area is among the matters under consideration, as well as revised or alternative traffic circulation in the vicinity of the recreation area and Rolling Hills and Marinero subdivisions.

The commission voted to reconsider the map of Tara Hills subdivision, in Tiburon, allowing construction of 24-foot unpaved roads in view of the difficult nature of the terrain.

Place In Comedy

Pvt. Camillo M. (Benny) Mello, formerly of Woodacre and San Rafael, is representing the Alaska Command in the comedy category of the All-Army Entertainment Contest finals being held at Fort Belvoir, Va. He appeared in productions at San Rafael High School, College of Marin and San Francisco State College before entering the Army in November.

CROWD'S ON HAND FOR PRIZE GIVE-AWAY

There were plenty of people on hand as prizes in a Wilshire Holiday Service Stations contest were announced at the station at 451 Francisco Boulevard in San Rafael. But none of the throng had the number entitling the winner to a free vacation trip to Europe. The winning number has been posted in all seven Wilshire Holiday stations in Marin, announced Bill Vinson, supervisor, and the prize may be claimed by tomorrow night. Other principal winners were Donna Rose of 121 Woodland Avenue, San Anselmo, who got a set of tires, and Bill Weems of 120 Forest Avenue, San Anselmo, who received an electric razor.

West Marin School Board Adopts New Math Program

The West Marin School District board adopted a new mathematics program, including the use of exactly calibrated rods which help primary children acquire a feel of numbers as well as recognition.

The new program will emphasize understanding arithmetic, rather than rote memorization, Supt. George Stratton said.

It will include the use of the Scott-Foresman series of textbooks, "Seeing through Arithmetic," and the Cuisenaire-Gattegno rods, named for their inventor and chief exponent. The rods have been in use on an experimental basis in San Jose, Dixie and Novato School Districts.

"We feel children of today can add and subtract a column of figures without trouble. Knowing how to apply the knowledge is of more importance," Stratton said.

The rods will be used mostly in the first and second grades. The book series will be used initially in the third, sixth and seventh grades, and each year thereafter a new grade will be added.

The board, meeting last Friday, expressed approval of Stratton's report on the achievement texting program this year and asked him to continue his research next year.

The superintendent and Clerk Donald J. McIssac were named a committee to contact the Point Reyes School District about possible annexation of that district to West Marin. The matter has been discussed unofficially.

Stratton was asked to contact several local contractors about the possibility of constructing a temporary wall through the old auditorium to get additional classroom space.

The old auditorium was originally designed as a kindergarten and has been in full time use as a classroom.

The board also:

1. Approved a contract with the county superintendent's office for audio-visual materials and services next year and with the county library for library materials and services.
2. Voted to increase the district's liability limits from $500,000 to $1,000,000 per accident.
3. Hired Donald Odell of Inverness as a school bus-driver-custodian.
4. Approved a notice of completion on the new multi-purpose room and classroom.
5. Decided to meet next on July 5 instead of the July 4 holiday.
